Berrien Springs Girl Bicentennial Queen

By STEVE SAGER
Staff Writer

Miss Corby Yvette Dixon was presented as the Bicentennial queen for Berrien county yesterday at a Berrien County Bicentennial commission luncheon held at the St. Joseph River Yacht club, St. Joseph.

Miss Dixon, 17, was chosen as the Bicentennial queen because she finished higher than any other girl from Berrien county in the Miss Blossomtime contest. Miss Dixon is Miss Berrien Springs for 1976 and first runnerup in the Miss Blossomtime contest.

Miss Blossomtime is Miss Kimberly Smith of Gobles, in Van Buren county.

The Bicentennial commission announced in March before the Miss Blossomtime contest that the Berrien county girl finishing highest automatically would be Bicentennial queen.

Still to be chosen is Berrien's "First Lady" who will be selected on a basis of contributions to her community. Nomination forms are from Bicentennial representatives in various communities, the pageant headquarters in Harbert, or Bicentennial commission office in Benton Harbor.

Miss Dixon's first task as queen will be to preside at the Bicentennial Art festival Sunday at the county courthouse, St. Joseph.

Miss Dixon, in accepting the honor of Bicentennial queen, said she was, "Happy to represent Berrien Springs, Berrien county and America."

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Dixon, attended yesterday's luncheon meeting. Mrs. Dixon said her daughter was born in Benton Harbor and reared in Berrien Springs.

Miss Dixon is a senior at Berrien Springs high school and plans to attend Michigan State university to major in psychology. Her father is a foreman at National Standard Co., Niles.

It was also announced at yesterday's luncheon that all proceeds that the Berrien County Bicentennial Pageant, Inc., has left over after this year's festivities will go to the Berrien County Historical society.

"Fabulous Fruits of Freedom" is the theme for the county's Bicentennial pageant that will be presented July 21-24 at the Berrien Youth fair grounds, Berrien Springs.

President May Stop In Niles

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Republican leaders have tentatively scheduled an old-fashioned, whistle-stop campaign tour across Michigan for President Ford in an attempt to halt what could be an embarrassing upset in the state's May 18th primary. The White House has all but given its approval to the campaign swing, which would begin on an Amtrak train Saturday in Port Huron and roll to the southwest side of the state and Grand Rapids, Ford's hometown.

A spokesman for the President Ford committee in Lansing said this morning that the tentative whistle stop campaign may include brief stops at Niles in Berrien county and Kalamazoo.

John Breen of the committee said that a timetable or stops for the proposed tour have not been established. If approved, a timetable will be announced later in the week, according to the Lansing office.

The campaign schedule calls for the President to attend the annual tulip festival in Holland and spend Saturday night and Sunday morning in Grand Rapids. Ford is expected to attend church services there Sunday morning and return to Washington that afternoon.

Michigan Republican leaders have expressed fears that Ford could lose his home state primary to Ronald Reagan.

"I think we were in serious trouble," Michigan Republican Sen. Robert Griffin said Monday. "But I think it looks a lot better."

"I don't know if I've got a very good feel of it, but I see in the past few days a resurgence of organization and people concerned. They see this as a critical state."

Ford has lost his last four primaries — in Texas, Indiana, Alabama and Georgia — to Reagan. Michigan Republicans are concerned that in the state's May 18 primary, Reagan will attract supporters of Alabama Gov. George Wallace, a Democrat. Wallace, who took 51 per cent of the Michigan vote in 1972, also is scheduled to campaign in Michigan this week.

"That's the best news I've heard," Griffin said about Wallace's campaign visit, indicating he hopes Wallace's campaign will keep his supporters from crossing over to vote for Reagan, who plans his own campaign stop in Michigan on Friday.

Griffin also is hoping Ford can attract some of the state's

Taylor's Hat Is In Ring For New Circuit Judgeship

The first announced candidate for the proposed fourth judgeship in Berrien county's circuit court put in appearance Monday, as the Michigan Senate gave its approval yesterday to the new position.

Fifth District Judge Ronald J. Taylor said he will seek the added seat on the Berrien bench if the legislature creates it.

State Rep. Harry Gast, Jr., R-St. Joseph, said this morning he anticipates the House will act yet this week or next week on the proposal. The Senate yesterday approved new circuit judge seats in 12 counties. Back in March, before Berrien county officials began pushing for an extra judge, the House had passed a bill creating six new judges. Berrien was not included in the House bill then, but Gast said the House now will decide if it will go along with the six additional judgeships contained in the Senate's bill.

Allegan county, meanwhile, seems assured of getting a new district judge for the 57th District court. This position was in the bill adopted earlier by the House and also in the Senate's bill yesterday.

State Rep. Ray Mittan, R-Niles, indicated this morning there might be some debate over creating six more circuit judgeships than the House had approved back in March. But he noted that one of the added positions is in Calhoun county, home of Rep. Paul Rosenbaum, chairman of the House Judiciary committee, which will get the bill passed yesterday by the Senate.

While Taylor made public his intentions of running for the fourth Berrien bench seat, if it's approved, another three names have surfaced as possible candidates, too.

They are Probate Judge Zoe Burkholz, Atty. Donald Dick of Berrien Springs, and Atty. John Spelman of St. Joseph. None of these three have made any public indications of their intentions, however.

Taylor made his intentions known in a letter to members of the Berrien County Bar association seeking support.

Taylor told bar members in his letter: "I feel that my unusually varied and wide experience over the past 14 years as a private lawyer, defender, prosecutor, court management specialist and judge qualifies me highly for your support."

Taylor explained he is not using his position as a sitting judge to make demands of attorneys for support. Taylor said he considers that "wholly improper. I do not solicit your support on that basis, nor will I." Taylor, 39, was elected Fifth District judge in 1974 and has more than four years left on his current term.

Other counties, in addition to Berrien, for which new judgeships were approved by the Senate yesterday are: Genesee, Saginaw, Washtenaw, Calhoun, Lenawee, Ionia-Montcalm, Macomb, Clinton-Gratiot, Midland, Mecosta-Oscoda, and Chippewa.

Palisades Plant Back In Service

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — The Consumers Power Co. Palisades nuclear power plant has returned to service, the utility announced today.

Officials said the plant will be brought up to full power during the next few weeks.

Palisades had been out of service since the end of last year for refueling, testing and maintenance.

Reagan Seen As Warmonger

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — If elected President, Ronald Reagan's Panama Canal policy could lead to "a Vietnam-like jungle war that could go on for years," President Ford's Michigan campaign chairman said Monday. In a caustic two-page statement, Peter B. Fletcher called Reagan "shallow and opportunistic," and said his statements, if spoken by a President, would lead to economic ruin and bring the nation to the brink of international conflict. "Reagan enjoys the luxury of being able to make totally irresponsible statements, knowing full well that he doesn't have to back them up," said Fletcher. Ford and Reagan will battle for delegates in Michigan's May 18 presidential primary.

"What is frightening is the fact that such a candidate might behave in the same manner were he to be elected President," Fletcher said. A Ford loss in Michigan, his supporters say, would be a humiliating setback. Reagan now has 393 delegates to Ford's 309, with 1,130 needed for the Republican nomination.

Cook Plant Has Radioactive Leak

By JIM SHANAHAN
City Editor

BRIDGMAN — Del Shaller, assistant manager at the Cook nuclear plant, confirmed this morning that a small leakage was detected in a drain valve last night. He confirmed this incident after an anonymous worker had called this newspaper to report "some sort of radiation leak."

Shaller said the leak was water with some radioactivity in it, and an auxiliary building was cleared for about two hours while the valve was shut off and "we were assured everything was normal again."

The leakage was in an auxiliary building of Unit 1 which is generating electricity. Shaller said generation continued and no general alarm was sounded.

He described the leakage as "like a drip from a faucet" and caused "only a very small increase in the normal radiation backdrop."

Shaller said construction workers in the immediate area "were asked to leave while our people went in to close the valve." Within two hours the area was reopened.

"We were just being super-

Threat To Udall Leads To Arrest

DETROIT (AP) — A 50-year-old Detroit man was arrested Monday for threatening presidential candidate Morris Udall, federal officials said today.

The man was held in the Oakland County Jail pending a court appearance today for arraignment on a complaint before a federal magistrate.

Officials said the man was arrested at a home in Detroit.

Kelley Rules State Can Sell Ads On Licenses

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Selling space on the reverse sides of Michigan driver's licenses for auto repair shop advertisements would not be unconstitutional under an attorney general's opinion issued today. Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said there is no ban in the state constitution against the selling of advertising. A bill introduced by Sen. Robert Young, R-Saginaw, would permit the sale of advertising space on state publications or other items, as long as a disclaimer made it clear that neither the agency nor the state endorsed the product. The measure could mean advertising not only on driver's licenses, but on fishing and hunting licenses, arrest warrants, court opinions, state agency publications and other items. Revenue from selling the space would go to the state. Space would be awarded only if the director of the agency approved, and under competitive bid. Kelley said it is a valid function for a government agency to inform the public through periodicals or other publications. "When this is done, there is no reason why, incidental to the publication of the document, the state may not also accept commercial advertisements," he said.

BH High Student Gets State Post

Gov. William G. Milliken has appointed Michael A. Ware, 18, a Benton Harbor high school student, to the state Advisory Committee on Juvenile Justice. Ware is one of 24 appointees to the committee which will review and recommend a state plan for use of $948,000 budgeted for juvenile justice and delinquency prevention in fiscal 1976.

Among the members of the state committee are Col. George Halverson, director of Department of State Police, and Dr. John W. Porter, state superintendent of public instruction.

SUPERVISOR BENSON

At 64, Orval Benson Seeks His 'Final' Term

St. Joseph Township Supervisor Orval L. Benson announced Monday he is seeking re-election to a final term in the post he has held more than 16 years.

Benson, who will be 64 on June 28, said:

"This is the last time I intend to run. The township is in good shape. I will have served nearly 17 years (as supervisor) at the end of November, and 19 years, if re-elected. That's long enough."

All other township whose terms expire this year joined Benson in announcing their candidacies for re-election. They are:

Clerk Bill Payne Smith, Treasurer Isadore G. DiMaggio, and Trustees Carl L.G. Reschke and Robert H. DeVries, Sr. The incumbents are all Republicans.

The filing deadline for nominating petitions for the primary election Aug. 3, is 4 p.m. June 1.

Benson summarized his tenure as township supervisor by saying St. Joseph township is the only one in Michigan to have water and sewer facilities on every street, every street paved, street lights, and rubbish pickup. He noted that while other townships have some of these services, none has all of them.

Benson said being township supervisor years ago was part time work that could be handled by visits to the township hall two or three times a week. He said the job now call for full time attention. It pays $13,500 per year.

For 30 years, until 1966, Benson was employed by New Products Co., Benton Harbor. He started as a truck driver and rose to a supervisory post in production. Benson more recently was vice president of Wallace Investments, Inc., South Bend.

Benson and his wife Viola, are the parents of four children, three married and one in college. The Bensons live at 3638

South Cleveland avenue.

Among other incumbent candidates: Smith, clerk since 1971, is seeking his third full term. He is employed employed by Whirlpool Corp. as manager of administration for the retail marketing department. Smith and his wife, Thelma, are the parents of three children, ages 14 to 26. The family residence is 1472 Lasein drive.

Treasurer DiMaggio is employed by the Twin Cities Area Chamber of Commerce as director of career awareness and summer youth employment programs. He and his wife, Marilyn, are the parents of two children, ages two and four. The family resides at 729 Ansley drive.

Trustee Reschke, a bachelor, has served for 14 years and resides at 1808 Hawthorne. He is employed by Whirlpool Corp. in the experimental models shop.

Trustee DeVries has served six years on the board. He is an engineer for Michigan Bell Telephone Co. DeVries and his wife, Lucy-Ann, are the parents of five children, ages 18 to 25. The family resides at 3008 Kevin court.

BH Man Wants Huckaby's Post

Norval Weiss, 878 Pearl street, has announced that he will seek the Benton Harbor city commission seat of Commissioner-at-large Barbara Huckaby if she is recalled in the May 18 election.

Weiss said he is making the announcement now to "inform the people of Benton Harbor that a recall will produce candidates."

He added: "I became in-

involved with the recall committee because of the steamroller tactics of the Clean Slate group."

Weiss, 60, is food service manager at Mercy hospital. He and his wife Josephine have two adult daughters and a son.

Weiss is the third to announce availability in event of recalls. Others are Cornelius Bass Jr., for mayor, and Nathaniel Robinson for Third Ward commissioner.

Five members of the city commission are on the recall ballot next Tuesday — Mayor Joseph, Mrs. Huckaby, Winston Minott, Third Ward commissioner; Charles Shepherd, Second Ward Commissioner; and Alfred Williams, Fourth Ward commissioner.

The recall vote will be on individuals and not as a group. Any vacancy created by a recall would be filled by appointment until a another election is held.

BH Study Would Merge Police, Fire

Benton Harbor city commissioners Monday night heard a report from a management consulting service recommending consolidation of the police and fire departments under a single public safety director.

The report, presented verbally by Mike Casey of McManus Associates, Washington, D.C., also recommended pay raises for the mayor and city commission, and better definition of the roles of the mayor and city manager.

Casey's presentation also noted that "there is a generally acknowledged feeling" that the mayor and commission intend to operate the city government under a "strong mayor" system wherever possible although the city charter specifies a commission-manager form of government.

He said this feeling was reinforced by a compensation commission's recommendation of a $25,000 annual salary for the mayor and by the termination within the last five months of former City Manager Charles Morrison and former City Atty. Yvonne Hughes.

The compensation commission recommendation was rejected by the city commission in March on the basis of legal opinions that the procedures used in creating the compensation board were illegal.

Mayor Charles Joseph

explained that he had asked Casey to present the report several weeks earlier than scheduled to "lay all the facts before the people" in advance of the recall election May 18 and said he was "generally pleased" with the study's findings.

"The public safety director I think is the most dramatic thing that could have been recommended," Joseph said. "I support that 100 per cent."

He said he did not agree with the report's analysis of the mayor-commission role at present because it was based on "hearsay" but declared "some of these other things

I've been recommending for years."

Casey's report recommended replacement of policemen and firemen with public safety officers who would perform both functions and would be paid approximately five per cent more than patrolmen now receive.

The report declared that present salaries for the mayor and commissioners of $5 per meeting and a maximum of $300 a year were outmoded and recommended monthly salaries of $150 for the mayor and $100 for commissioners.

No School Closings, St. Joe Board Vows

The St. Joseph board of education last night agreed not to close any elementary schools in the district next year, barring unforeseen financial cuts at the state level.

The board also voted to put a 1-mill building and site fund proposition on the June 14 election ballot, and announced it would decide on whether to close Milton junior high school at a special meeting next Monday.

The meeting will be at 8 p.m. at Upton junior high school and will be open to the public.

Board President Ray Dumke said the district could save

$100,000 annually, if Milton junior high at 1520 Niles avenue were closed. He said the 1-mill, planned for five years, would produce $130,000 annually, based on the current state equalized value of the district.

Together, the revenue would ease a deficit of some $250,000 on the $5.7 million operating budget for the 1976-77 school year, Dumke said.

The agreement to attempt to keep all elementary schools open next year was presented by Trustee Joseph Naines and began with reference to Jefferson elementary school, 2214 South State street.

Jefferson area parents have protested plans to close the school, since they were announced last February.

About 50 citizens attended the meeting that produced two viewpoints:

Because of declining enrollments, some school officials believe Jefferson school is not needed, and its students could be sent to Lincoln elementary school in St. Joseph. They believe Milton junior high is not needed and its seventh and eighth graders could attend Upton junior high. All ninth graders in the district would attend senior high, which was reported to now have 12 empty classrooms.

Some citizens have contended that no schools should be closed. They say the result would be a step downhill as far as attracting new residents and industries.

In an enrollment matter, the board approved the awarding of diplomas to 360 seniors. This was reported about five fewer than last year.

The board also:

—Authorized the business manager to apply for a $500,000 loan against state aid from Peoples State bank, St. Joseph. Interest was reported at 5 per cent.

—Approved appointments to the Advisory Council on School Development of Mrs. Virginia Bock, 2283 Ann Drive; Mrs. Vicki Cook, 531 Madison; Mrs. Arlene Federighi, 1928 Forbes; Mrs. Mary Koch, 2311 State street; and Richard Schreiner, 2121 State, all of St. Joseph.

—Announced the retirement of Marian Anderson, who has taught 46 years, including the last 27 in the St. Joseph district.

No Work, No Talks Underway At Whirlpool St. Joe Division

Production remained halted at Whirlpool corporation's St. Joseph division plant today with no progress reported in settling a contract dispute that has resulted in closing of the plant.

No negotiations have been held since workers rejected the company's final contract offer last Friday, according to Albert Romeo, president of Local 1918, International Association of Machinists and Aerospace workers.

Romeo said no contract talks are scheduled today, although both the company and union have been placed on a 24-hour standby since last Saturday by a federal mediator.

There has been no production at the St. Joseph division plant since the old three-year contract expired last Thursday at midnight.

Romeo said the union still regards the work stoppage as a lockout, has no pickets at the plant and is hopeful the company will resume production while contract negotiations are pursued.

Whirlpool announced last Friday, however, that it is interpreting the union's rejection of a new three-year contract offer as a strike and that the plant will remain closed until contract agreement is reached.

Man Held In Tavern Shooting

Benton township police arrested a Benton Harbor man Monday on a warrant charging assault with intent to commit murder in the shooting of a man at a crowded tavern early Saturday.

Booked at the Berrien county jail was Darrell Roy Allen, 23, of 777 East Main street.

Dennis Sheppard, 24, Detroit, remained hospitalized in "fair" condition today at Mercy hospital, Benton Harbor. He was shot once in the chest. The incident was reported at the East End bar and grill, 995 East Main street, Benton township.

Jonathan D. Hurse will resign as intake counselor for Berrien Opportunities Industrialization Center, Inc., to attend University of San Francisco Law school where he has been accepted for the fall semester.

Hurse is a graduate of Benton Harbor high school, has a bachelor's degree from Michigan State university and master's in business administration from University of Michigan. He is the son of Mrs. Clara Hurse of Milwaukee, Wis., and the late Renzie Hurse.

St. Joe Approves $3.3 Million Budget

St. Joseph city commissioners last night approved both a $3.3 million budget for the upcoming fiscal year and the Barton-Aschman downtown plan that emphasizes development of a downtown office district.

Both matters were approved after public hearings on each. The budget was passed after brief questioning from former Mayor Tom Sparks. There were no other comments on the budget from the audience of 15 people.

The budget, detailed in the April 27 edition of The Herald-Palladium, is up 5.9 per cent over last year's operating budget of $3.1 million, but did not include a tax rate increase.

Also passed was the first reading of the appropriation ordinance to implement the budget. City Atty. Arthur G. Preston, Jr., said the second reading of the appropriation ordinance will come next week.

In connection with the budget, Hepler told the commission prior to the meeting that he will start contract negotiations with city police and fire unions today. The budget includes a five per cent pay increase for all city employees.

Hepler also voiced concern over the work stoppage at the Whirlpool corporation's St. Joseph division. Hepler said it cost the city about $30,000 to police the last Whirlpool strike in 1970 when workers were out for 22 weeks.

He added, "If there is a strike and it is peaceful there is no problem (in financing the overtime for police.)" He said a prolonged strike that required a lot of police attention would "take additional manpower over what we had budgeted."

The Barton-Aschman plan, detailed in the March 19 edition of this newspaper, stressed that the city should concentrate on developing an office district centered at the intersection of Pleasant and Court streets.

Mrs. Gertrude Dorstewitz, 809

Broad street, commented that the city should consider the need for a grocery store grocery store near the downtown area. Mrs. Dorstewitz said she does not drive and there is a need for another grocery store near her home. She said, "It's not fair. People at this end of town need to eat, too."

St. Joseph Atty. David Vander Ploeg, who said he was representing the Law and Title building, 811 Ship street, voiced agreement with the office development plan and encouraged the four following projects:

—Development of a pedestrian way on Pleasant street

toward the retail core (State street.)

—Re-routing of much of the traffic using Ship to go down Broad street and then to Wayne street.

—Use open space effectively in developing the downtown district.

—The constructing of larger buildings in the office district as opposed to little ones.

The commission approved a $2,000 direct community development grant to Ella

Markwald, 623 Lake street, for improvements at her home.

The city was commended for providing bleachers for senior citizens during the Blossom parade was voiced by Walter Carlock, Hollywood road, Royalton township. He said he helps out at the St. Joseph - Lincoln township senior citizen center in St. Joseph.

Prior to the meeting, Hepler told the commission he'd received a letter from employees at the McDonald's fast-food restaurant, St. Joseph, offering to sponsor a contest to design a city flag. The proposal was not discussed in detail by the commission.

St. Joseph FOP Sponsoring Three-Ring Circus June 28

St. Joseph Lodge 96, Fraternal Order of Police, will sponsor the three-ring Circus Vargas on Monday, June 28, according to Gary Dasse, circus project chairman.

The circus will set up on Plaza drive just north of Nickerson avenue in Benton township. Performances will be held at 1, 4 and 7 p.m. The lodge is conducting advance sales from which it will receive approximately 25 per cent, Dasse, said. The advance sale is being conducted through the FOP promotion office in Suite 402, Fidelity building, Benton Harbor. Proceeds from advance ticket sales will be used by the FOP on its community programs. The circus was sponsored by the Berrien County Deputies association the past two years. The deputies passed the sponsorship on to the FOP Lodge 96 whose membership is from Berrien sheriff's department, St. Joseph city police, state police, department of natural resources, Berrien prosecutor's office, and St. Joseph township.

League Of Women Voters Stands Firm On Its Name

Two years ago the League of Women Voters admitted men into membership for the first time since its founding in 1920 as an outgrowth of the National Woman's Suffrage Association which successfully put the XIXth Amendment into operation in the same year.

At the time considerable speculation arose on whether the organization should change its name to indicate the new bisexuality.

In the convention hubbub of pushing the group toward the first step the delegates managed to put off a decision on that contention for another day.

The membership alteration represented enough of a trauma to negotiate.

Sentiment for it had been building up as a recognition of a practical matter in many of the League chapters calling on the menfolk for financial help.

The bigger push came from the ultra feminists who find it ethically repulsive for any organization to identify itself by sex.

Last week the ultra feminists came back at the League proposing a number of new codes to eliminate or neutralize Women. Some suggestions were the League of Women and Men Voters, the League of Voters, the League of Well Informed Voters.

By a ballot of 1,400 to 50 the national convention last week said nothing doing.

The League will carry on under the 1920 entitlement designed by Carrie Chapman Catt, its organizer, and Maude Wood Park, its first president.

Having scrubbed the feminist forces, the convention went on to more pressing business, one outstanding item being how to reverse a decline in membership.

Membership and influence are a chicken and egg proposition for any organization, and in recent years the League has found its formula of non-partisan presentation of issues and abstaining from personalizing on candidates or parties may be losing some of its original lustre.

Candidates and parties, except as they may see a catchy position to ride upon, prefer to be no more specific than to proclaim, "Trust me to do a job for you."

Consequently a League publication on what the candidates have in mind tends to be readable upside down as well as rightside up.

Taking a position on issues, when they are visible, can be rewarding and damaging simultaneously. A few years ago many of the League's local chapters found themselves in hot water at home because of a national convention declaration that welfare should be handed out solely on the basis of need, in effect, with no strings attached. ADC not being the most popular idea in many circles, the convention's failure to qualify its resolution by urging "provable need" created a serious backlash.

If George Romney's experience at Lansing is any criterion, the League seemingly does better when it sheds its nonpartisan raiment. Romney's first election to the Governor's chair in the early 1960s rested in some measure upon strong backing from the Michigan League.

It has become quite the thing in mergers and new thrusts in the business arena to change a corporate name. The idea is to demonstrate that the Widgets Company no longer is confining itself to marketing Widgets.

Until, however, the League departs markedly from its 1920 goal, the girls did right to stick with their first styling.

Lost Bulk Mail Just Sign Of Times

Ten days ago, it was revealed that five small communities in eastern Michigan didn't get any bulk mail for up to three weeks because of a computer programming error. Instead of going where it should, the mail was being shuttled back and forth between the downtown Detroit post office and a $45 million, "Allen Park" suburban mail center in Michigan Park. A lot of the mail was damaged in the process.

All of this made news of sorts, but no one should really be surprised. The Post Office Department has been going the wrong way for a long time now.

Back in 1971 when it was established, the U.S. Postal Service was expected to avoid the political pitfalls, bad service and annual deficits that had done in the old Post Office Department which it replaced. Reorganization legislation required the new Postal Service to break even financially by 1984. In true Orwellian fashion, "break even" meant with the aid of an annual $920-million subsidy. Even that goal looks more elusive all the time. The trend has been mounting deficits, which postal officials attribute to inflation, recession, wage boosts and competition from private delivery firms.

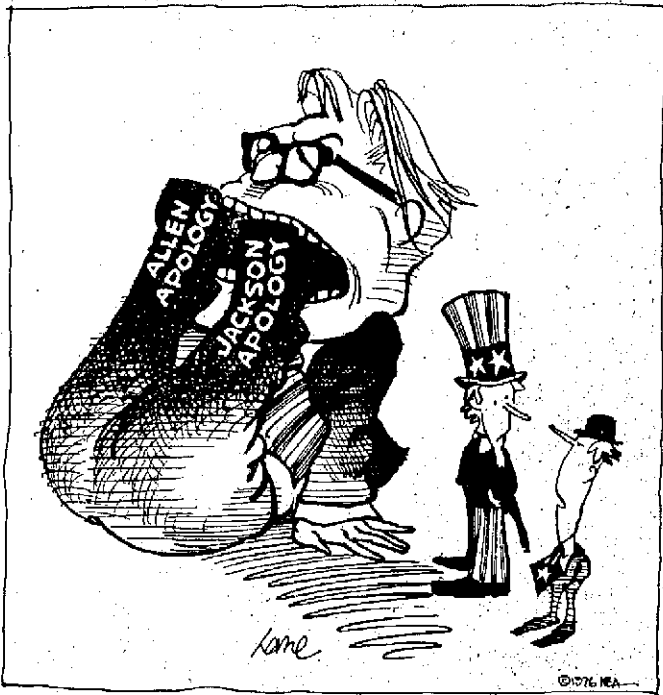

They have called for a reassessment of the entire system. Postmaster General Benjamin F. Bailar has questioned the need for traditional six-day-a-week deliveries, front-door service, and equal rates for all metered first-class mail. Already, the Postal Service has halved business deliveries to once a day in 24 southern and eastern cities. And on Monday, May 16, it will reduce mail service in Manhattan, the only place in the country that enjoyed three business deliveries a day. Postal officials estimate the New York cutback alone will save $2-million. Other money-saving proposals include elimination of Saturday delivery and replacement of some rural post offices with other types of mail service.

Meanwhile, Bailar has asked Congress to double the Postal Service's annual subsidy to absorb an anticipated $1.5-billion deficit. Whatever the solution, it is clear changes must occur. Assistant Postmaster General Byrne wrote in April 25, 1976, "If we fail to react responsibly to changing conditions, we risk having a vital public service become an anachronism."

SPEED LIMIT CHANGES SOUGHT ON CLEVELAND

Editor,
Citizens of Baroda!

How long are we going to sit back and watch our young children being killed? We have a duty as citizens to do something about the speed laws along Cleveland Avenue.

Why must we put off by officials whom our taxes pay? Our laws are subject to change, and let's not put the blame on our police officers. As we, the public, know all too well, their hands are tied by our courts.

I have lived on Russell Road 10 years. Since 1969, to my knowledge, there have been three traffic deaths between Lemon Creek Road and Russell Road, about three blocks. One elderly man and two children. Wake up before the next one is yours.

God gave us our children, let's not permit speed to take them away.

FORD'S SIDE 'WRONG' ON PANAMA CANAL

Editor,

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) on May 2 said "I am as strongly in favor of keeping the Canal as anybody" and also stated by way of emphasis "I am as completely opposed to giving that Canal away as anybody."

But, unfortunately, he also said that the United States should "bend a little" and begin a process of "gradual" little more economic "control" by Panama and a little "less military occupation" by the United States. When he, above all people, must be fully aware that the Panamanians are demanding the surrender of our sovereignty over the Canal Zone and ultimate complete ownership of Panama of the whole canal enterprise with which the Ford Administration is negotiating compliance.

Appearing on Issues and Answers on the same day, Vice President Nelson Rockefeller made remarks against the presence of the United States in the Canal Zone so inaccurate that they were a maintenance of falsity that can be easily demonstrated.

Both Goldwater and Rockefeller apparently recommended that we bow to Marxist-Leninist dictator Torrijos blackmail and threats of violence and that we, through fear, surrender to him the sovereignty of our people over the Canal Zone, the frame of our global treaty-based solemn obligation to operate the Canal Zone without discrimination in furtherance of the benefit for the shipping of the whole world.

Charles Evans Hughes, when he was secretary of state on Dec. 15, 1923, told Dr. Alfaro, that the U.S. Government would never recede from the position it had taken in a note of Secretary Hay in 1904. He said: "This Government could not and would not enter into any discussion affecting its full right to deal with the Canal Zone under Article 3 of the Treaty of 1903 as if it were sovereign of the Canal Zone and, to the entire exclusion of any sovereign rights or authority on the part of Panama." (Foreign Relations 1923, vol. III, p. 684).

Moreover, Secretary Hughes added: "It was an absolutely fulfury for the Panamanian Government to expect any American administration, no matter what it was, any President or any Secretary of State, ever to surrender any part of these rights which the United States have acquired under the treaty of 1903."

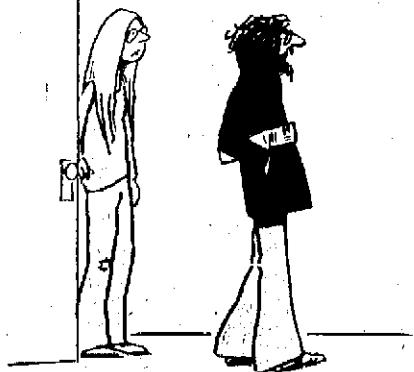

Gov. Reagan is right. President Ford and his administration are wrong. We should adhere to the policy declared by Charles Evans Hughes in 1923.

Congress Strips Campaign Act

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The 94th Congress has revamped the Federal Election Campaign Act with a vengeance.

In an agreement hammered out in a conference between the two houses, most safeguards the Senate had inserted have been wiped out, and most safeguards voted by the House have been erased.

What's left should be a delight to every incumbent.

Gone is the Senate provision which would have required every candidate for federal office, including senators and representatives, and every federal officer or employee receiving $95,000 a year or more to disclose his assets and liabilities, his net worth and his sources of income.

Gone is the old law's $1,000 limit for any speech, appearance or article by a congressman for any private group, with an overall limitation of $15,000 a year. The new limits: $2,000 and $25,000, no beggar's sum for pocket money.

Meals, lodging, transportation and other expenses aren't included in these limitations; they're a bonus. Gone, too, is a Senate-voted restriction on franked mail used for political purposes. Congressmen would have been prohibited from making any general mass mailing to voters at government expense within 60 days of an election. By agreement, this restriction has been cut back to 28 days, which makes it next to worthless.

The Senate bill would have provided that excess contributions received by a candidate, and amounts contributed to an individual to support his activities as a federal office holder, "may not be converted to any personal use."

The Senate-House conference agreed to eliminate this restriction.

The bill agreed on by the Senate-House conference also makes it possible for a political party controlling both the White House and the Senate to stack the Federal Election Commission which enforces the law.

This particular section is cleverly written: While stating that no more than three voting members of the Commission — half — may be affiliated with the same political party, it leaves the door open for a president to appoint and the Senate to confirm one, two or more "independents" who may, if carefully chosen and for all practical purposes, be members of the president's party.

This provision will not, in practice, apply to President Ford, even if he does not veto the bill and it becomes law. Mr. Ford has, it is generally understood, pledged himself to reapportion the identical commission abolished by the Supreme Court on grounds it was unconstitutional to have an executive commission appointed in major part by a legislature, that is, by Congress.

To make matters worse, there are a number of glaring contradictions in the conference bill which now must be voted on by both the Senate and House.

One section, for example, requires that if a corporation solicits political funds from those of its employees who are not part of management nor stockholders, then solicitation must be by letter so that the corporation cannot tell who has given or how much. But another section of the bill requires that except for small donations, contributions must be by check and the name and employment of the donor disclosed to the public.

The same rule applies to labor unions' soliciting corporation management and stockholders. In both cases the funds must, of course, be put in a separate political fund.

There is a reasonable possibility that this revised bill, if voted by Congress and not vetoed by Mr. Ford, will be challenged in the Supreme Court, further ennobling the Presidential election this year.

Government Edict Creates Hate

We are routinely instructed by liberals to seek out the "root causes" of crime, the "root causes" of racism, presumed to lie in various kinds of deprivation.

Fueled by a steadily escalating street violence and possible civil catastrophe, the political and religious establishment of Boston recently performed a kind of rain dance. Some 50,000 marchers participated in a Procession Against Violence, led by Mayor Kevin White, Governor Michael Dukakis, Senators Ted Kennedy and Edward Brooke, Humberto Cardinal Michael Dukakis, Senators Ted Kennedy and Edward Brooke, Humberto Cardinal Madeiros, and other luminaries.

Nobody said anything at all about the "root causes" that explain why, in large sections of Boston, life is becoming increasingly solitary, nasty, brutish, and short as racial violence spreads.

During the two-year period since Federal Judge W. Arthur Garrity ordered racial busing in Boston, racial tension has been intense and racial violence continuous. The media tended to play down violence, consistently with the assumption that busing is "a good thing." Now, however, a certain threshold of violence has been crossed, making such quasi-censorship impossible.

The racial busing is not, in itself, the precise cause of the violence. What has happened is more complex. Busing and the busing controversy have tended to racialize the consciousness of large numbers of both blacks and whites in Boston. Race has been pushed into the foreground, become a dominating factor rather than just one factor among many.

Other factors have intensified this racialization of consciousness. Many whites consider, with good reason, that the media are slanted against them, that "affirmative action" qui-tas work to their disadvantage, that the police often look the other way when blacks commit violence.

Within the past few weeks, a black named Theodore Landsman was beaten at a black demonstration at Boston's Government Center; a white auto mechanic named Richard Polak stopped at a traffic light and was dragged from his car and stoned to the point of death by a mob of young blacks (at this writing he is "technically alive"); a white girl was severely injured when blacks stole the car in which she was riding; a black city employee had his jaw broken by whites in a subway station; a black bus driver was slugged by whites in South Boston. You can get killed buying the morning paper in Boston today.

In the glass strewn streets of Mattapan and Dorchester, gangs of teenaged blacks and whites roam the streets looking for trouble and heaving rocks at passing cars.

Other ethnic groups in America have not been integrated by government edict. Many have remained in varying degrees separate, and have worked out such social integration as does exist only gradually. The monstrous evil in Boston lies in the fact that people have been made to hate one another who otherwise would not.

Integration by government edict is the root cause of the violence, and until Kennedy, the cardinal and the others face that fact the only thing they can offer Boston is their prayers.

Introduces 1977 Dishwashers

Whirlpool Corporation

Whirlpool Corporation announced today significant changes that have been made in its dishwasher model line for 1977.

Previewed with distributors at the company's sales meeting in Los Angeles, the 1977 Whirlpool dishwasher line includes functional improvements, options for energy conservation and more decorating flexibility. Feature changes have been made in all 10 models in the line. There are six undercounters and four convertible/portables.

Interior design has been notably changed with improved protection provided for china and glassware as a result of new high-sided upper and lower racks.

Additional stability has been built into the upper rack with an eight wheel track assembly. A new upper rack mechanism offers height adjustments as well as the capability of a tilted position to tailor the dishwasher to sizes and shapes of cookware, dishes and glasses. Also on the interior is a new inner door with molded-in detergent cups and air vent.

The washing system has been changed to provide the right combination of water volume and pressure to the upper spray arm through a new Jet Stream column. The upper spray arm incorporates a new design that revolves on a stainless steel spindle. The washing system includes a new pump impeller and changes in the filtering system and pump guard.

Energy options include an energy-saving "dry selector" switch to air dry or activate the heater during the drying portion of the cycle. The top-of-the-line undercounter model includes a feature that allows the user to add heat during washing, during drying, add heat in both washing and drying, or eliminate any added heat in washing and drying. Whirlpool dishwasher users will be able to control a portion of the energy used within their dishwashers.

A new door latching mechanism has enhanced the contemporary appearance of the line. The concealed door latch is unobtrusively located behind the console with no handles protruding to catch the clothing of people walking past.

Three of the models in the undercounter line offer the customer decorating flexibility with separate four-color panel packs for both the door and the lower panel. An optional kit is available so that the black glass look can be adapted to complement kitchen decor. Sound insulation has been extended to all models in the line.

Heading up the new convertible/portable line is a model featuring five pushbutton cycles including Super-Scour, super wash, china/crystal, rinse/hold and a short cycle.

There is a two-speed washing and rinsing action which provides gentle care for china and crystal. Additional features include in-the-door silverware and cutlery baskets, two full-size spray arms, an adjustable upper rack, the energy-saving "dry selector" switch, porcelain-enameled tub, detergent and rinse conditioner dispensers, a reversible solid wood worktop, a fold down divider in the lower rack and sound insulation.

Top-of-the-line model in the undercounter line of Whirlpool dishwashers for 1977 features six pushbutton cycles including rinse/dry. The cycles are activated by a rapid advance timer. Indicator lights replace the timer dial with the wash indicator light on until the final rinse.

At 64, Orval Benson Seeks His 'Final' Term

SUPERVISOR BENSON
Seeks final term

St. Joseph Township Supervisor Orval L. Benson announced Monday he is seeking re-election to a final term in the post he has held more than 10 years.

Benson, who will be 64 on June 28, said: "This is the last time I intend to run. The township is in good shape. I will have served nearly 17 years (as supervisor) at the end of November, and 19 years, if re-elected. That's long enough."

All other township whose terms expire this year joined Benson in announcing their candidacies for re-election. They are:

Clerk Bill Payne Smith, Treasurer Isadore G. DiMaggio, and Trustees Carl L.G. Reschke and Robert H. DeVries, Sr. The incumbents are all Republicans.

primary election Aug. 3, is 4 p.m. June 1.

Benson summarized his tenure as township supervisor by saying St. Joseph township is the only one in Michigan to have water and sewer facilities on every street, every street paved, street lights, and rubbish pickup. He noted that while other townships have some of these services, none has all of them.

Benson said being township supervisor years ago was part time work that could be handled by visits to the township hall two or three times a week. He said the job now calls for full time attention. It pays $13,500 per year.

For 30 years, until 1966, Benson was employed by New Products Co., Benton Harbor. He started as a truck driver and rose to a supervisory post in production. Benson, more recently was vice president of Wallace Investments, Inc., South Bend.

Benson and his wife Viola, are the parents of four children, three married and one in college. The Bensons live at 3638

South Cleveland avenue.

Among other incumbent candidates: Smith, clerk since 1971, is seeking his third full term. He is employed by Whirlpool Corp. as manager of administration for the retail marketing department. Smith and his wife, Thelma, are the parents of three children, ages 14 to 26. The family residence is 1972 Lasein drive.

Treasurer DiMaggio is employed by the Twin Cities Area Chamber of Commerce as director of career awareness and summer youth employment programs. He and his wife, Marilyn, are the parents of two children, ages two and four. The family resides at 729 Ansley drive.

Trustee Reschke, a bachelor, has served for 14 years and resides at 1808 Hawthorne. He is employed by Whirlpool Corp. in the experimental models shop.

Trustee DeVries has served six years on the board. He is an engineer for Michigan Bell Telephone Co. DeVries and his wife, Lucy-Ann, are the parents of five children, ages 18 to 25.

The family resides at 3008 Kevin court.

BH Study Would Merge Police, Fire

Benton Harbor city commissioners Monday night heard a report from a management consulting service recommending consolidation of the police and fire departments under a single public safety director.

The report, presented verbally by Mike Casey of McManus Associates, Washington, D.C., also recommended pay raises for the mayor and city commission, and better definition of the rules of the mayor and city manager.

Casey's presentation also noted that "there is a generally acknowledged feeling" that the mayor and commission intend to operate the city government under a "strong mayor" system wherever possible although the city charter specifies a commission-manager form of government.

He said this feeling was reinforced by a compensation commission's recommendation of a $25,000 annual salary for the mayor and by the termination within the last five months of former City Manager Charles Morrison and former City Atty. Yvonne Hughes.

The compensation commission recommendation was rejected by the city commission in March on the basis of legal opinions that the procedures used in creating the compensation board were illegal.

Mayor Charles Joseph

explained that he had asked Casey to present the report several weeks earlier than scheduled to "lay all the facts before the people" in advance of the recall election May 18 and said he was "generally pleased" with the study's findings.

He said he did not agree with the report's analysis of the mayor-commission role at present because it was based on "hearsay" but declared "some of these other things

I've been recommending for years."

Casey's report recommended replacement of policemen and firemen with public safety officers who would perform both functions and would be paid approximately five per cent more than patrolmen now receive.

The report declared that present salaries for the mayor and commissioners of $5 per meeting and a maximum of $300 a year were outdated and recommended monthly salaries of $150 for the mayor and $100 for commissioners.

Casey lauded Benton Harbor's

No School Closings, St. Joe Board Vows

The St. Joseph board of education last night agreed not to close any elementary schools in the district next year, barring unforeseen financial cuts at the state level.

The board also voted to put a 1-mill building and site fund proposition on the June 14 election ballot, and announced it would decide on whether to close Milton junior high school at a special meeting next Monday.

The meeting will be at 8 p.m. at Upton Junior high school and will be open to the public.

Board President Ray Dumke said the district could save

$100,000 annually, if Milton junior high at 1920 Niles avenue were closed. He said the 1-mill, planned for five years, would produce $130,000 annually, based on the current state equalized value of the district.

Together, the revenue would ease a deficit of some $250,000 on the $5.7 million operating budget for the 1976-77 school year, Dumke said.

The agreement to attempt to keep all elementary schools open next year was presented by Trustee Joseph Naines and began with reference to Jefferson elementary school, 2214 South State street.

Jefferson area parents have protested plans to close the school, since they were announced last February.

About 50 citizens attended the meeting that produced two viewpoints:

Because of declining enrollments, some school officials believe Jefferson school is not needed, and its students could be sent to Lincoln elementary school in St. Joseph. They believe Milton junior high is not needed and its seventh and eighth graders could attend Upton Junior high. All ninth graders in the district would attend senior high, which was reported to now have 12 empty classrooms.

Some citizens have contended that no schools should be closed. They say the result would be a step downhill as far as attracting new residents and industries.

In an enrollment matter, the board approved the awarding of diplomas to 360 seniors. This was reported about five fewer than last year.

The board also:

—Authorized the business manager to apply for a $500,000 loan against state aid from Peoples State bank, St. Joseph. Interest was reported at 5 per cent.

—Approved appointments to the Advisory Council on School Development of Mrs. Virginia Bock, 2283 Ann Drive; Mrs. Vicki Cook, 531 Madison; Mrs. Arlene Fiedler, 1928 Forbes; Mrs. Mary Koch, 2311 State street; and Richard Schreiner, 2121 State, all of St. Joseph.

—Announced the retirement of Mr. Anderson, who has taught 46 years, including the last 27 in the St. Joseph district.

BH Man Wants Huckaby's Post

Norval Weiss, 878 Pearl street, has announced that he will seek the Benton Harbor city commission seat of Commissioner-at-large Barbara Huckaby if she is recalled in the May 18 election.

Weiss said he is making the announcement now to "inform the people of Benton Harbor that a recall will produce candidates."

He added: "I became involved with the recall committee because of the steamroller tactics of the Clean Slate group."

Weiss, 80, is food service manager at Mercy hospital. He and his wife Josephine have two adult daughters and a son.

Weiss is the third to announce availability in event of recalls. Others are Cornelius Bass Jr., for mayor, and Nathaniel Robinson for Third Ward commissioner.

Five members of the city commission are on the recall ballot next Tuesday — Mayor Joseph, Mrs. Huckaby, Winston Mlnott, Third Ward commissioner; Charles Shepherd, Second Ward Commissioner; and Alfred Williams, Fourth Ward commissioner.

The recall vote will be on individuals and not as a group. Any vacancy created by a recall would be filled by appointment until a another election is held.

No Work, No Talks Underway At Whirlpool St. Joe Division

Production remained halted at Whirlpool corporation's St. Joseph division plant today with no progress reported in settling a contract dispute that has resulted in closing of the plant.

No negotiations have been held since workers rejected the company's final contract offer last Friday, according to Albert Romeo, president of Local 1018, International Association of Machinists and Aerospace workers.

Romeo said no contract talks are scheduled today, although both the company and union have been placed on a 24-hour standstill since last Saturday by a federal mediator.

There has been no production at the St. Joseph division plant since the old three-year contract expired last Thursday at midnight.

Romeo said the union still regards the work stoppage as a lockout, has no pickets at the plant and is hopeful the company will resume production while contract negotiations are pursued.

Whirlpool announced last Friday, however, that it is interpreting the union's rejection of a new, three-year contract offer as a strike and that the plant will remain closed until contract agreement is reached.

Man Held In Tavern Shooting

Benton township police arrested a Benton Harbor man Monday on a warrant charging assault with intent to commit murder in the shooting of a man at a crowded tavern early Saturday.

Booked at the Berrien county jail was Darrell Ray Allen, 23, of 777 East Main street.

Dennis Sheppard, 24, Detroit, remained hospitalized in "fair" condition today at Mercy hospital, Benton Harbor. He was shot once in the chest. The incident was reported at the East End bar and grill, 995 East Main street, Benton township.

DOWNTOWN PLAN ALSO GETS NOD
St. Joe Approves $3.3 Million Budget

St. Joseph city commissioners last night approved both a $3.3 million budget for the upcoming fiscal year and the Barton-Aeschman downtown plan that emphasizes development of a downtown office district.

Both matters were approved after public hearings on each. The budget was passed after brief questioning from former Mayor Tom Sparks. There were no other comments on the budget from the audience of 15 people.

The budget, detailed in the April 27 edition of The Herald-Palladium, is up 5.9 per cent over last year's operating budget of $3.1 million, but did not include a tax rate increase.

Also passed was the first reading of the appropriation ordinance to implement the budget. City Atty. Arthur G. Preston, Jr., said the second reading of the appropriation ordinance will come next week.

In connection with the budget, Hepler told the commission prior to the meeting that he will start contract negotiations with city police and fire unions today. The budget includes a five per cent pay increase for all city employees.

Hepler also voiced concern over the work stoppage at the Whirlpool corporation's St. Joseph division. Hepler said it cost the city about $30,000 to police the last Whirlpool strike in 1970 when workers were out for 22 weeks.

He added, "If there is a strike and it is peaceful there is no problem (in financing the overtime for police)." He said a prolonged strike that required a lot of police attention would "take additional manpower over what we had budgeted."

The Barton-Aeschman plan, detailed in the March 19 edition of this newspaper, stressed that the city should concentrate on developing an office district centered at the intersection of Pleasant and Court streets.

Mrs. Gertrude Dorstewitz, 800

Broad street, commented that the city should consider the need for a grocery store grocery store near the downtown area. Mrs. Dorstewitz said she does not drive and there is a need for another grocery store near her home. She said, "It's not fair. People at this end of town need to eat, too."

St. Joseph Atty. David Vander Ploeg, who said he was representing the Law and Title building, 811 Ship street, voiced agreement with the office development plan and encouraged the four following projects:

—Development of a pedestrian way on Pleasant street

toward the retail core (State street.)

—Re-routing of much of the traffic using Ship to go down Broad street and then to Wayne street.

—Use open space effectively in developing the downtown district.

—The constructing of larger buildings in the office district as opposed to little ones.

Vander Ploeg termed the Barton-Aeschman proposal a "good one."

Barton-Aeschman is a planning firm of Evanston, Ill. The commission approved a $2,000 direct community development grant to Ella Markwald, 623 Lake street, for improvements at her home. The city was commended for providing bleachers for senior citizens during the Blossom parade was voiced by Walter Carlock, Hollywood road, Royalton township. He said he helps out at the St. Joseph-Lincoln township senior citizen center in St. Joseph.

Prior to the meeting, Hepler told the commission he'd received a letter from employees at the McDonald's fast-food restaurant, St. Joseph, offering to sponsor a contest to design a city flag. The proposal was not discussed in detail by the commission.

St. Joseph FOP Sponsoring Three-Ring Circus June 28

St. Joseph Lodge 96, Fraternal Order of Police, will sponsor the three-ring Circus Vargas on Monday, June 28, according to Gary Dasse, circus project chairman.

The circus will set up on Plaza drive just north of Nickerson avenue in Benton township. Performances will be held at 1, 4 and 7 p.m. The lodge is conducting advance sales from which it will receive approximately 25 per cent, Dasse, said. The advance sale is being conducted through the FOP promotion office in Suite 402, Fidelity building, Benton Harbor. Proceeds from advance ticket sales will be used by the FOP in its community programs. The circus was sponsored by the Berrien County Deputies association the past two years. The deputies passed the sponsorship on to the FOP Lodge 96 whose membership is from Berrien sheriff's department, St. Joseph city police, state police, department of natural resources, Berrien prosecutor's office, and St. Joseph township.

Introduces 1977 Dishwashers

Whirlpool Corporation

Whirlpool Corporation announced today significant changes that have been made in its dishwasher model line for 1977.

Previewed with distributors at the company's sales meeting in Los Angeles, the 1977 Whirlpool dishwasher line includes functional improvements, options for energy conservation and more decorating flexibility. Feature changes have been made in all 10 models in the line. There are six undercounters and four convertible/portables.

Interior design has been notably changed with improved protection provided for china and glassware as a result of new high-sided upper and lower racks. Additional stability has been built into the upper rack with an eight wheel track assembly. A new upper rack mechanism offers height adjustments as well as the capability of a tilted position to tailor the dishwasher to sizes and shapes of cookware, dishes and glasses. Also on the interior is a new inner door with molded-in detergent cups and air vent.

The washing system has been changed to provide the right combination of water volume and pressure to the upper spray arm through a new Jet Stream column. The upper spray arm incorporates a new design that revolves on a stainless steel spindle. The washing system includes a new pump impeller and changes in the filtering system and pump guard.

Energy options include an energy-saving "dry selector" switch to air dry or activate the heater during the drying portion of the cycle. The top-of-the-line undercounter model includes a feature that allows the user to add heat during washing, during drying, add heat in both washing and drying, or eliminate any added heat in washing and drying. Whirlpool dishwasher users will be able to control a portion of the energy used within their dishwashers.

A new door latching mechanism has enhanced the contemporary appearance of the line. The concealed door latch is unobtrusively located behind the console with no handles protruding to catch the clothing of people walking past.

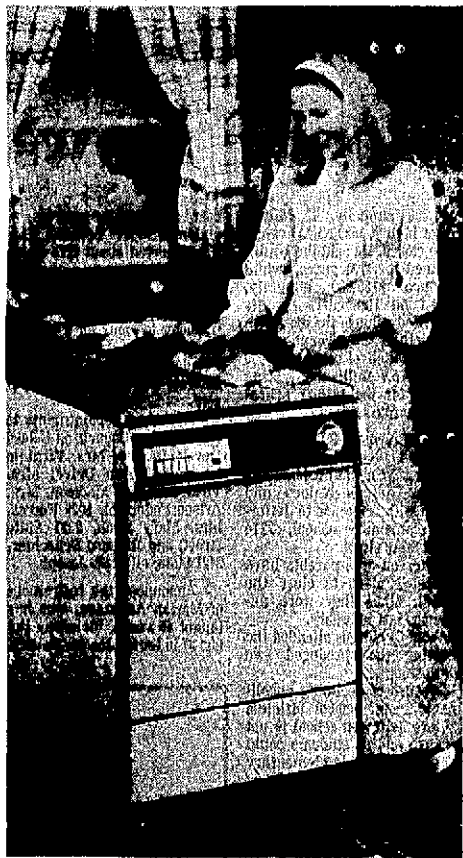

Three of the models in the undercounter line offer the customer decorating flexibility with separate four-color panel jacks for both the door and the lower panel. An optional kit is available so that the black glass look can be adapted to complement kitchen decor. Sound insulation has been extended to all models in the line.

Heading up the new convertible/portable line is a model featuring five pushbutton cycles including Super-Scour, super wash, china/crystal, rinse/hold and a short cycle.

There is a two-speed washing and rinsing action which provides gentle care for china and crystal. Additional features include in-the-door silverware and cutlery baskets, two full-size spray arms, an adjustable upper rack, the energy-saving "dry selector" switch, porcelain-enameled tub, detergent and rinse conditioner dispensers, a reversible solid wood worktop, a fold down divider in the lower rack and sound insulation.

Top-of-the-line model in the undercounter line of Whirlpool dishwashers for 1977 features six pushbutton cycles including rinse/dry. The cycles are activated by a rapid advance timer. Indicator lights replace the timer dial with the wash indicator light on until the final rinse.

The model also includes the two-speed washing and rinsing action, exclusive in-the-door silverware and cutlery baskets,

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Thanks For An Angel

Dear Ann Landers: Recently an 18-year-old girl wrote and asked if she should have an abortion. She said it was not against her religion but was afraid the guilt might haunt her forever. You said, "Don't do it!"

May I say a few words to that young woman and to others who may be struggling with the same decision?

My husband and I were told we would never be able to have a family. We immediately put our names in at two adoption agencies. We waited for two years and were becoming very discouraged. Then we received that wonderful phone call. A young girl was about to deliver in three weeks. She had decided to give up her child for adoption. You should have seen my husband. We went into orbit. It was unreal. I was on Cloud 19. We immediately called in the painters and the paperhangers. The den was turned into a nursery. Our families, friends and neighbors brought gifts. Now all we had to do was wait.

Then the call came. The doctor said we had a beautiful, seven-pound baby girl. After five days of indescribable excitement, we drove to the hospital to pick up our angel. We never saw the mother, which I'm sure was best for all concerned.

I would like to say a word to that courageous young woman. Thank you, dear little mother, for having the maturity and wisdom to give up your child. She has brought real meaning and joy to our lives.

There will be times when you will wonder how your little girl is getting along, and what life would have been like had you kept her. Let me assure you she is being cared for and loved by a grateful family.

Hopefully you will one day marry and have other children, but the memory of your first-born will always be with you. Please know you will be remembered in our prayers as the most courageous and unselfish person in the world. — No Name, No City, No Initials

Dear Friends: I wonder how many young mothers will wonder if this letter was meant for them. A good many, I hope. Thank you for writing.

ANN LANDERS

I am not at home, nobody ever bothers to tell me. The next day at school, Mary or Bill or Joanie will say, "Why didn't you call me back?" I have to tell them I didn't know they called. This is embarrassing because it looks like nobody in my family cares enough about me to give me a message, which is humiliating and irritating. It also makes me wonder how many good times I have missed out on because of my family's lack of considera-

By Oswald & James Jacoby
If you can keep from looking at the East and West hands you should be able to visualize South's problem with today's hand.

He wins the diamond lead with his ace and sees one sure loser each in trumps, spades and diamonds. Is there a potential fourth loser anywhere? There may be a second loser in trumps. Can South do anything to reduce the chance of the second loser?

If trumps are 2-2 there is no problem. If there is a singleton ace and South can lead from the right hand that ace will have to capture some small cards.

So a thinking South leads his king of spades at trick two. West takes his ace which gives him king-queen of diamonds and ace of spades.

He cannot hold the ace of trumps or he would have opened the bidding. When South regains the lead he goes to dummy, leads a low trump and is properly rewarded for his care.

Ask the Jacobys

A Montreal reader wants to know the advantage of opening a hand with a preemptive bid of three in a suit.

Here is a typical non-vulnerable preemptive three spade opener.
▲ K Q J 9 7 6 4 ♥ 2 ♦ 10 4 2 ♠ 7 6

You expect to take six tricks with spades trump and no tricks with any other trump. The hand probably belongs to your opponents and this preempt may disrupt their communications and get them into the wrong contract.

Dr. Lester Coleman

Each year, in the spring, my daughter, 6, develops croup. It absolutely terrifies her and us. Do you think it is a coincidence that it happens at the same time each year?

Mrs. G.G., Ohio

Dear Mrs. G.:

Croup is an inflammation or infection of the lining of the throat, the larynx (windpipe) and the lungs.

This condition occurs most frequently in very young children. As the child grows older, the swelling of the lining of the windpipe usually does not interfere with breathing as before.

Many doctors recognize that this condition tends to occur most frequently in the late winter and early spring. There may be an allergic factor which precipitates the croup.

A virus or streptococcus infection can also produce the thickening of the mucous membrane lining and thus interfere with the normal passage of air into the lungs.

Croup is probably one of the most distressing conditions for the young child, for the parents and for the physician. Fortunately, the severity and the duration of croup have been diminished since the advent of the antibiotics and cortisone.

Steam inhalations are probably the most soothing treatment for difficulty in breathing and for the relief of the barking cough.

Miss R.E., Mass.

Dear Miss E.:

The Medical Society of the County of New York has issued a definitive statement about this new type of exploitation of the overweight.

They said, "Cellulite" is hokey and serves no benefit whatsoever... except possibly the enrichment of the authors of two heavily publicized books on "Cellulite."

In a special article, the Society attacked the claims of the writers that "cellulite" and not fat is responsible for overweight.

The Medical Society firmly stated, "The truth is that fat is fat, and the nutritional advice contained in the books could be harmful."

All overweight people must eventually come to the realization that there is no short-cut to losing weight. Reduction of caloric intake is the only way to lose weight and keep it off.

FOR WEDNESDAY, MAY 12, 1976

ARIES (March 21-April 19) If you're careless today and make miscalculations, they could turn out to be rather costly. Move cautiously.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Today it may seem that the harder you try to please, the less you're appreciated. Steer clear of those who'll take you for granted.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) A veiled opportunity could come your way today unexpectedly. You'll have to be exceptionally sharp to recognize it for what it is.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Normally you're not the show-off type. Today you may try to upstage your friends, to call attention to yourself.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Make the most of present opportunities, or they may be suddenly withdrawn. Conditions could well alter rapidly today.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Even though it will be difficult to own up to your mistakes today, do so rather than rationalize. Excuses weaken your image.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) If you borrow something today that the lender prizes, be careful! You have a tendency to be careless with possession of others.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) It's not your nature to be indecisive, but today you may have a problem making up your mind and sticking to it.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Persons who lend a helping hand today can't be expected to do everything for you. In certain areas you must fend for yourself.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) It's good to be optimistic, but today you must be practical, too. Don't build your hopes upon false promises.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You may be depending a bit too heavily on chance and luck to carry you through. They're not allies to be relied upon today.

PISES (Feb. 20-March 20) If someone tells you a tall tale today, don't try to top him. Your friend may get away with a little fib, but you won't.

Milliken's Deficit-Cutting Plan Going To Lawmakers

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — His plan to extend the fiscal year at least temporarily derailed, Gov. William Milliken today planned to send to the legislature his strategy for overcoming a $104 million deficit by drastically cutting state spending. Milliken's staff was to present a $107 million budget reduction to a joint session of the House and Senate appropriations committees as the administration seeks to spur action on an alternative measure in the Senate.

Milliken issues the spending reduction as the Senate continues to balk at a bill extending the fiscal year. The extension, by three months to Sept. 30, is estimated to pick up $104 million.

The bill has passed both chambers, but has twice lost a needed two-thirds vote in the Senate to put it into effect immediately upon the governor's signature. Senate leaders continued to search for the elusive 26 votes as the deadline for Milliken's order approached.

Senate Majority Leader William Fitzgerald, D-Detroit, said Monday night he and other Senate fiscal leaders were exploring another alternative to extending the fiscal year or cutting the budget.

He indicated his idea involved delaying some expenditures from one fiscal year to the next, plus some executive orders on certain expenditures which Milliken controls.

But Fitzgerald refused to detail his proposal until a morning meeting with the governor before the executive order trimming the budget is released.

Both the Senate and House appropriations committees must approve the executive order for it to take effect. And leading lawmakers said there is even less taste for such a drastic cutback than for the gimmickry of extending the fiscal year.

According to Milliken's budget experts, the order would cut school aid by a whopping $67 million — 38 per cent of the June payment of $173.5 million.

Higher education would lose $12.5 million, and Medicaid and Aid to Dependent Children payments would be cut some $5.3 million. State departments would lose most of the remaining $23 million.

Wallace's Michigan Chief Predicts Plurality

By MARY STEVENSON
Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Despite the odds, George Wallace will capture a plurality of Democratic votes in next Tuesday's Michigan presidential primary, predicts Wallace's state campaign manager.

But if he loses to other Democrats as most observers expect, defeat won't end Wallace's career, insists manager Art Cullers of Battle Creek.

"He's been defeated before. He knows how to win and he knows how to lose," Cullers said Monday.

The Alabama governor won Michigan's 1972 Michigan presidential primary with a stunning 51 per cent over such challengers as Sens. Edmund Muskie, George McGovern and Hubert Humphrey.

But most observers feel the crippling injuries from an assassination attempt the day before Michigan's 1972 primary and the diffusion of cross-district busing as an issue has turned the spotlight away from Wallace. Aides in Democratic and Republican camps believe conservative Ronald Reagan will siphon away some Wallace supporters.

Cullers, however, predicts Wallace will win 40 per cent of the vote in Michigan's primary.

But if Wallace loses Michigan and eventually the Democratic presidential nomination, he will rebound, Cullers said. After Wallace lost in Florida, he helped cheer Cullers up, Cullers said. "I think his being active in politics has held him together," Cullers said. "He wants to be president very badly. But his career is not really over if he doesn't get elected president. He'll still be governor for three more years. He definitely has a say in who the next governor will be. He could run for the Senate." Cullers said Wallace "doesn't seem to be a bit bitter" even though polls show the paralysis from the 1972 assassination attempt is why his campaign "has not gone anywhere." Cullers said said Wallace "still thinks that if he hasn't done anything else, he's done a lot for the country. He's changed the politicians from the far left, making them come to our conservative views somewhat."

Wallace was to arrive in Jackson tonight with his wife, Cornelia, for campaigning that will consist mainly of news conferences and meetings with supporters at various airports. There will be only one rally, Friday at 8 p.m. at the Ramada Inn in Romulus.

The reason Wallace won't be going out into Michigan cities to meet people has nothing to do with the 1972 assassination attempt, Cullers added, but is due to a lack of time.

Cullers, 40, who owns a used furniture and antique store, says he first met Wallace in 1972 when he decided to campaign for him.

Since then, Wallace and the Cullers family have grown close. Wallace is godfather of two of Cullers' children — Lurleen, named for the governor's deceased first wife, and George Corley, named after Wallace. The 3-year-old boy will be christened at Battle Creek's airport at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday when Wallace arrives there, Cullers said.

Panel Blasts IRS For Aid To FBI, CIA

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service has abused its unique investigative powers by granting the CIA and FBI illegal access to taxpayer returns, a Senate intelligence committee report says.

According to the report, "the FBI has had free access to tax information for improper purposes," while the CIA regularly bypassed official channels in obtaining IRS data.

The report, released today, added that both the CIA and FBI pressured the IRS to take action against "certain taxpayers for reasons having no bearing upon compliance with the tax laws," the report added.

The 85-page report also detailed the workings of such previously disclosed IRS programs as:

—The Special Services Staff's investigation of 11,000 politically active or dissident individuals and organizations;

—The Information Gathering and Retrieval System — "a glut of largely useless information" on nearly half a million Americans;

—Operation Leprechaun, in which special agents used informants, electronic eavesdropping and break-ins to gather information on the sex and drinking habits of Florida political figures.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Thanks For An Angel

Dear Ann Landers: Recently an 18-year-old girl wrote and asked if she should have an abortion. She said it was not against her religion but was afraid the guilt might haunt her forever. You said, "Don't do it!"

May I say a few words to that young woman and to others who may be struggling with the same decision?

My husband and I were told we would never be able to have a family. We immediately put our names in at two adoption agencies. We waited for two years and were becoming very discouraged. Then we received that wonderful phone call. A young girl was about to deliver in three weeks. She had decided to give up her child for adoption. You should have seen my husband. We went into orbit. It was unreal. I was on Cloud 19. We immediately called in the painters and the paperhangers. The den was turned into a nursery. Our families, friends and neighbors brought gifts. Now all we had to do was wait.

Then the call came. The doctor said we had a beautiful, seven-pound baby girl. After five days of indescribable excitement, we drove to the hospital to pick up our angel. We never saw the mother, which I'm sure was best for all concerned.

I would like to say a word to that courageous young woman. Thank you, dear little mother, for having the maturity and wisdom to give up your child. She has brought real meaning and joy to our lives.

"There will be times when you will wonder how your little girl is getting along, and what life would have been like had you kept her. Let me assure you she is being cared for and loved by a grateful family."

Hopefully you will one day marry and have other children, but the memory of your first-born will always be with you. Please know you will be remembered in our prayers as the most courageous and unselfish person in the world. — No Name, No City, No Initials

Dear Friends: I wonder how many young mothers will wonder if this letter was meant for them. A good many, I hope. Thank you for writing.

ANN LANDERS

I am not at home, nobody ever bothers to tell me. The next day at school, Mary or Bill or Joanie will say, "Why didn't you call me back?" I have to tell them I didn't know they called. This is embarrassing because it looks like nobody in my family cares enough about me to give me a message, which is humiliating and irritating. It also makes me wonder how many good times I have missed out on because of my family's lack of considera-

If you can keep from looking at the East and West hands you should be able to visualize South's problem with today's hand.

He wins the diamond lead with his ace and sees one sure loser each in trumps, spades and diamonds. Is there a potential fourth loser anywhere? There may be a second loser in trumps. Can South do anything to reduce the chance of the second loser?

If trumps are 2-2 there is no problem. If there is a singleton ace and South can lead from the right hand that ace will have to capture some small cards.

So a thinking South leads his king of spades at trick two. West takes his ace which gives him king-queen of diamonds and ace of spades.

He cannot hold the ace of trumps or he would have opened the bidding. When South regains the lead he goes to dummy, leads a low trump and is properly rewarded for his care.

You expect to take six tricks with spades trump and no tricks with any other trump. The hand probably belongs to your opponents and this preempt may disrupt their communications and get them into the wrong contract.

Dr. Lester Coleman

Each year, in the spring, my daughter, 6, develops croup. It absolutely terrifies her and us. Do you think it is a coincidence that it happens at the same time each year?

Dear Mrs. G.: Croup is an inflammation or infection of the lining of the throat, the larynx (windpipe) and the lungs.

This condition occurs most frequently in very young children. As the child grows older, the swelling of the lining of the windpipe usually does not interfere with breathing as before.

Many doctors recognize that this condition tends to occur most frequently in the late winter and early spring. There may be an allergic factor which precipitates the croup.

A virus or streptococcus infection can also produce the thickening of the mucous membrane lining and thus interfere with the normal passage of air into the lungs.

Croup is probably one of the most distressing conditions for the young child; for the parents and for the physician. Fortunately, the severity and the duration of croup have been diminished since the advent of the antibiotics and cortisone.

Steam inhalations are probably the most soothing treatment for difficulty in breathing and for the relief of the barking cough.

Miss R.E., Mass.

Bond Vote Set Sept. 13 At Bridgman

BRIDGMAN — A special election date of Monday, Sept. 13, was set by the Bridgman school board last night on an estimated $2.6 million bond issue to finance construction of a proposed new middle school.

The election date is contingent on approval of the state board of education and is the earliest possible date available to the school board, according to Dr. David Lechner, superintendent. Formal action on the amount is to be taken later.

The 76,490 square foot structure to house a minimum of 450 students would be built on 34 acres of land off California road, one-half mile south of Lake street. The building would replace Reed middle school.

The board approved drawings of the proposed school as submitted by representatives of Daverman and Associates, Grand Rapids architects. It was the first time the board had seen any drawings of the proposed new structure, which had previously been approved by Reed middle school teachers and a citizens advisory committee headed by Mrs. Coy Fortson.

Dr. Lechner has previously stated that the sale of bonds would not result in any significant increase in the district's millage rate.

The board also requested the Bridgman city commission to pass an ordinance allowing the school district to purchase city sewer services for the proposed school.

It has been proposed that three wells would be dug to provide the school's water supply. Dr. Lechner said wells would be cheaper than purchasing water from any municipality.

Dr. Lechner said that if all goes as planned, construction on the new building could start by March, 1977, with possible completion by April, 1978.

In other areas, the board voted to notify the state treasury department that it would file no response concerning a request from Weldun Tool and Engineering Co., Bridgman, for a property tax exemption on the firm's $1 million plant addition because it had no binding say in the consideration.

The state agency has yet to approve the request. It has been approved by the city.

A low bid of $6,444, submitted by Schnell Fence and Supply, Inc., South Bend, Ind., for construction of a fence at the high school, was accepted by the board. The bid was the lowest of five submitted, the board said. The 1,296 1/2-lineal foot fence will divide school property from private property at the north side of the high school campus.

The board voted to continue separate baccalaureate and commencement exercises for graduates after receiving a report on a survey of senior students at the high school. The report said 83 per cent of the seniors polled supported continued separate ceremonies, while the remainder favored a combined program.

WILLIAM RANDALL
Covert superintendent

The board announced that two four-year terms on the school board will be up for election in the annual June school election. The posts are held by Dr. Kenneth Kieft and Robert Roth. Both said they will seek re-election.

Continued membership in the Michigan Association of School boards, at a cost of $469, was approved by the board.

A five-member athletic study committee was appointed by the board president. Named to the committee were Lewis Matthias, board member; Douglas Hendricks, athletic director; students Dale and Nancy Zielke, and a coach to be named later.

DEADLOCK KILLS CONTRACT EXTENSION Covert Superintendent Loses Vote

COVERT — The Covert school board last night deadlocked and thereby defeated a motion to extend for one year the contract of Supt. William Randall.

Defeated in the 2 to 2 deadlock, was a motion to extend Randall's contract until June, 1978. Three board members abstained from the voting.

The current contract of Randall, who came to the district as superintendent in 1974, is due to expire in June, 1977. His 1975-76 salary is $26,000.

The vote came after the board interrupted the meeting with a half hour, closed-door executive session that the superintendent did not attend.

Board members gave no reasons for denying the extension.

Voting for the extension were Board Members Bernard Lucas and Alice Blair. Voting against the extension were Board Members Carl Grigriet and Jerry Foster.

Abstaining from the vote were Board Members Harold Bracken, Donald Quinn and Mrs. Ernestine Kahn.

In a related matter, the board voted to extend for one year, until June, 1978, the contracts of John Young, the junior-senior high school principal, and Alfred Hawkins, the elementary principal.

The contract of Alfred Dowdy, administrative assistant to Randall, was extended for two years, until June, 1978.

Randall said action on administrative salaries for next year is not expected until after teacher salary negotiations are concluded.

In other areas, the board voted to sell seven of its eight portable classrooms at a total price of $35,075. Three were purchased by the Gobles school district, two by Consumers Power company and two by the Apostolic Tabernacle of Benton Harbor.

Randall noted that the new high school would be completed June 1 and the razing of the old high school building would begin June 14.

He said the swimming pool would be available for the summer recreation program.

The board also announced graduation ceremonies will be held in the district's new auditorium which seats 400 people.

Election inspectors appointed for the June 14 annual school election were Mrs. June Parker, Ted Rendell, Mrs. Myrtle Harris, Mrs. Jacqueline Laws, Lloyd Bailey and Mrs. Delores Dandridge.

The board voted to buy $41,000 worth of school supplies from various bidders and voted to join the Michigan Cooperative Purchasing plan which allows the school to buy certain equipment at lower costs through state-sponsored sales.

SJ Builder Sues For $275,000

A St. Joseph contractor has filed suit in Berrien Circuit court against a power tool manufacturer, claiming the contractor lost an eye when the disc in a sander exploded.

The plaintiffs, Duane and Jane Sickels, of 355 South Ridgeway, seek $275,000 damages from the manufacturer, Skil Corp.

The suit contends Sickels was using a Skil disc sander in the spring of 1975 to cut bricks when the disc exploded, with part of the disc going into Sickels' eye, resulting in the loss of the eye. The suit maintains the company was negligent in not designing a guard on the tool to prevent such accidents.

In another circuit court suit, Charles F. Griswold, of Benton Harbor, seeks $150,000 damages for injuries allegedly sustained when he was walking across Water street in Benton Harbor on May 16, 1975, and struck by a car.

Named defendants were Felix Marengo, identified as the driver of the car, and Loren T. Wade, alleged owner of the auto, both of Berrien Springs.

Wolownik Is Named To Council

PAW PAW — Edward P. Wolownik, 46, 625 East Berrien, Paw Paw, was named last night to fill a vacancy on the Paw Paw village council.

Wolownik who will serve on the police and legal committees is employed at Arnold Harvey Ford dealership.

He will fill the unexpired term of Charles F. Smith, village president, who left the post when he was appointed village president.

In other areas, the council denied a request by Dr. Thomas Bennett to rezone a lot at 517 Elm from residential to medical-dental use. Dr. Bennett, a dentist, wanted to convert a house on the lot into an office. Trustees indicated they felt there were other suitable office sites which already had the appropriate zoning.

Council also adopted a no smoking rule for council meetings, and decided to have the old fire station appraised for possible sale.

'Sane Asylums' Are Proposed

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The emotionally upset need "sane asylums" as "a place to go when they're 'worried well,' before they become 'worried sick,'" a Wisconsin psychiatrist says.

"They need a place to retreat and recharge, but don't need to have a nervous breakdown to qualify for entrance," Dr. Darold A. Treffert told a meeting of the American Psychiatric Association Monday.

Milliken's Deficit-Cutting Plan Going To Lawmakers

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — His plan to extend the fiscal year at least temporarily derailed, Gov. William Milliken today planned to send to the legislature his strategy for overcoming a $104 million deficit by drastically

RESIGNS: Jeremy Thorpe, under fire for three months over an alleged homosexual relationship with a former male model, resigned Monday as leader of Britain's Liberal party. Thorpe, 47, has been leader of the Liberal party since Jan. 1967 and a member of Parliament since 1959. (AP Wirephoto) cutting state spending.

Milliken's staff was to present a $107 million budget reduction to a joint session of the House and Senate appropriations committees as the administration seeks to spur action on an alternative measure in the Senate.

Milliken issues the spending reduction as the Senate continues to balk at a bill extending the fiscal year. The extension, by three months to Sept. 30, is estimated to pick up $104 million.

The bill has passed both chambers, but has twice lost a needed two-thirds vote in the Senate to put it into effect immediately upon the governor's signature. Senate leaders continued to search for the elusive 26 votes as the deadline for Milliken's order approached.

Senate Majority Leader William Fitzgerald, D-Detroit, said Monday night he and other Senate fiscal leaders were exploring another alternative to extending the fiscal year or cutting the budget.

He indicated his idea involved delaying some expenditures from one fiscal year to the next, plus some executive orders on certain expenditures which Milliken controls.

But Fitzgerald refused to detail his proposal until a morning meeting with the governor before the executive order trimming the budget is released.

Both the Senate and House appropriations committees must approve the executive order for it to take effect. And leading lawmakers said there is even less taste for such a drastic cutback than for the gimmickry of extending the fiscal year.

According to Milliken's budget experts, the order would cut school aid by a whopping $67 million — 38 per cent of the June payment of $173.5 million.

Higher education would lose $12.5 million, and Medicaid and Aid to Dependent Children payments would be cut some $3.3 million. State departments would lose most of the remaining $23 million.

Wallace's Michigan Chief Predicts Plurality

By MARY STEVENSON
Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Despite the odds, George Wallace will capture a plurality of Democratic votes in next Tuesday's Michigan presidential primary, predicts Wallace's state campaign manager.

But if he loses to other Democrats as most observers expect, defeat won't end Wallace's career. Insists manager Art Cutlers of Battle Creek.

"He's been defeated before. He knows how to win and he knows how to lose," Cutlers said Monday.

The Alabama governor won Michigan's 1972 Michigan presidential primary with a stunning 51 per cent over such challengers as Sens. Edmund Muskie, George McGovern and Hubert Humphrey.

But most observers feel the crippling injuries from an assassination attempt the day before Michigan's 1972 primary and the diffusion of cross-district busing as an issue has turned the spotlight away from Wallace. Aides in Democratic and Republican camps believe conservative Ronald Reagan will siphon away some Wallace supporters.

Cutlers, however, predicts Wallace will win 40 per cent of the vote in Michigan's primary.

But if Wallace loses Michigan and eventually the Democratic presidential nomination, he will rebound, Cutlers said. After Wallace lost in Florida, he helped cheer Cutlers up, Cutlers said. "I think his being active in politics has held him together," Cutlers said. "He wants to be president very badly. But his career is not really over if he doesn't get elected president. He'll still be governor for three more years. He definitely has a say in who the next governor will be. He could run for the Senate." Cutlers said Wallace "doesn't seem to be a bit bitter" even though polls show the paralysis from the 1972 assassination attempt is why his campaign "has not gone anywhere."

Cutlers said said Wallace "still thinks that if he hasn't done anything else, he's done a lot for the country. He's changed the politicians from the far left, making them come in our conservative views somewhat."

Wallace was to arrive in Jackson tonight with his wife, Cornelia, for campaigning that will consist mainly of news conferences and meetings with supporters at various airports. There will be only one rally, Friday at 8 p.m. at the Ramada Inn in Rohnet.

The reason Wallace won't be going out into Michigan cities to meet people has nothing to do with the 1972 assassination attempt, Cutlers added, but is due to a lack of time.

Cutlers, 40, who owns a used furniture and antique store, says he first met Wallace in 1972 when he decided to campaign for him.

Since then, Wallace and the Cutlers family have grown close. Wallace is godfather of two of Cutlers' children — Lurleen, named for the governor's deceased first wife, and George Corley, named after Wallace. The 3-year-old boy will be christened at Battle Creek's airport at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday when Wallace arrives there, Cutlers said.

Panel Blasts IRS For Aid To FBI, CIA

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service has abused its unique investigative powers by granting the CIA and FBI illegal access to taxpayer returns, a Senate intelligence committee report says.

According to the report, "the FBI has had free access to tax information for improper purposes," while the CIA regularly bypassed official channels in obtaining IRS data.

The report, released today, added that both the CIA and FBI pressured the IRS to take action against "certain taxpayers for reasons having no bearing upon compliance with the tax laws," the report added.

The 85-page report also detailed the workings of such previously disclosed IRS programs as:

—The Special Services Staff's investigation of 11,000 politically active or dissident individuals and organizations;

—The Information Gathering and Retrieval System — "a glut of largely useless information" on nearly half a million Americans;

—Operation Leprechaun, in which special agents used informants, electronic eavesdropping and break-ins to gather information on the sex and drinking habits of Florida political figures.

Milliken Hopes To Pinch Pennies With 'Sunset Law'

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The governor and his budget director are studying the idea of putting expiration dates on some state programs to force pen-pinching reviews at budget time.

"We've looked at it. We have talked about the issue. I think it does have merit," Gerald Miller, director of the Department of Management and Budget, said Monday.

He said the proposal was discussed "in the context of certain regulatory agencies that go on and on forever."

Meanwhile, House Minority Leader Dennis Cawthorne, R-Manistee, called a news conference Monday and said he will ask Milliken to appoint a task force to study the idea, called a "sunset law," after the fiscal 1976-1977 budget is passed.

Under a sunset law, state programs would have expiration dates tied to the budget-passing process. When the expiration date approached, the programs would be reviewed, and the legislature would either let the programs lapse, or renew them.

Colorado is the only state that currently has such a law, and Miller said he does not know the specifics of how it works.

Miller said that if the state enacted the idea, it should not apply to all state programs. Things like bond payments, personnel offices, purchasing operations, and motor transport, for example, should be exempt, he said.

But human services programs in the departments of Mental Health, Corrections, and Social Services — including general assistance and aid to dependent children — should be included, he said.

"I wouldn't exempt them. You need to look at the issue. There may be a better way to achieve the objectives."

DELAY IS URGED

WASHINGTON (AP) — Broadcasters and television set manufacturers are urging the Federal Communications Commission to delay approval of a proposed system that would allow persons with impaired hearing to read captions telling what is spoken on television.

Liberal Democrat Begins A 'Free Liddy' Campaign

OXON HILL, Md. (AP) — James A. Gavin had no trouble enlisting a neighbor to be editor of the Indian Queen Elementary School PTA newsletter. Only one thing might get in the way, the neighbor said. "I might have to go back to prison."

That was 1½ years ago.

The neighbor, G. Gordon Liddy, did go back to prison to serve the longest term of any of the 58 men convicted of a Watergate or Watergate-related crime.

Gavin, who calls himself a liberal Democrat, said Monday he thinks Liddy has been a prisoner far too long and his five children are suffering because of it.

Gavin is heading a petition drive to get him out.

He first tried the idea on 75 people. "Maybe two of the 75 said they would sign such a petition," he said. Of the others, "One said he never signed anything, another said they ought to throw away the key."

Liddy was the architect and field marshal of the Watergate break-in. U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica sentenced him to six to 20 years for his role and another 18 months for his obstinate silence before the grand jury. He has now served three years and is not eligible for a parole hearing until May 1981.

"I lived in the neighborhood for eight years and never knew the Liddys," says Gavin, assistant director of the Washington office of Tenneco. "But our children play on the same teams — baseball, basketball, Boys' Club. The baseball coach had a swimming party for the team. I ducked one of the Liddy boys and the kid stuck to me like a praying mantis. He was so hungry for attention."

Gavin was elected president of the PTA. One day, while Liddy was out on appeal, Gavin saw him in his backyard. Later, he telephoned Liddy, asked him to serve on the PTA executive committee and got his agreement to edit the newsletter.

"We were supposed to meet on Wednesday," Gavin recalled. "But he was returned to prison on Monday."

Liddy asked Sirica to reduce the sentence. The judge refused. Liddy appealed. The U.S. Court of Appeals turned him down. Now he has a petition pending before the Supreme Court, claiming his sentence is disproportionately higher than that of six break-in co-defendants.

Gavin said he got Mrs. Liddy's enthusiastic okay for the petition drive and talked it over with Liddy in the Danbury, Conn., prison.

His petition asks President Ford to commute the sentence.

"Mr. Liddy, for his part in the Watergate break-in, has been incarcerated for over three years," the document says. "We feel that this separation from his wife and five young children has been painfully adequate punishment for the nature of his involvement."

Liddy and his lieutenant, E. Howard Hunt, are the only Watergate convicts still in prison.

Politics Charged In Italy Quake Relief

UDINE, Italy (AP) — Premier Aldo Moro charged Monday night that critics of the Christian Democrats' handling of earthquake relief in northeast Italy were trying to make political capital in the June 20 national election.

"Partisan speculations and unrestrained polemics are in striking contrast with the gravity of the hour that the fatherland is living through," the caretaker premier said in a nationwide telecast.

Moro made his broadcast in answer to criticism of the government's relief efforts by newspapers, survivors of the disaster and a Communist party delegation touring the quake area. Late Monday night the cabinet appropriated $140 million to begin the rebuilding of homes, public buildings and industrial facilities destroyed or damaged by the killer quake last Thursday.

Officials said 914 bodies have been recovered, and 400 persons were still missing. However, many of the bodies had not been identified, and there was speculation that these were among the missing. Estimates of the homeless started at 80,000.

The chief of the Communist delegation touring the area, Alessandro Natta, accused the government of "delays, disorganization and inefficiency ... typical of the methods and instruments of the state machinery."

Leftist papers said much of the relief effort was chaotic. Considerable disorganization was evident.

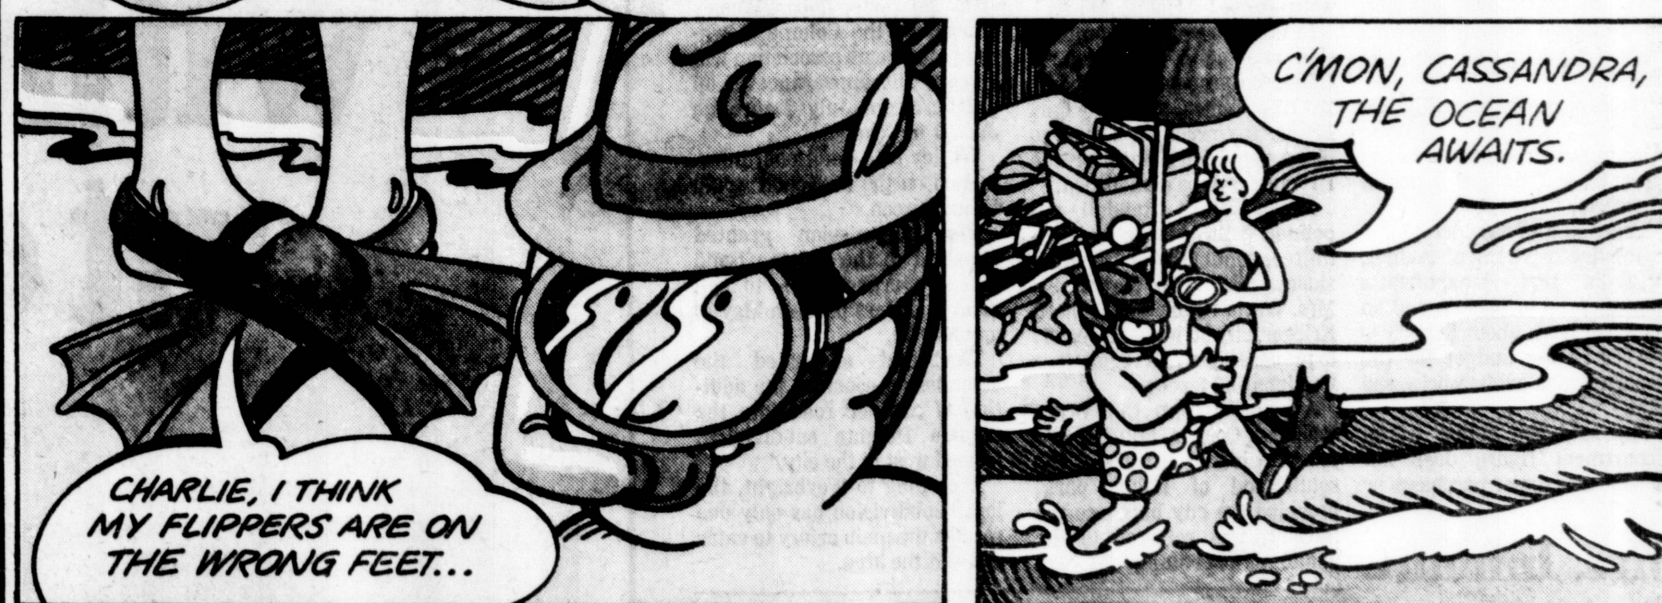

Survivors complained particularly about conditions in tent camps organized by the Interior Ministry. They said things were better in camps run by the army.

Short Buchanan Bridges Fail Aid Test

BUCHANAN — The Buchanan city commission was informed last night that two city bridges are too short to qualify for state and federal grants to help pay for replacing them.

The commission received a letter from the state highways department rejecting the city's application for $70,000 in aid to help replace both Oak street bridges. The letter said bridges less than 20 feet long do not qualify.

Both bridges were found to be in need of immediate replacement following an inspection a year ago of all the bridges crossing McCoy's creek and the mill-race. Nine other bridges are in varying needs of repairs, according to City Manager Robert Faulhaber.

Noting that some of those bridges may be longer than 20 feet, the commissioners voted to ask the highways department to send an engineer to Buchanan to measure them.

In other areas, there were no objections during a public hearing on the proposed $948,275 budget for the 1976-77 fiscal year. It calls for the city's property tax levy next year to be set at 14 mills. The 1975 property tax levy was 12.5 mills.

City Manager Robert Faulhaber said the 1.5 mill tax hike was recommended to cover a loss of revenue caused by a $14.3 million decrease in the city's state equalized valuation (SEV) and to offset higher operating expenses caused by inflation.

application for federal community development funds, it was noted the city will apply for a total of $137,000.

Leslie Cripps, head of the Berrien Springs consulting firm, Cripps and Associates, said the total includes $70,500 to be used for loans to low-income property owners for rehabilitation, $50,000 for public works, and $16,500 for administration. Cripps' firm has contracted to prepare the grant application and administer the grant if it is approved.

The application must be submitted to the federal department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) by June 15, Cripps said.

The board tabled a funding request from the Greater Niles-Buchanan Committee on Aging. The committee sought $590 from the city's general fund and $703 in revenue sharing money to help pay for services it provides area senior citizens.

The board passed a resolution naming the 16-acre nature preserve on River street Spafford Woods. The name is in memory of Mr. and Mrs. L.B. Spafford who deeded the land to the city.

The board approved requests from both the VFW and the American Legion to hold poppy sale days. The VFW will sell poppies May 13-15 and the

Coloma Budget Up; Tax Rate Is Same

COLOMA — The Coloma city commission last night adopted a 1976-77 general operating budget of $503,374, about $44,508 higher than the 1975-76 budget of $458,865.

The new budget for the fiscal year that began April 1 will not require a boost in the city's tax rate of 16 mills, according to Mrs. Patricia Beezley, the city clerk.

The increases are generally due to higher across-the-board costs of operating the city, she added.

Improvements covered by the budget include paving Washington street, a new Logan street bridge and sealcoating of 11 streets.

There is a $4,000 increase in the police department budget, bringing that department's allocation up to $63,813, and an increase from about $12,000 to $36,000 in the budget for the department of public works, she said.

She said the public works department figure does not include new major purchases or work, but is a reflection of more accurate projections about departmental costs.

In the past, she said, the department has run heavily in the red at the end of the year because of underestimated costs.

The commission also approved separately a water and sewer budget pegged at $138,395, up from the $116,745 water-sewer budget of 1975-76.

In other areas, the commission adopted a resolution to condemn property, located at 130 West Center, owned by Carl Moser. The owner has 60 days to make required repairs or the structure will be demolished.

Mayor Glenn Randall appointed a three-member committee, comprised of Commissioners William Weybright, Mrs. Wavia Noack and Richard Krieger, city building inspector, to prepare rules and regulations for signs and fences.

A request from Cub Scout Pack 664, Coloma, offering free labor to install flowers at the south end of Baker park, provided the city purchase the flowers, was referred to the public works committee.

The commission approved mowing Little League baseball diamonds, located near the Salem Lutheran church, using volunteer city help.

The commission approved the purchase of a new photocopy machine, from St. Johns Office Equipment, South Bend, for $2,500 and four separate low bids, totaling $1,420, for city hall interior remodeling.

Commissioner Robert Wooley announced the Coloma Downtown Merchants association will sponsor the appearance of an Artrain from July 7 through July 11 in Coloma.

Wooley said additional information on the attraction would be made soon.

The commission granted approval to the Coloma Band Boosters organization to sell band calendars between May 10 and May 24.

Weybright suggested the commission consider the addition of another road into the Coloma Heights subdivision, located west of the city.

According to Weybright, the large subdivision has only one road as the main artery to enter and exit the area.

Mrs. Inman Won't Seek Re-Election

COLOMA — Mrs. Ronald (Lauralee) Inman, Coloma school board member, announced last night she would not seek a board position in the annual school election June 14.

Mrs. Inman, 37, stated the reason for not seeking a board seat was based on the "uncertainty of her continued residence in the school district."

The announcement followed the regular monthly school board meeting.

Mrs. Inman was appointed to the board Oct. 27 to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Marian Priebe, after Mrs. Priebe resigned from the board.

Mrs. Inman resides at 2725 East Park Lane, Benton Harbor.

Milliken Hopes To Pinch Pennies With 'Sunset Law'

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The governor and his budget director are studying the idea of putting expiration dates on some state programs to force penny-pinching reviews at budget time.

"We've looked at it. We have talked about the issue. I think it does have merit," Gerald Miller, director of the Department of Management and Budget, said Monday.

He said the proposal was discussed "in the context of certain regulatory agencies that go on and on forever."

Meanwhile, House Minority Leader Dennis Cawthorne, R-Manistee, called a news conference Monday and said he will ask Milliken to appoint a task force to study the idea, called a "sunset law," after the fiscal 1976-1977 budget is passed.

Under a sunset law, state programs would have expiration dates tied to the budget-passing process. When the expiration date approached, the programs would be reviewed, and the legislature would either let the programs lapse, or renew them.

Colorado is the only state that currently has such a law, and Miller said he does not know the specifics of how it works.

Miller said that if the state enacted the idea, it should not apply to all state programs. Things like bond payments, personnel offices, purchasing operations, and motor transport, for example, should be exempt, he said.

But human services programs in the departments of Mental Health, Corrections, and Social Services — including general assistance and aid to dependent children — should be included, he said.

"I wouldn't exempt them. You need to look at the issue. There may be a better way to achieve the objectives," he said.

He said that any sunset law the state enacts would have to be written to make sure there is enough lead time to prevent people who depend on certain state programs from being left high and dry and to avoid chaos with programs grinding to indefinite halts.

Miller said he doesn't think that all programs should expire in the same year but favors a staggered approach, with a certain number set to expire in any given year.

Cawthorne suggested that in Michigan the process could be staggered so that each year 20 per cent of the state's programs would be set to expire.

The legislative fiscal agencies and the auditor general could study the programs' effectiveness, and the legislature could then decide whether or not to renew the programs, he said.

ARMY MEAT INSPECTORS TELL OF BRIBES FROM PACKERS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army meat inspectors learned to steal, took bribes and were furnished with the services of prostitutes to assure that they would not "hassle" packers who were selling the Pentagon inferior meat at sirloin prices, according to testimony before a Senate panel.

Sen. Lawton Chiles, D-Fla., chairman of the Senate Government Operations subcommittee on federal spending practices, said at Monday's hearing that lack of discipline, fraternization between officers and enlisted personnel and lack of training for military inspectors resulted in a "rotten" military meat procurement system.

Edward Kehl, former supervisor for the now-defunct G & G Packing Co. of Boston, testified Monday that the firm regularly filled army orders for choice beef with lower priced upgraded meat and substituted tough cuts for tender.

Kehl agreed with a calculation by Chiles that the substitution of knuckle for sirloin tip butts by G&G could have resulted in illegal profits of up to $192,000 a day.

He said young, inexperienced

Army meat inspectors never detected the substitution because of the way the meat was cut.

Kehl said knuckle was substituted for sirloin, worth $2.40 a pound more, in 50 per cent of Army steak orders from G&G. He said the firm also sent knuckle to Blue Ribbon Frozen Foods of Hamden, Conn., to fill that firm's Army contracts.

Both New England meat processing firms, now closed, were owned by Harry and Frank Goldberg.

Charles Reidinger, former army supervising inspector in the Boston area, testified that Harry Goldberg started paying him $200 a month in the fall of 1974 and later raised it to $400.

And Reidinger said Frank

Goldberg furnished him with prostitutes about 10 times over a 10-month period.

Spec. 4 Nadja Hoyer-Booth, appearing in Army uniform, testified that she was assigned to beef inspection at G&G in the summer of 1974 at age 18 after only a day or two of schooling in beef inspection.

She said she was taught to steal meat by a fellow inspector and that she received such things as football and airplane tickets, weekend trips, clothing and perfume from the G&G manager and his assistant.

Specialist Hoyer-Booth said "they were my friends" and that they "never asked me to look the other way." Yet, she said, she "knew I wasn't doing a proper inspection job."

Coors Is Suing Korr's

DETROIT (AP) — Competition among brewers is common, but the makers of Colorado's popular Coors beer say those making the new Korr's brand have gone too far.

The Adolph Coors Co. of Golden, Colo., filed suit in federal court Monday, asking that the makers of Michigan's Korr's beer be kept from playing on the Coors name.

U.S. District Court Judge Cornelia Kennedy issued a temporary restraining order Monday granting the suit's demands and scheduled a hearing next week. It could not be determined what effect the order will have on the new brand.

Korr's, made by Geyer Bros. Brewing Co. of Frankenmuth and distributed by Korr's Beer Distributing Ltd. of Novi, a Detroit suburb, made its debut last month. Aside from the name, the Korr's label is similar to the Coors label, the suit claims.

The suit charges Korr's with trademark infringement in the name, advertising, and the label on the new Michigan brew.

In addition, the suit claims Korr's has infringed because it is billed as "America's Lightest and Finest Beer," while Coors has for years called itself "America's Fine Light Beer."

The suit asks Korr's be barred from using any names, advertising, labels or other gimmicks similar to those established by Coors, plus costs.

Korr's spokesmen said they chose the name because their brand is made from the core of the hops.

Female Officer's Trail Set

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Jury selection is scheduled to begin Wednesday for the trial of a black policewoman charged with shooting her white, male partner in a gun battle.

Twenty-year-old Madeline Fletcher will be tried in Genesee County Circuit Court on a charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm. The charges stem from a shootout last December over whether she or 34-year-old Walter Kalberer would drive their patrol car. Both officers were wounded in the exchange of gunfire.

Miss Fletcher's attorney, Kenneth Cockrel of Detroit, says he will argue the policewoman acted in self defense because she had been subjected to a pattern of racial and sexual discrimination in the Flint police department.

Genesee County Prosecutor Robert Leonard said shortly after the incident he was "fairly convinced" racial attitudes were involved in the conflict. However, the police chief has said it was a dispute between two officers and neither sex nor race was an issue.

Miss Fletcher was among 16 black women hired by the Flint police department in 1974 under an affirmative action program.

Kalberer, a former Marine, is a nine-year veteran of the force. He told superiors he opposed having women ride in squad cars and submitted a written request that he not be assigned a female partner. The request was denied.

ConRail. How it plans to turn a losing proposition into a profitable business.

On April 1, six struggling railroads became a single, more efficient railroad, stretching from Boston to St. Louis.

Purpose: to give customers first-class service and become self-supporting. It's not going to be easy. But we do have a better way to run a railroad.

CONRAIL started business on the heels of an economic disaster. The six railroads we took over were all bankrupt. In fact, they were losing money at the rate of more than $1 million a day. Taxpayers had to make up the loss.

What's more, service was often slow and inefficient. Shippers were being hurt. And ultimately, so were consumers, since transportation charges are part of a product's price.

Our job is to turn that situation around—provide fast, efficient service and earn a profit.

But why should we succeed when the six railroads we took over went bankrupt? The answer starts with who we are and how we differ from other railroads.

An emphasis on freight

Working under contract to various agencies, ConRail provides tracks and operating personnel for certain passenger trains.

But our main business is hauling freight. That makes us different from Amtrak, which is responsible for intercity passenger service.

The distinction is important. The way things are today, it is practically impossible to earn a profit on rail passenger service. Hauling freight is different. A railroad can make money doing that, if it runs efficiently and offers good service.

Which is exactly what we intend to do. A big chunk of America is counting on us. Our 17,000 miles of track service an area with 100 million people and 55 percent of America's manufacturing plants.

We've got to make it work. And compared with our predecessors, we have a lot more to work with.

Old problems attacked head on

The bankrupt railroads had to watch roadbeds and equipment deteriorate for lack of money. This slowed service and increased damage costs.

They had to absorb losses from commuter lines. And from unprofitable freight lines.

And, in some areas, they didn't have enough flexibility in assigning employees.

As you'll see at right, the legislation that created ConRail attacks each of these major problems.

Billions to improve roadbeds and equipment

In creating ConRail, Congress authorized the purchase of $2.1 billion in ConRail securities.

Importantly, this money comes as an investment that we are legally obligated to pay back.

We'll use the money (as well as more billions from ConRail revenues) to build a better railroad.

Examples: We'll replace over 4 million ties and from 700 to 1300 miles of track. We'll also repair 12,000 freight cars and 725 locomotives. And we'll do all of that every year for the next 10 years. This will mean fewer damage claims, faster freight service—and higher earnings.

Unprofitable lines no longer a burden

Some freight lines that can't be run at a profit have already been dropped.

Others will be kept running if ConRail is compensated for the difference between revenues and the cost of operation. The compensation would come from the Federal Government and the states that want to keep the lines operating.

A similar arrangement applies to commuter lines.

Support from the unions

The unions want ConRail to succeed, and have already agreed to more flexibility in assigning employees.

C. J. Chamberlain, Chairman of the Railway Labor Executives Association, said:

"The interest of the labor brotherhoods and the nation will be best served if ConRail becomes a strong viable company. We in labor will do everything we can to help ConRail reach that goal."

Better service to customers

From Day One, we've had faster run-through service. Example: We've lopped 14 hours off some shipments from New York to Chicago.

We've cut the number of people that shippers have to deal with—from as many as three down to one.

We've also got a huge data processing operation. Which means we can tell a customer, within minutes, exactly where his cars are. At any time. Any day of the week.

A better way to run a railroad

ConRail blankets sixteen states with 17,000 miles of track.

Better use of cars, plus other efficiencies, should bring our cost savings to about $300 million by 1980.

Basic growth in freight volume should bring us additional revenues of $341.5 million by 1985.

On that basis, our objective is to start making a profit by 1980.

We aren't promising miracles. We can't offset decades of neglect overnight.

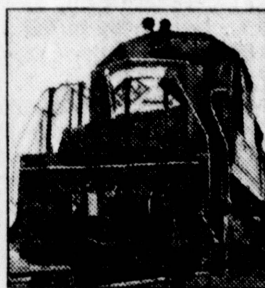

But we do have a better way to run a railroad.

Short Buchanan Bridges Fail Aid Test

BUCHANAN — The Buchanan city commission was informed last night that two city bridges are too short to qualify for state and federal grants to help pay for replacing them.

The commission received a letter from the state highways department rejecting the city's application for $70,000 in aid to help replace both Oak street bridges. The letter said bridges less than 20 feet long do not qualify.

Both bridges were found to be in need of immediate replacement following an inspection a year ago of all the bridges crossing McCoy's creek and the mill-race. Nine other bridges are in varying needs of repairs, according to City Manager Robert Faulhaber.

Noting that some of those

In other areas, there were no objections during a public hearing on the proposed $948,275 budget for the 1976-77 fiscal year. It calls for the city's property tax levy next year to be set at 14 mills. The 1975 property tax levy was 12.5 mills.

City Manager Robert Faulhaber said the 1.5 mill tax hike was recommended to cover a loss of revenue caused by a $14.3 million decrease in the city's state equalized valuation (SEV) and to offset higher operating expenses caused by inflation.

In 1975, the city's SEV was $50,791,168. The proposed budget places the 1976 SEV at $36,445,767.

Even with the 1.5 mill increase, local tax revenue is estimated to drop from $634,890 in 1975 to $505,138 this year, according to Faulhaber.

The budget is to be presented for adoption May 24.

In another public hearing called to consider the city's application for federal community development funds, it was noted the city will apply for a total of $137,000.

Leslie Cripps, head of the Berrien Springs consulting firm, Cripps and Associates, said the total includes $70,300 to be used for loans to low-income property owners for rehabilitation, $50,000 for public works, and $16,500 for administration. Cripps' firm has contracted to prepare the grant application and administer the grant if it is approved.

The application must be submitted to the federal department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) by June 15, Cripps said.

The board tabled a funding request from the Greater Niles-Buchanan Committee on Aging. The committee sought $590 from the city's general fund and $793 in revenue sharing money to help pay for services it provides area senior citizens.

The board passed a resolution naming the 18-acre nature preserve on River street Spafford Woods. The name is in memory of Mr. and Mrs. L.B. Spafford who deeded the land to the city.

The board approved requests from both the VFW and the American Legion to hold poppy sale days. The VFW will sell poppies May 13-15 and the legion will sell them May 20-22. The board approved the appointment of Robert Powers to the zoning board of appeals.

The board approved a proclamation declaring May 8-15 as national police week in Buchanan. The city flag is to be flown at half mast May 15 in memory of police officers killed in the line of duty.

The board tabled a request from high school student John Dineley who asked that the city charter be changed to allow partisan elections for city offices to stimulate voter interest in the electoral process.

Doiney, who served as mayor during yesterday's student government day, was told the request would be considered again during next year's student government day.

Coloma Budget Up; Tax Rate Is Same

COLOMA — The Coloma city commission last night adopted a 1976-77 general operating budget of $503,374, about $44,508 higher than the 1975-76 budget of $458,865.

The new budget for the fiscal year that began April 1 will not require a boost in the city's tax rate of 16 mills, according to Mrs. Patricia Beezley, the city clerk.

The increases are generally due to higher across-the-board costs of operating the city, she added.

Improvements covered by the budget include paving Washington street, a new Logan street bridge and sealing of 11 streets.

There is a $4,000 increase in the police department budget, bringing that department's allocation up to $63,513, and an increase from about $12,000 to $36,000 in the budget for the department of public works, she said.

She said the public works department figure does not include new major purchases or work, but is a reflection of more accurate projections about departmental costs.

In the past, she said, the department has run heavily in the red at the end of the year because of underestimated costs.

The commission also approved separately a water and sewer budget pegged at $138,395, up from the $116,745 water-sewer budget of 1975-76.

In other areas, the commission adopted a resolution to condemn property, located at 130 West Center, owned by Carl Moser. The owner has 60 days to make required repairs or the structure will be demolished.

Mayor Glenn Randall appointed a three-member committee, comprised of Commissioners William Weybright, Mrs. Wavia Noack and Richard Krieger, city building inspector, to prepare rules and regulations for signs and fences.

A request from Cub Scout Pack 684, Coloma, offering free labor to install flowers at the south end of Baker park, provided the city purchase the flowers, was referred to the public works committee.

The commission approved moving Little League baseball diamonds, located near the Salem Lutheran church, using volunteer city help.

The commission approved the purchase of a new photocopy machine, from St. Johns Office Equipment, South Bend, for $2,500 and four separate law bids, totaling $1,420, for city hall interior remodeling.

Commissioner Robert Wooley announced the Coloma Downtown Merchants association will sponsor the appearance of an Arttrain from July 7 through July 11 in Coloma.

Wooley said additional information on the attraction would be made soon.

The commission granted approval to the Coloma Band Boosters organization to sell band calendars between May 10 and May 24.

Weybright suggested the commission consider the addition of another road into the Coloma Heights subdivision, located west of the city.

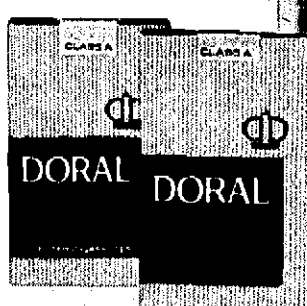

According to Weybright, the large subdivision has only one road as the main artery to enter and exit the area.

Mrs. Inman Won't Seek Re-Election

COLOMA — Mrs. Ronald (Lauralee) Inman, Coloma school board member, announced last night she would not seek a board position in the annual school election June 14.

Mrs. Inman, 37, stated the reason for not seeking a board seat was based on the "uncertainty of her continued residence in the school district."

The announcement followed the regular monthly school board meeting.

Mrs. Inman was appointed to the board Oct. 27 to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Marian Priebe, after Mrs. Priebe resigned from the board.

Mrs. Inman resides at 2725 East Park Lane, Benton Harbor.

BANGOR OKAYS $129,000 FOOTBALL STADIUM

BY DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

BANGOR — The Bangor school board last night approved construction of a horseshoe-shaped football stadium west of the district's new middle school here. The stadium is to cost $129,000 and have seating for 2,800 spectators. According to the plan, the field will be below ground level through excavation at the base of three hills. Seats on the concrete stadium will be aluminum and the stadium will be fully lighted. An all-weather track will circle the field.

Board action came in a 5 to 1 vote. Mrs. Mildred Royal cast the dissenting vote because of the costs compared to other alternatives for a field. Voting for the plan were Clara Singer, George Denny, Otto Watkins, Peggy Phillips and Harold Wright. Dr. Frederick Durham abstained.

Other plans discussed by the board included one for an open field with steel bleachers and wooden seats at a cost of $49,500; a field with steel bleachers and aluminum seats at $62,000; and another alternate of the concrete stadium approach with wooden seats at a cost of $123,500.

Among the advantages listed for the new stadium were that it would be warmer because there would be less wind effect because of the "sunken bowl" shape. Board members also said it would cut down on the number of youngsters and others watching the game through the fence, and eliminate a horseplay and other problems inherent under normal bleachers.

The project is to be financed from a $4.1 million bond issue approved by district voters for a school building program in 1974. In a related area, the board voted to enlarge the concession stand planned for the stadium to include restrooms at an additional cost of $8,500. Mrs. Royal said that in order to compensate for the extra expense, $10,000 planned to light tennis courts which will be part of the athletic complex, has been eliminated from the budget.

The board also voted to proceed with a normal full day schedule of classes beginning next fall. Students are now on split sessions, attending classes five hours per day. Mrs. Royal said a new middle school, which was also part of the 1974 bond issue, is expected to be completed in August, and that no new school buses will be needed for the full day sessions. She also indicated the board plans to retain the same number of teachers now employed. There was also some discussion by the board and persons attending the meeting last night on which classes will be housed in which buildings next fall, but no action was taken.

The board also approved accepting students from the Wood district on a tuition basis. The Wood district is the county's last K-8 rural school system. Older students from the district now attend Eau Claire high school on a tuition basis.

Mrs. Royal said the move was made in light of the fact that Bangor's enrollment has dropped by 140 students over the last four years. The board also approved Monday, June 14, for the annual school election. Two four-year terms, now held by Wright and Denny, will be up for election.

A motion that would have required all job openings in the district to be advertised two weeks before anyone was hired in a weekly Bangor newspaper and with announcements at the post office and superintendent's office, was tabled. The motion came about during discussion of how summer teacher aide jobs under the federal Title I program were filled. Mrs. Royal said several college students had called about the jobs, complaining they were limited to students who will be high school seniors in the fall.

Fred Stap, administrative assistant, said the age requirement was a recommendation of a parent's advisory committee of the intermediate district. Referring to the motion, he said he knew of no instances where hirings were not first advertised in the paper. The board did approve two other policies. One states that all hiring or firing of a school district employee must be done directly by the board. The other calls for competitive bidding on any item over $500.

50 per cent minority work force, but the city commission never took action on the proposal.

The resolution approved last night does not state companies must have an affirmative action program to do business with the city. But Joseph said the minority employment question should play a part in the city's acceptance of bids for a project.

Joseph composed the resolution after noting the city's bill list contained a number of businesses he said did not carry out an affirmative action program.

Only Commissioner Charles Yarbrough voted against the resolution saying more time should be spent studying the resolution. Joseph and Commissioners Helen Ford, Edmund Eaman, Arnold Bolin, Charles Shepherd, Alfred Williams and Winston Minott voted for the measure. Commissioner Barbara Huckaby was absent for the third consecutive week.

Reappointed to the city planning commission last night were Dr. Thomas Woodford and Ed Troffer, planning commission chairman. Rev. Rodney Gully, of 580 Empire avenue, was appointed a new member of the planning commission, replacing Rev. T.N. Wilkins who resigned recently. Jesse Pearl Davis was appointed to a seat on the city cemetery board, filling a vacancy left by the resignation of Otis Joseph.

Giving Schools A Break

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken says he will not ask Michigan school districts to absorb a million loss in the next fiscal year even though the value of Michigan property taxes was miscalculated. The state Tax Commission has reported that total State Equalized Valuation for Michigan will fall 2 per cent short of original estimates. Milliken said Monday this will mean the state's income will fall $30 million short of the amount anticipated. "I am preparing a special communication to the legislature in which I will detail my recommendations for state action to cope with this problem," Milliken said. He also urged the legislature to continue trying to balance this year's budget.

Statement In Double Slaying

DETROIT (AP) — An off-duty Detroit policeman has admitted killing 19-year-old twin brothers, saying the pair tried to assault him and take his gun away. Officer James Murphy, 27, has been suspended from duty pending the outcome of an investigation into the deaths of Kim and Keith Crowell, of Detroit. Murphy has been on the force for about a year. In a statement to police, Murphy said he was walking his dog in a park at about 2 a.m. Monday when the twins appeared and began shouting questions and obscenities at him. Murphy, who was wearing a jacket over his uniform, said the pair tried to grab his holster. He said he thought they were going for his gun, so he pulled the .44 Magnum and fired six shots. Police said the twins were shot several times with Murphy's revolver. They were not armed, police said.

Utility Information Request

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state Public Service Commission has asked Michigan's major electric utilities to provide more information on expected demand when they file for rate increases. The commission said information required of Consumers Power Co. and Detroit Edison under current filing rules "indicated a need for modification to further improve the quality and usefulness of the information." Among the new information required will be projections of the growth of electric power demand for 10 years, future construction plans, financial resources for such expansion, the impact of environmental regulations and 10-year management objectives and company goals.

More Metrics In Schools

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan schools will see a wholesale shift to the metric system this fall under guidelines from the state Board of Education, the state's top education official said Monday. John Porter, state superintendent of public instruction, said meters, liters and grams will become commonplace in math and science classes this fall under "metric education guidelines" to be made available by the board. In a "metric week" statement, Porter said all math and science textbooks sold in Michigan after June will be required to contain the metric system as the "dominant form of measurement." The state board also will provide a "metric trunk" containing metric teaching aids such as measuring cups, scales and rulers to each of the state's 22 regional education media centers. The centers will make them available to local school districts.

cautious." Shaller said the water that leaked was used in reactor cooling.

It was the first report of a leakage at Indiana & Michigan Electric company's Cook plant since it began commercial production of electricity in August, 1975. Last month, the plant was given authority by the Nuclear Regulatory Agency to operate at 945,000 kilowatts, 90 per cent of capacity after previously producing at 81 per cent.

Unit II is not yet producing electricity. The construction worker at Unit II who wouldn't give his name told The Herald-Palladium this morning that notice of the trouble got around by "word of mouth" and "we didn't know what to do."

He said some workers milled around outside and others left the plant as there was general confusion.

Shaller said the leakage was so small no general alarm was necessary.

Plant officials said today that the release of radioactivity was so small that a person standing next to the reactor vent would suffer no ill effects if exposed to the same radiation daily for 20 years.

He said the shooting remains under investigation.

independents. "With the Democratic race being over for all practical purposes (Jimmy Carter leads by a wide margin)," Griffin said, "a lot of those independents in small cities and the suburban belt around Detroit are going to focus on the Republican primary."

Ford will spend Wednesday campaigning in the Detroit suburbs.

The whistle-stop train campaign was suggested by Griffin, Gov. William Milliken and state GOP Chairman William McLaughlin, who said they hoped it would remind voters of former President Harry S. Truman. Although Truman was a Democrat, Ford is a fond admirer of the former President.

Due in the state today for a five-day visit is Morris Udall, who is scheduled to spend most of the afternoon in Detroit and then head for Lansing, where he will spend the night after a busy evening. Carter also plans to make a campaign stop in the state on Thursday.

Bangor Orders Water Rate Study

BANGOR — The Bangor city council last night ordered a study of city water rates as a prelude to a possible water rate increase.

The city boosted rates in 1973 to help pay off $455,000 in bonds sold to finance water line and water tower construction that year. But Norma Sutherby, city clerk, said escalating costs have made it increasingly difficult to pay off bonds and maintain water services, and an increase in water rates is being studied by the council. The minimum quarterly fee is presently $15 for 1,000 cubic feet of water.

The city's engineering firm, Alpha Engineering of South Haven, is to make the water rate study.

In other areas, the council set the summer tax rate at 17 mills; the same as last year, and revealed the city's tax base this year is $6,906,804, up from last year's $5,799,500.

The council also adopted ordinances that prohibit parking on the west side of Railroad street, from Charles to Monroe street (one block), and from parking on the east side of Walnut street, from Charles to Monroe streets (one block).

The council introduced two ordinances on which formal action will be taken at its May 24 meeting. One proposes putting stop signs at Country Meadows and Arlington Apartment roads, where they meet Arlington road.

The other provides for removal or demolition of unsafe or dangerous buildings, with the owner to pay for removing and storing any equipment in the condemned building.

Mrs. Sutherby announced that as part of Michigan Week, the city this coming Saturday will hold an open house of all its departments.

The council also voted last night to revoke the city operating license of James Webb who operates Jimmy's Rock, a youth recreation spot on High street, about four blocks from the city's business district. Complaints about alleged illegal drug activities at the teen center triggered the revocation vote, Mrs. Sutherby said.

The revocation is to be effective at midnight, May 28, the city clerk said.

financial condition — both present and projected — as the most serious problem facing the city. He said there is a "heavy reliance on the federal dollar" and that short-term solutions such as borrowing from pension funds "at some point come home."

The McManus report was authorized by the city commission Feb. 23 at a cost of $27,500 and Casey said last night that the complete report would be available in printed form no later than the first week in June.

Among criticisms in the report were:

— While the "primary purpose" of establishing the mayor's office was to provide analysis for project planning, "the results to date have not been very satisfactory."

— The city commission's committee system does not function effectively — "committees do not meet."

— There is an increasing tendency to operate from the floor during commission meetings rather than from the agenda prepared in advance, which "we simply think is not good business."

Among recommendations of the report were:

— Assign supervision of the city clerk, assessor, finance director and city attorney to the city manager, rather than the city commission.

— Transfer planning functions from the Community Development department to the city manager and place the water department under supervision of the director of public works.

— Staff the mayor's office with a secretary capable of typing and maintaining a citizen request system.

ARMY MEAT INSPECTORS TELL OF BRIBES FROM PACKERS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army meat inspectors learned to steal, took bribes and were furnished with the services of prostitutes to assure that they would not "hassle" packers who were selling the Pentagon inferior meat at inflated prices, according to testimony before a Senate panel.

Sen. Lawton Chiles, D-Fla., chairman of the Senate Government Operations subcommittee on federal spending practices, said at Monday's hearing that lack of discipline, fraternization between officers and enlisted personnel and lack of training for military inspectors resulted in a "rotten" military meat procurement system.

Edward Kehl, former supervisor for the now-defunct G & G Packing Co. of Boston, testified

Monday that the firm regularly filled army orders for choice beef with lower priced upgraded meat and substituted tough cuts for tender.

Kehl agreed with a calculation by Chiles that the substitution of knuckle for sirloin tip butts by G&G could have resulted in illegal profits of up to $192,000 a day.

He said young, inexperienced

Army meat inspectors never detected the substitution because of the way the meat was cut.

Kehl said knuckle was substituted for sirloin, worth $2.40 a pound more, in 50 per cent of Army steak orders from G&G. He said the firm also sent knuckle to Blue Ribbon Frozen Foods of Hamden, Conn., to fill that firm's Army contracts.

Both New England meat processing firms, now closed, were owned by Harry and Frank Goldberg.

Charles Reidinger, former army supervising inspector in the Boston area, testified that Harry Goldberg started paying him $200 a month in the fall of 1974 and later raised it to $400. And Reidinger said Frank Goldberg furnished him with prostitutes about 10 times over a 10-month period.

Spec. 4 Nadja Hoyer-Booth, appearing in Army uniform, testified that she was assigned to beef inspection at G&G in the summer of 1974 at age 18 after only a day or two of schooling in beef inspection.

She said she was taught to steal meat by a fellow inspector and that she received such things as football and airplane tickets, weekend trips, clothing and perfume from the G&G manager and his assistant.

Specialist Hoyer-Booth said "they were my friends" and that they "never asked me to look the other way." Yet, she said, she "knew I wasn't doing a proper inspection job."

Coors Is Suing Korr's

DETROIT (AP) — Competition among brewers is common, but the makers of Colorado's popular Coors beer say those making the new Korr's brand have gone too far.

The Adolph Coors Co. of Golden, Colo., filed suit in federal court Monday, asking that the makers of Michigan's Korr's beer be kept from playing on the Coors name.

U.S. District Court Judge Cornelia Kennedy issued a temporary restraining order Monday granting the suit's demands and scheduled a hearing next week. It could not be determined what effect the order will have on the new brand.

Korr's, made by Geyer Bros. Brewing Co. of Frankenmuth and distributed by Korr's Beer Distributing Ltd. of Novi, a Detroit suburb, made its debut last month. Aside from the name, the Korr's label is similar to the Coors label, the suit claims.

The suit charges Korr's with trademark infringement in the name, advertising, and the label on the new Michigan brew.

In addition, the suit claims Korr's has infringed because it is billed as "America's Lightest and Finest Beer," while Coors has for years called itself "America's Fine Light Beer."

The suit asks Korr's be barred from using any names, advertising, labels or other gimmicks similar to those established by Coors, plus costs.

Korr's spokesmen said they chose the name because their brand is made from the core of the hops.

Female Officer's Trail Set

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Jury selection is scheduled to begin Wednesday for the trial of a black policewoman charged with shooting her white, male partner in a gun battle.

Twenty-year-old Madeline Fletcher will be tried in Genesee County Circuit Court on a charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm. The charges stem from a shootout last December over whether she or 34-year-old Walter Kalberer would drive their patrol car. Both officers were wounded in the exchange of gunfire.

Miss Fletcher's attorney, Kenneth Cockrel of Detroit, says he will argue the policewoman acted in self defense because she had been subjected to a pattern of racial and sexual discrimination in the Flint police department.

Genesee County Prosecutor Robert Leonard said shortly after the incident he was "fairly convinced" racial attitudes were involved in the conflict. However, the police chief has said it was a dispute between two officers and neither sex nor race was an issue.

Miss Fletcher was among 16 black women hired by the Flint police department in 1974 under an affirmative action program.

Kalberer, a former Marine, is a nine-year veteran of the force. He told superiors he opposed having women ride in squad cars and submitted a written request that he not be assigned a female partner. The request was denied.

ConRail.

How it plans to turn a losing proposition into a profitable business.

On April 1, six struggling railroads became a single, more efficient railroad, stretching from Boston to St. Louis.

Purpose: to give customers first-class service and become self-supporting. It's not going to be easy. But we do have a better way to run a railroad.

CONRAIL started business on the heels of an economic disaster. The six railroads we took over were all bankrupt. In fact, they were losing money at the rate of more than $1 million a day. Taxpayers had to make up the loss.

What's more, service was often slow and inefficient. Shippers were being hurt. And ultimately, so were consumers, since transportation charges are part of a product's price.

Our job is to turn that situation around—provide fast, efficient service and earn a profit.

But why should we succeed when the six railroads we took over went bankrupt? The answer starts with who we are and how we differ from other railroads.

An emphasis on freight

Working under contract to various agencies, ConRail provides tracks and operating personnel for certain passenger trains.

But our main business is hauling freight. That makes us different from Amtrak, which is responsible for intercity passenger service.

The distinction is important. The way things are today, it is practically impossible to earn a profit on rail passenger service. Hauling freight is different. A railroad can make money doing that, if it runs efficiently and offers good service.

Which is exactly what we intend to do. A big chunk of America is counting on us. Our 17,000 miles of track service an area with 100 million people and 55 percent of America's manufacturing plants.

Old problems attacked head on

The bankrupt railroads had to watch roadbeds and equipment deteriorate for lack of money. This slowed service and increased damage costs.

They had to absorb losses from commuter lines. And from unprofitable freight lines.

And, in some areas, they didn't have enough flexibility in assigning employees.

As you'll see at right, the legislation that created ConRail attacks each of these major problems.

Billions to improve roadbeds and equipment

In creating ConRail, Congress authorized the purchase of $2.1 billion in ConRail securities.

Importantly, this money comes as an investment that we are legally obligated to pay back.

We'll use the money (as well as more billions from ConRail revenues) to build a better railroad.

Examples: We'll replace over 4 million ties and from 700 to 1300 miles of track. We'll also repair 12,000 freight cars and 725 locomotives. And we'll do all of that every year for the next 10 years. This will mean fewer damage claims, faster freight service—and higher earnings.

Unprofitable lines no longer a burden

Some freight lines that can't be run at a profit have already been dropped.

Others will be kept running if ConRail is compensated for the difference between revenues and the cost of operation. The compensation would come from the Federal Government and the states that want to keep the lines operating.

A similar arrangement applies to commuter lines.

Support from the unions

The unions want ConRail to succeed, and have already agreed to more flexibility in assigning employees.

C. J. Chamberlain, Chairman of the Railway Labor Executives Association, said:

"The interest of the labor brotherhoods and the nation will be best served if ConRail becomes a strong viable company. We in labor will do everything we can to help ConRail reach that goal."

Better service to customers

From Day One, we've had faster run-through service. Example: We've lopped 14 hours off some shipments from New York to Chicago.

We've cut the number of people that shippers have to deal with—from as many as three down to one.

We've also got a huge data processing operation. Which means we can tell a customer, within minutes, exactly where his cars are. At any time. Any day of the week.

A better way to run a railroad

ConRail blankets sixteen states with 17,000 miles of track.

Better use of cars, plus other efficiencies, should bring our cost savings to about $300 million by 1980.

Basic growth in freight volume should bring us additional revenues of $341.5 million by 1985.

On that basis, our objective is to start making a profit by 1980.

We aren't promising miracles. We can't offset decades of neglect overnight.

But we do have a better way to run a railroad.

Watervliet Will Vote On 1.15 Extra Mills

WATERVLIE — The Watervliet school board last night voted to put a 1.15 mill property tax proposal on the June 14 annual school election ballot. Supt. Samuel Gravitt said the extra millage, for a one-year period, is needed to offset projected decreases in the school's tax base and in state funds in the coming school year.

The school district's tax base, for this year, has not been computed yet, he said, but based on the 1975 tax base of $30,939,257, the 1.15 mills would raise about $36,000. If approved, the total mill levy for the district would be 26.207 mills.

The school's tentative budget for the coming school year is $2,083,744.

Also on the ballot will be two four-year school board terms.

The terms of Board President W. E. Griffin, and Board Member James Jung expire this year. In other areas last night, the board ordered Gravitt to study the selection process of students named to the school's chapter of the National Honor society.

The review was ordered after Carl Hinkelman protested that his son Jon, a straight "A" junior at the high school, was overlooked in the selection of students inducted into the group which honors academic achievement. Gravitt said he will contact the society's national headquarters to try and determine if the school's selection of inductees is proper.

Hinkelman had protested the presence of five students on the selection committee, claiming their presence is against rules recommended by the national organization. Also last night, the board turned down a request from the Riverwood Mental Health clinic for a $330 allocation; promised to review the bus routes in the 72nd street area near the district's northern boundaries; approved use of school buses this summer by the Watervliet Recreation council; voted to give Jaycees approval to park cars in the North Elementary school parking lot during a planned July 4 celebration; and adopted federal regulations prohibiting discrimination based on sex.

Eau Claire Board Puts Eight Mills On Ballot

EAU CLAIRE — The Eau Claire school board last night took formal action to put an eight-mill property tax proposal on the district's June 14 school election ballot.

The board in March had agreed to seek the package to help meet school money needs in the 1976-77 school year. Included in the proposal will be one request for renewal of a six-mill levy which expired with the last tax collections and a separate issue for an additional two mills. Both issues would run three years if approved.

Dr. William Schaefer, superintendent, said the two mill increase, if approved, would provide from $60,000 to $70,000 in revenue from local and state sources. He said each mill is expected to raise about $20,000 from local sources.

If both millage requests pass, he said the 1976 property tax levy would be about 34 mills. In 1975, the district levied a total of 32 mills which included 25 mills for operations and seven mills for debt retirement.

He said funds from both millage requests were needed to enable the school district to maintain the present level of programs. The additional two mills will not quite offset the money lost due to reductions in state aid, he said.

The district has adopted a tentative budget for next year of $1.6 million, the same as this year, Dr. Schaefer said.

In other areas, the board appointed one of its own members, Franklin Jackson, to serve without pay as interim superintendent until a replacement is found for Dr. Schaefer, who is leaving for a new post in Illinois. Jackson's appointment will become effective May 17, Dr. Schaefer said. Jackson has had previous experience as a school administrator and is presently employed as secretary-treasurer of the Berrien teachers credit union, Dr. Schaefer said.

The board president, Mrs. Reva Murphy, announced she will seek re-election in June. Sheldon Rosenberg, the other board member whose term expires, said he will not seek re-election.

The board voted approval for operation of a federally funded migrant education program to run June 14 through Aug. 6 and voted to join the Michigan Association of School Boards for 1976-77.

NEW TRIDENT-TYPE SUB LIKE THIS WILL BE NAMED U.S.S. MICHIGAN

New Sub Will Be Named Michigan

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — Secretary of the Navy J. William Middendorf II chose the beginning of Armed Forces Week to announce Monday that for the first time since 1910, the Navy will name a ship in honor of the State of Michigan. Middendorf told the Economic Club of Detroit that a new Trident missile-carrying submarine will bear the name "U.S.S. Michigan." "I am happy there is a national debate on the subject of our naval strength," Middendorf said. "Only three or four years ago the attitude was, 'Cut, cut, cut.' Now Congress supports the rebuilding of the U.S. Navy." Last Navy vessel to carry the name Michigan was a battleship launched in 1910. It served in World War I. Asked for comment on the dispute over whether Project Seafarer, an underground communications system, should be built in Michigan's Upper Peninsula, Middendorf said, "I have nothing to add to the dialogue on Seafarer." He declined to answer other questions on the subject, although he did say making Seafarer operational was vital to the nation's defense.

Coloma Board To Seek Additional 2.5 Mills

COLOMA — The Coloma school board last night voted to seek an additional 2.5-mill property tax levy during the annual school election, Monday, June 14.

The millage hike was requested by Supt. William Barrett to offset increasing operating costs for the school system and would run for three years, 1976 through 1978, if approved by school district voters.

The district levies 23.376 mills for operating costs, with the 2.5 mill request increasing the total millage levy to 25.876, if it is approved. The school district additionally levies 2.304 mills for debt retirement.

According to figures released by Barrett, an estimated $136,700 would be raised through the millage increase, based on a projected 93 per cent collection rate.

Barrett said the increased revenue coupled with income from other state, local and federal sources would total $3,852,238 for the 1976-77 school year.

Barrett said this would amount to approximately $14,000 over the proposed budget submitted to the county tax allocation board of $3,838,809 in March. The current budget is $3,506,807.

Board members generally agreed the millage hike proposal should only be submitted to the voters once, and not resubmit the issue if it should be defeated.

The board indicated the budget would have to be cut if the millage levy is defeated, with the cuts being made in other than academic areas to prevent the district from having a deficit budget.

In other areas, the board approved erecting signs at the site of tennis courts near the Coloma junior high notifying players of a one-hour time limit for using the courts while others are waiting to play.

The board also requested the sign indicate only residents of the Coloma school district could use the tennis courts.

The board approved a revised dress code, complying with new federal guidelines, removing the classification of boys and girls from the code and eliminating the length of hair previously applying to male students.

Wesley Arent, head of vocational training, announced the open house for the third house built by students in the building trades class from Watervliet and Coloma high schools would be held May 15 and 16, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Gobles Seeks 2-Mill School Tax Increase

GOBLES — The Gobles school board voted last night to seek voter approval of a two-mill property tax levy in the district's annual school election here, June 14.

If approved by the voters, the district's extra-voted mills would increase from nine mills to 11 mills. Added to 9.58 mills allocated by the county, the total operating mills would be 20.58 mills.

Supt. Guy Leversee told the board he expected each mill to raise $13,000 in operational revenue.

Leversee told the board the additional two mills were needed to meet increased operating expenses of the school district.

The board, at its April 5 meeting, approved a preliminary 1976-77 school budget of $1,182,653 to be submitted to the county allocation board.

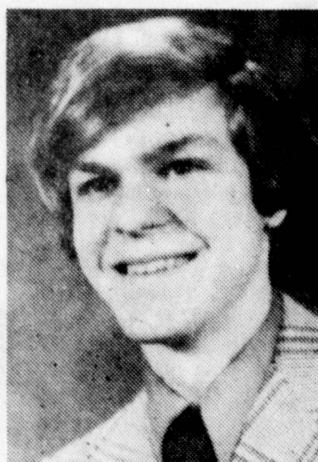

In other areas, the board approved a four week summer school program for elementary math and reading instruction. It was estimated the summer school, to be in session from June 21 to July 16, will serve about 60 students at an estimated cost of $2,386, the board said.

Leversee asked the board to consider a proposal that graduation exercises always be held in the high school gym. Under the current policy, the exercises are held outdoors if weather permits. Leversee said waiting until 10 a.m. the day of the exercises made scheduling and decorating difficult. This year's program will be held outdoors, weather permitting.

The board voted to continue membership next year in the Michigan Association of School Boards at a cost of $594.

Lawrence Kindergarten Roundup

LAWRENCE — Kindergarten roundup for Lawrence public schools will be Friday at the elementary school, according to Mrs. Louise Nicholas, elementary principal. The roundup for children entering school for the first time this fall will be from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and from 1 to 3:15 p.m. Parents are asked to bring their child's birth certificate and health record. Nurses will be on hand to conduct hearing and sight screening tests.

RICHARD ASHLEY

DAVID RECTOR
Co-Salutatorian

Straight-A Student Named Dowagiac's Valedictorian

DOWAGIAC — Richard Ashley has been named valedictorian and Katherine Morrow and David Rector have been named co-salutatorians of Dowagiac Union high school's graduating class of 1976. Principal Nelvin Jager said Ashley maintained a straight 4.0 grade point average throughout his high school career. Miss Morrow and Rector maintained 3.92 grade point averages during their high school careers. All three seniors are 18.

Ashley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ashley, route 2, Dowagiac, plans on attending the Air Force academy in Colorado, after graduation. He has been a member of the track team for four years, student council three years, and National Honor society three years.

Miss Morrow, daughter of Mrs. James Morrow, Burnax Park, Dowagiac, and the late James Morrow, plans to major in biology at Kalamazoo college this fall. She has been a band member four years, including band president her senior year. A National Honor society member for three years, she is secretary this year. She was on the student council for two years. Miss Morrow is also a member of the yearbook staff and pep band.

Rector, son of Mr. and Mrs. Muriel Rector, 605 East Prairie Road, Dowagiac, plans on attending Southwestern Michigan college, here, for two years and then transfer to either Western Michigan University or Michigan State University to major in engineering. A National Merit finalist, Rector has been a member of the tennis team for three years and active in intramurals. A member of the varsity club and National Honor society, he has been a band member for four years and choir member two years.

According to Dr. Jager, 18 other seniors will receive high honors for maintaining 3.4 grade point averages or better during their high school careers at commencement exercises, June 8. Receiving high honors and listed alphabetically are Catherine Case, Kay Clark, Harry Garrelts, Lorraine Gordon, Laura Jerz, Joni Krook, James Laing, Scott Mathews, James Moran, Martha Morrow, James Murray, Peter Preston, Michael Reifenberg, Jack Ryder, Denis Sullivan, James Woodworth, Daryl Wright, and Michael Wyant.

Decatur Board Puts 5.5 Mills On June Ballot

DECATUR — Decatur school district residents will vote on a renewal of a 4.5 mill property tax levy for five years and the addition of a one mill levy for three years in the June 14 annual school election. Both levy requests were approved by the Decatur school board last night.

Supt. Wayne Hellenga said each additional mill would, if approved, generate almost $20,000 in local revenue. Total millage in 1975 was 24.08 mills.

If both requests pass, the 1976 millage rate would be about 25.08 mills.

The tentative budget for the 1976-77 school year is $1,484,252.

In other areas, a group of parents failed to win the board's approval to allow their children, all seniors, to stay out of school for the remainder of this week while 46 other seniors are in Washington D.C. on their class trip.

By a 4 to 3 vote, the board rejected Charles Carson's motion to allow the 55 seniors who didn't go to Washington to stay out of school this week if they had written permission from their parents.

Voting against Carson's motion were Max Howe, George Kusmack, Frank Kraak and Arthur Hayes.

Voting with Carson were Harry Vliek and Richard MacKellar.

Harold Groendyk, high school principal, said the trip to Washington was an educational experience for those who went and was to be considered the same as being in class.

He said school policy in years past held that seniors not going on the class trip had to attend classes.

Some of the parents present last night argued that their children could have used the week off to make extra money.

The board adopted a calendar for the 1976-77 school year which conforms to the calendar of the Van Buren Skills center. The first day of school next fall will be Sept. 1 and the last day, June 10, 1977.

The board pledged a $200 grant to the Van Buren Youth Advisory council, an organization which provides guidance counseling for juveniles and their families.

Richard Jacobsen, grade school principal, reported that an estimated 96 students will begin kindergarten next fall compared to 102 last September.

The board approved purchase of five manual typewriters at $239 each from Parrett Business Machines, Inc., St. Joseph.

River Valley Asks 11.8-Mill Renewal

THREE OAKS — The River Valley school board last night approved seeking renewal of an 11.8-mill property tax levy for school operations for three years in the June 14 school election.

Also up for election are three board seats, two four-year terms and one two-year term. Anyone wishing to become a candidate for any board seat must return nominating petitions to the superintendent's office by 4 p.m., Monday, May 17. Board members George Loznak and Mrs. Doris Rice have announced they are not seeking re-election. Larry Mitchell still has not decided.

The 11.8 mills expired with the 1975 tax collection. Based on last year's state equalized valuation the issue would raise about $763,000 yearly.

The board previously approved a preliminary 1976-77 operating budget of $2,671,366, about $82,202 less than the current budget.

Dr. Charles Williams, superintendent, reported that the state has not yet completed its state aid plan, but the current plan before the state legislature could mean that River Valley would lose another $50,000 for the 1975-76 school year, probably out of the June payment.

In other areas, the board approved the low bid of $6,067 submitted by Farm Bureau Insurance for fleet insurance covering 37 school vehicles and $69 covering three pieces of lawn-care equipment.

The board approved seeking

$38,863 in federal funds for a summer reading program for pre-schoolers and an interim program for youngsters needing help adjusting between kindergarten and first grade.

A request from Donald Bussler, high school principal, for purchase of 12 replacement sewing machines for the high school home economics department was tabled by the board until prices can be obtained from more than one company.

Dr. Williams reported that kindergarten enrollment for 1976-77 school year, according to recent registration figures will total 116, slightly down from the current enrollment.

The board also approved $919 in dues for 1976-77 to the Michigan Association of School Boards.

Plead Innocent

The parents of a Coloma junior high school student pleaded innocent Monday in Berrien Fifth District court to a charge of failing to send the student to school. Freed on $500 bonds following arraignments were Kenneth and Joan Clark, both 44 and both of 4884 DeField road, Coloma township. According to the warrant the misdemeanor violation occurred from Sept. 3 of last year until March 22 and involved their son, Robert. Complainant was the Berrien Intermediate school district.

BANGOR OKAYS $129,000 FOOTBALL STADIUM

Paw Paw Bureau

BANGOR — The Bangor school board last night approved construction of a horseshoe-shaped football stadium west of the district's new middle school here. The stadium is to cost $129,000 and have seating for 2,800 spectators. According to the plan, the field will be below ground level through excavation at the base of three hills. Seats on the concrete stadium will be aluminum and the stadium will be fully lighted. An all-weather track will circle the field.

Board action came in a 5 to 1 vote. Mrs. Mildred Royal cast the dissenting vote because of the costs compared to other alternatives for a field. Voting for the plan were Clara Singer, George Denny, Otto Watkins, Peggy Phillips and Harold Wright. Dr. Frederick Durham abstained.

Other plans discussed by the board included one for an open field with steel bleachers and wooden seats at a cost of $49,500; a field with steel bleachers and aluminum seats at $82,000; and another alternate of the concrete stadium approach with wooden seats at a cost of $123,500.

Among the advantages listed for the new stadium were that it would be warmer because there would be less wind effect because of the "saucer bowl" shape. Board members also said it would cut down on the number of youngsters and others watching the game through the fence, and eliminate a horseplay and other problems inherent under normal bleachers.

The project is to be financed from a $4.1 million bond issue approved by district voters for a school building program in 1974. In a related area, the board voted to enlarge the concession stand planned for the stadium to include restrooms at an additional cost of $8,500. Mrs. Royal said that in order to compensate for the extra expense, $10,000 planned to light tennis courts which will be part of the athletic complex, has been eliminated from the budget.

The board also voted to proceed with a normal full day schedule of classes beginning next fall. Students are now on split sessions, attending classes five hours per day. Mrs. Royal said a new middle school, which was also part of the 1974 bond issue, is expected to be completed in August, and that no new school buses will be needed for the full day sessions. She also indicated the board plans to retain the same number of teachers now employed. There was also some discussion by the board and persons attending the meeting last night on which classes will be housed in which buildings next fall, but no action was taken.

The board also approved accepting students from the Wood district on a tuition basis. The Wood district is the county's last K-8 rural school system. Older students from the district now attend Eau Claire high school on a tuition basis.

Mrs. Royal said the move was made in light of the fact that Bangor's enrollment has dropped by 140 students over the last four years. The board also approved Monday, June 14, for the annual school election. Two four-year terms, now held by Wright and Denny, will be up for election.

A motion that would have required all job openings in the district to be advertised two weeks before anyone was hired in a weekly Bangor newspaper and with announcements at the post office and superintendent's office, was tabled. The motion came about during discussion of how summer teacher aide jobs under the federal Title I program were filled. Mrs. Royal said several college students had called about the jobs, complaining they were limited to students who will be high school seniors in the fall.

Fred Slap, administrative assistant, said the age requirement was a recommendation of a parent's advisory committee of the intermediate district. Referring to the motion, he said he knew of no instances where hirings were not first advertised in the paper. The board did approve two other policies. One states that all hiring or firing of a school district employee must be done directly by the board. The other calls for competitive bidding on any item over $500.

50 per cent minority work force, but the city commission never took action on the proposal.

The resolution approved last night does not state companies must have an affirmative action program to do business with the city. But Joseph said the minority employment question should play a part in the city's acceptance of bids for a project.

Joseph composed the resolution after noting the city's bill list contained a number of businesses he said did not carry out an affirmative action program.

Only Commissioner Charles Yarbrough voted against the resolution saying more time should be spent studying the resolution. Joseph and Commissioners Helen Ford, Edmund Eaman, Arnold Bolin, Charles Shepherd, Alfred Williams and Winston Minott voted for the measure. Commissioner Barbara Huckaby was absent for the third consecutive week.

Reappointed to the city planning commission last night were Dr. Thomas Woodford and Ed Trotter, planning commission chairman. Rev. Rodney Gully, of 580 Empire avenue, was appointed a new member of the planning commission, replacing Rev. T.N. Wilkins who resigned recently. Jesse Pearl Davis was appointed to a seat on the city cemetery board, filling a vacancy left by the resignation of Otis Joseph.

Giving Schools A Break

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken says he will not ask Michigan school districts to absorb a revenue loss in the next fiscal year even though the value of Michigan property taxes was miscalculated. The state Tax Commission has reported that total State Equalized Valuation for Michigan will fall 2 per cent short of original estimates. Milliken said Monday this will mean the state's income will fall $30 million short of the amount anticipated. "I am preparing a special communication to the legislature in which I will detail my recommendations for state action to cope with this problem," Milliken said. He also urged the legislature to continue trying to balance this year's budget.

Statement In Double Slaying

DETROIT (AP) — An off-duty Detroit policeman has admitted killing 19-year-old twin brothers, saying the pair tried to assault him and take his gun away. Officer James Murphy, 27, has been suspended from duty pending the outcome of an investigation into the deaths of Kim and Keith Crowell, of Detroit. Murphy has been on the force for about a year. In a statement to police, Murphy said he was walking his dog in a park at about 2 a.m. Monday when the twins appeared and began shouting questions and obscenities at him. Murphy, who was wearing a jacket over his uniform, said the pair tried to grab his holster. He said he thought they were going for his gun, so he pulled the .44 Magnum and fired six shots. Police said the twins were shot several times with Murphy's revolver. They were not armed, police said.

Utility Information Request

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state Public Service Commission has asked Michigan's major electric utilities to provide more information on expected demand when they file for rate increases. The commission said information required of Consumers Power Co. and Detroit Edison under current filing rules "indicated a need for modification to further improve the quality and usefulness of the information." Among the new information required will be projections of the growth of electric power demand for 10 years, future construction plans, financial resources for such expansion, the impact of environmental regulations and 10-year management objectives and company goals.

More Metrics In Schools

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan schools will see a wholesale shift to the metric system this fall under guidelines from the state Board of Education, the state's top education official said Monday. John Porter, state superintendent of public instruction, said meters, liters and grams will become commonplace in math and science classes this fall under "metric education guidelines" to be made available by the board. In a "metric week" statement, Porter said all math and science textbooks sold in Michigan after June will be required to contain the metric system as the "dominant form of measurement." The state board also will provide a "metric trunk" containing metric teaching aids such as measuring cups, scales and rulers to each of the state's 22 regional education media centers. The centers will make them available to local school districts.

Charge Son Slew Mother

Bowen was charged with second-degree murder Monday in the slaying death of 49-year-old Theresa Mary Bowen. She was stabbed repeatedly at her Jensen home last Saturday. cautions." Shaller said the water that leaked was used in reactor cooling.

It was the first report of a leakage at Indiana & Michigan Electric company's Cook plant since it began commercial production of electricity in August, 1975. Last month, the plant was given authority by the Nuclear Regulatory Agency to operate at 945,000 kilowatts, 90 per cent of capacity after previously producing at 81 per cent.

Unit II is not yet producing electricity. The construction worker at Unit II who wouldn't give his name told The Herald-Palladium this morning that notice of the trouble got around by "word of mouth" and "we didn't know what to do."

He said some workers milled around outside and others left the plant as there was general confusion. Shaller said the leakage was so small no general alarm was necessary.

Plant officials said today that the release of radioactivity was so small that a person standing next to the reactor vent would suffer no ill effects if exposed to the same radiation daily for 20 years.

Bangor Orders Water Rate Study

BANGOR — The Bangor city council last night ordered a study of city water rates as a prelude to a possible water rate increase. The city boosted rates in 1973 to help pay off $455,000 in bonds sold to finance water line and water tower construction that year. But Norma Sutherby, city clerk, said escalating costs have made it increasingly difficult to pay off bonds and maintain water services, and an increase in water rates is being studied by the council. The minimum quarterly fee is presently $15 for 1,000 cubic feet of water.

The city's engineering firm, Alpha Engineering of South Haven, is to make the water rate study.

In other areas, the council set the summer tax rate at 17 mills, the same as last year, and revealed the city's tax base this year is $6,906,804, up from last year's $5,799,500.

The council also adopted ordinances that prohibit parking on the west side of Railroad street, from Charles to Monroe street (one block), and from parking on the east side of Walnut street, from Charles to Monroe streets (one block).

The council introduced two ordinances on which formal action will be taken at its May 24 meeting. One proposes putting stop signs at Country Meadows and Arlington Apartment roads, where they meet Arlington road.

The other provides for removal or demolition of unsafe or dangerous buildings, with the owner to pay for removing and storing any equipment in the condemned building.

Mrs. Sutherby announced that as part of Michigan Week, the city this coming Saturday will hold an open house of all its departments.

The council also voted last night to revoke the city operating license of James Webb who operates Jimmy's Rock, a youth recreation spot on High street, about four blocks from the city's business district. Complaints about alleged illegal drug activities at the teen center triggered the revocation vote, Mrs. Sutherby said.

The McManus report was authorized by the city commission Feb. 23 at a cost of $27,500 and Casey said last night that the complete report would be available in printed form no later than the first week in June.

Among criticisms in the report were:

— The city commission's committee system does not function effectively — "committees do not meet."

— There is an increasing tendency to operate from the floor during commission meetings rather than from the agenda prepared in advance, which "we simply think is not good business."

Among recommendations of the report were:

— Assign supervision of the city clerk, assessor, finance director and city attorney to the city manager, rather than the city commission.

— Transfer planning functions from the Community Development department to the city manager and place the water department under supervision of the director of public works.

— Staff the mayor's office with a secretary capable of typing and maintaining a citizen request system.

Garr's 11th Inning Double Snaps Texas String Hobbled Oliva Still Hitter

From Associated Press

After seven knee operations, Tony Oliva can still hit but he can't run. Monday night he learned that if he hits the ball far enough, he doesn't have to run very fast ... or very far.

The 34-year-old Oliva, a three-time American League batting champion, spends most of his time these days as Minnesota's first base coach, with only an occasional trip to the plate.

Several times in road games he has been listed in the line-up as the leadoff hitter and second baseman to give him one hopefully productive turn at bat, but when the Twins take the field someone else takes his place. Manager Gene Mauch is hesitant to use him with runners on base and less than two out because a ground ball — almost any ground ball — means a certain double play.

But Monday night Oliva was sent up as a pinch hitter to start the 10th inning. He belted a drive off Marty Pattin that would have been a triple for even an average runner — and Oliva was once very much more than average — but he could only limp as far as second base in his bulky knee brace with his first hit of the season. One out later, Lyman Bostock came through with a pinch single that scored pinch runner Jerry Terrell from second base and gave the Twins a 5-4 victory over the Kansas City Royals.

Oliva said his knee brace is "like the one Joe Namath wears. 'I can hit on it, but running ... there's just no way.'"

Elsewhere in the AL on a light baseball night, the Chicago White Sox ended the Texas Rangers' club record eight-game winning streak 7-6 in 11 innings and the Oakland A's trimmed the California Angels 6-3.

In the only National League contest, the Los Angeles Dodgers shaded the St. Louis Cardinals on Ron Cey's two-run homer in the ninth inning.

The Royals sent the game into extra innings with a run off Bert Blyleven in the bottom of the ninth on Fred Patek's triple and Al Cowens' double. The Twins blew leads of 1-0, 3-1 and 4-3 before protecting their 10th-inning advantage. Craig Kusick slammed a two-run homer for Minnesota and Amos Otis connected for KC's game-winning blow off reliever Steve Foucault, 1-1, was Garr's second big hit of the night. He belted a two-run homer off Steve Hargan in the ninth to give Chicago a 6-3 lead before the Rangers rallied for three runs with two out in the bottom of the ninth.

Clay Carroll, who relieved Chicago starter Rich Gossage in the sixth, held the Rangers hitless until two out in the ninth when he walked Roy Howell, hit Tom Grieve with a pitch and walked Roy Smalley, Bill Fahey delivered a two-run single and a single by Juan Beniquez tied the score.

Garr's ninth-inning homer was Chicago's third of the game. Kelly homered in the third inning and Jorge Orta connected in the fifth.

Gossage, staked to a 4-0 lead, worked five innings of no-hit ball before the Rangers rallied with three runs in the bottom of the fifth.

The rampaging Rangers had established a club record for consecutive victories with seven over Boston and one over Milwaukee.

Chicago bombed Texas starter Nelson Briles for 10 hits through eight innings before he was relieved by Hargan in the ninth.

The game marked the return of White Sox Manager Paul Richards to his home state. Richards hails from nearby Waxahatchie.

Paul Mitchell, just back from the minors, pitched a six-hitter and struck out 10 and Sal Bando walloped a two-run homer as the A's defeated Nolan Ryan. It was the first victory of the season for Mitchell, who came to the A's as part of the trade that sent Reggie Jackson to Baltimore. Ryan fanned 12 but blew a 3-0 lead, built partially on Bobby Bonds' two-run homer. The A's took the lead on a two-run single by Bert Campaneris in the sixth inning.

Cey's game-winning homer came with one out after Dusty Baker opened the ninth with a single. Joe Ferguson hit a two-run homer off Pete Falconer in the seventh for the Dodgers first two runs.

Engine Failure Delays Guthrie

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Janet Guthrie's debut at the Indianapolis Speedway so far this week has been historic, somewhat disappointing, a little mysterious ... and very expensive.

Miss Guthrie, gaining notoriety as the first woman to try for a spot in the Indianapolis 500, made a couple of shakedown laps in her Offenhauser-powered Vollstedt in practice Monday and was just about to start on her rookie test when the engine failed.

It was the second engine failure for the team in as many days, both problems being traced to the No. 1 cylinder. Her teammate, Dick Simon, was testing the car Saturday and Sunday when other problems cropped up.

"I've gone years without burning up cylinders, and now

I've got two in a row and both the same one," said car owner Rolla Vollstedt. "We don't know if it's just a coincidence or what."

"Either way, it sure is getting expensive."

Vollstedt estimates his bill for broken parts alone so far at Indy this month is at least $5,000.

"You can add $1,000 to that for labor. But I'd gladly spend $10,000 if I could just have the lost time back," Vollstedt said.

"It's getting our whole program way behind schedule."

"Right now, I'm trying to beg, borrow, buy an engine from someone. I've got another engine, one of the new Offenhausers, but that's a matter of putting it together. And we don't have the time for that."

"In fact, if we lose much more time, if it rains or something else breaks, we're going to be in real trouble on time."

Vollstedt is not going to put his 1976 design machine, to be driven by Simon, on the track until the problems with Miss Guthrie's 1975 model are straightened out.

"I've got problems on my hands already, and I've put all my men on getting Janet's car together. We'd like her to get her rookie test out of the way before we start sorting out Dick's car," Vollstedt said.

ABA Down To Six Teams Following Squire Demise

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Basketball Association, which started the 1975-76 season with 10 franchises, is now down to six following the demise of the long-suffering Virginia Squires.

The ABA officially folded the troubled Virginia franchise on Monday, the Squires joining the Baltimore Claws, San Diego Sails and Utah Stars, the year's earlier casualties.

The death pronouncement was terse. "The Virginia Squires have failed to secure their obligations to the ABA and to the players," said Commissioner Dave DeBusschere. "As a result, the franchise has been terminated."

However, Squires General Manager Jack Ankerson said he expected the team's owners to continue fighting for the club's survival.

"Dave called me and said the franchise had been terminated," Ankerson said from the team's headquarters in Norfolk, Va., Monday night. "As yet, I have not been able to relay this to our people (the owners of the Squires). I think tomorrow or the next day I'll have a heck of a reaction ..."

"In the next day or two, everybody will have to get together and see if we have any course of action available to us."

The Squires, on the verge of collapse all season because of inadequate financial support, had their franchise suspended by the ABA on Thursday. But the team's owners, headed by Van Cunningham, were given until Monday to come up with some last-ditch plan to save the franchise.

They had hoped to use a $100,000 letter of credit to pay off $85,000 in overdue payrolls and $20,000 in delinquent ABA assessments and regain admission to the league. But that bid was turned down.

DeBusschere said a decision on the dispersal of the Squires players would be made "in a few days."

Two of the team's top young players, guard Ticky Burden and forward Mel Bennett, said recently that since they had not received their salaries on time, they were now free agents. Burden was drafted one year ago by the New York Knicks of the National Basketball Association, Bennett by the NBA Philadelphia 76ers.

The Squires had been owned by about 100 stockholders with Cunningham, the general partner, and about 20 others owning the vast majority of the stock. Cunningham and the other investors sank about $2 million into the Squires, trying to keep the team alive in hopes of a merger with the NBA.

In a preliminary merger proposal submitted to the NBA 10 days ago, the ABA had sought to have six of its franchises included in a consolidated pro league. Virginia's demise leaves the ABA with precisely six franchises: Denver, Indiana, Kentucky, New York, San Antonio and Salt Lake City. The latter operated in St. Louis last season, but the shift to Utah was approved by the ABA last week.

Injured Jockey To Return

BALTIMORE (AP) — Less than three months after he suffered multiple injuries in a serious race track spill, jockey Tony Agnello will compete for the first time in the $150,000-added Preakness Stakes.

"I never really went away, but it really feels good to be back," the 27-year-old jockey said at Pimlico Race Course, site of Saturday's 101st running of the 13-1/2 mile classic.

Agnello has won three races and finished second twice while accepting only eight mounts since resuming riding last Thursday. He will continue to be selective with his assignments this week as he prepares gradually for the ride aboard Cojak in the Preakness, second jewel in thoroughbred racing's Triple Crown.

As Cojak's regular rider last year, Agnello won four races including three stakes with the colt who went on to become the Maryland-bred 2-year-old champion of 1975.

Without Agnello, Cojak hasn't won in five starts this year.

"He used to lug in with me, too," Agnello recalled, "and he got beat doing it the first time I rode him. But I kind of got him straightened out. He was off for awhile early this year, being freshened up, and I guess that's when he got back into the habit."

Cojak bore in at the start of the Swift Handicap, finishing second by a nose, and had the same trouble in the stretch before losing by a head in the Gotham Stakes and finishing fifth in the Wood Memorial. He had no such problem in the Kentucky Derby, but he wound up sixth.

The 1-2-3 finishers in the Kentucky Derby, Bold Forbes, Honest Pleasure and Elocutionist, and eighth-place Play The Red will compete in the Preakness. The other starter in the six-horse field will be Life's Hope, who will be coupled with Bold Forbes as a Laz Berrara trained entry.

Oglivie Exhibition Star

DETROIT (AP) — Ben Oglivie drove in four runs with a three-run homer and a double Monday night to lead the Detroit Tigers to a 10-8 exhibition baseball victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Mickey Stanley, Dan Meyer, Rusty Staub and Jerry Manuel

drove in one Detroit run each. Another scored on an error and another on a passed ball.

Tony Perez had a two-run double in the Cincinnati first, while George Foster drove in three runs with a ground out, a homer and a single.

Dan Driesen homered in the Reds' seventh and singled in a run in the ninth, while the other Red run was driven in by Bob Bailey with a ground out in the fifth.

Watervliet Will Vote On 1.15 Extra Mills

WATERVLIET — The Watervliet school board last night voted to put a 1.15 mill property tax proposal on the June 14 annual school election ballot. Supt. Samuel Gravitt said the extra millage, for a one-year period, is needed to offset projected decreases in the school's tax base and in state funds in the coming school year.

The school district's tax base, for this year, has not been computed yet, he said, but based on the 1975 tax base of $30,939,287, the 1.15 mills would raise about $36,000. If approved, the total mill levy for the district would be 26.207 mills.

The school's tentative budget for the coming school year is $2,083,744.

Also on the ballot will be two four-year school board terms.

The terms of Board President W. E. Griffin, and Board Member James Jung expire this year. In other areas last night, the board ordered Gravitt to study the selection process of students named to the school's chapter of the National Honor society.

The review was ordered after Carl Hinkelman protested that his son Jon, a straight "A" junior at the high school, was overlooked in the selection of students inducted into the group which honors academic achievement. Gravitt said he will contact the society's national headquarters to try and determine if the school's selection of inductees is proper.

Hinkelman had protested the presence of five students on the selection committee, claiming their presence is against rules recommended by the national organization. Also last night, the board turned down a request from the Riverwood Mental Health clinic for a $300 allocation; promised to review the bus routes in the 72nd-street area near the district's northern boundaries; approved use of school buses this summer by the Watervliet Recreation council; voted to give Jaycees approval to park cars in the North Elementary school parking lot during a planned July 4 celebration; and adopted federal regulations prohibiting discrimination based on sex.

Eau Claire Board Puts Eight Mills On Ballot

EAU CLAIRE — The Eau Claire school board last night took formal action to put an eight-mill property tax proposal on the district's June 14 school election ballot.

The board in March had agreed to seek the package to help meet school money needs in the 1976-77 school year. Included in the proposal will be one request for renewal of a six-mill levy which expired with the last tax collection and a separate issue for an additional two mills. Both issues would run three years if approved.

Dr. William Schaefer, superintendent, said the two mill increase, if approved, would provide from $60,000 to $70,000 in revenue from local and state sources. He said each mill is expected to raise about $20,000 from local sources.

If both millage requests pass, he said the 1976 property tax levy would be about 34 mills. In 1975, the district levied a total of 32 mills which included 25 mills for operations and seven mills for debt retirement.

He said funds from both millage requests were needed to enable the school district to maintain the present level of programs. The additional two mills will not quite offset the money lost due to reductions in state aid, he said.

The district has adopted a tentative budget for next year of $1.6 million, the same as this year, Dr. Schaefer said.

In other areas, the board appointed one of its own members, Franklin Jackson, to serve without pay as interim superintendent until a replacement is found for Dr. Schaefer who is leaving for a new post in Illinois. Jackson's appointment will become effective May 17, Dr. Schaefer said. Jackson has had previous experience as a school administrator and is presently employed as secretary-treasurer of the Berrien teachers credit union, Dr. Schaefer said.

The board president, Mrs. Reva Murphy, announced she will seek re-election in June. Sheldon Rosenberg, the other board member whose term expires, said he will not seek re-election.

The board voted approval for operation of a federally funded migrant education program to run June 14 through Aug. 8 and voted to join the Michigan Association of School Boards for 1976-77.

NEW TRIDENT-TYPE SUB LIKE THIS WILL BE NAMED U.S.S. MICHIGAN

New Sub Will Be Named Michigan

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — Secretary of the Navy J. William Middendorf II chose the beginning of Armed Forces Week to announce Monday that for the first time since 1910, the Navy will name a ship in honor of the State of Michigan. Middendorf told the Economic Club of Detroit that a new Trident missile-carrying submarine will bear the name "U.S.S. Michigan." "I am happy there is a national debate on the subject of our naval strength," Middendorf said. "Only three or four years ago the attitude was, 'Cut, cut, cut.' Now Congress supports the rebuilding of the U.S. Navy." Last Navy vessel to carry the name Michigan was a battleship launched in 1910. It served in World War I. Asked for comment on the dispute over whether Project Seafarer, an underground communications system, should be built in Michigan's Upper Peninsula, Middendorf said, "I have nothing to add to the dialogue on Seafarer." He declined to answer other questions on the subject, although he did say making Seafarer operational was vital to the nation's defense.

Coloma Board To Seek Additional 2.5 Mills

COLOMA — The Coloma school board last night voted to seek an additional 2.5-mill property tax levy during the annual school election, Monday, June 14.

The millage hike was requested by Supt. William Barrett to offset increasing operating costs for the school system and would run for three years, 1978 through 1980, if approved by school district voters.

The district levies 23.376 mills for operating costs, with the 2.5 mill request increasing the total millage levy to 25.876, if it is approved. The school district additionally levies 2.304 mills for debt retirement.

According to figures released by Barrett, an estimated $138,700 would be raised through the millage increase, based on a projected 93 per cent collection rate.

Barrett said the increased revenue coupled with income from other state, local and federal sources would total $3,892,238 for the 1976-77 school year.

Barrett said this would amount to approximately $14,000 over the proposed budget submitted to the county tax allocation board of $3,838,809 in March. The current budget is $3,506,807.

Board members generally agreed the millage hike proposal should only be submitted to the voters once, and not resubmit the issue if it should be defeated.

The board indicated the budget would have to be cut if the millage levy is defeated, with the cuts being made in other than academic areas to prevent the district from having a deficit budget.

In other areas, the board approved erecting signs at the site of tennis courts near the Coloma junior high notifying players of a one-hour time limit for using the courts while others are waiting to play.

The board also requested the sign indicate only residents of the Coloma school district could use the tennis courts.

The board approved a revised dress code, complying with new federal guidelines, removing the classification of boys and girls from the code and eliminating the length of hair previously applying to male students.

Wesley Arent, head of vocational training, announced the open house for the third house built by students in the building trades class from Watervliet and Coloma high schools would be held May 15 and 16, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Gobles Seeks 2-Mill School Tax Increase

GOBLES — The Gobles school board voted last night to seek voter approval of a two-mill property tax levy in the district's annual school election here, June 14.

If approved by the voters, the district's extra-voted mills would increase from nine mills to 11 mills. Added to 9.58 mills allocated by the county, the total operating mills would be 20.58 mills.

Supt. Guy Leversee told the board he expected each mill to raise $13,000 in operational revenue.

Leversee told the board the additional two mills were needed to meet increased operating expenses of the school district.

The board, at its April 5 meeting, approved a preliminary 1976-77 school budget of $1,182,653 to be submitted to the county allocation board.

In other areas, the board approved a four week summer school program for elementary math and reading instruction. It was estimated the summer school, to be in session from June 21 to July 18, will serve about 80 students at an estimated cost of $2,386, the board said.

Leversee asked the board to consider a proposal that graduation exercises always be held in the high school gym. Under the current policy, the exercises are held outdoors if weather permits. Leversee said waiting until 10 a.m. the day of the exercises made scheduling and decorating difficult. This year's program will be held outdoors, weather permitting.

The board voted to continue membership next year in the Michigan Association of School Boards at a cost of $504.

Lawrence Kindergarten Roundup

LAWRENCE — Kindergarten roundup for Lawrence public schools will be Friday at the elementary school, according to Mrs. Louise Nicholas, elementary principal. The roundup for children entering school for the first time this fall will be from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and from 1 to 3:15 p.m. Parents are asked to bring their child's birth certificate and health record. Nurses will be on hand to conduct hearing and sight screening tests.

Straight-A Student Named Dowagiac's Valedictorian

DOWAGIAC — Richard Ashley has been named valedictorian and Katherine Morrow and David Rector have been named co-salutatorians of Dowagiac Union high school's graduating class of 1976. Principal Nelson Jager said Ashley maintained a straight 4.0 grade point average throughout his high school career. Miss Morrow and Rector maintained 3.92 grade point averages during their high school careers. All three seniors are 18.

Ashley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ashley, route 2, Dowagiac, plans on attending the Air Force academy in Colorado, after graduation. He has been a member of the track team for four years, student council three years, and National Honor society three years.

Miss Morrow, daughter of Mrs. James Morrow, Birnam Park, Dowagiac, and the late James Morrow, plans to major in biology at Kalamazoo college this fall. She has been a band member four years, including band president her senior year. A National Honor society member for three years, she is secretary this year. She was on the student council for two years. Miss Morrow is also a member of the yearbook staff and pep band.

Rector, son of Mr. and Mrs. Murl Rector, 805 East Prairie Road, Dowagiac, plans on attending Southwestern Michigan college, here, for two years and then transfer to either Western Michigan University or Michigan State University to major in engineering. A National Merit finalist, Rector has been a member of the tennis team for three years and active in intramurals. A member of the varsity club and National Honor society, he has been a band member for four years and choir member two years.

According to Dr. Jager, 18 other seniors will receive high honors for maintaining 3.4 grade point averages or better during their high school careers at commencement exercises, June 8. Receiving high honors and listed alphabetically are Catherine Case, Kay Clark, Harry Garretts, Lorraine Gordon, Laura Jerz, Joni Krook, James Lasing, Scott Matthews, James Moran, Martha Morrow, James Murray, Peter Preston, Michael Reitenberg, Jack Ryder, Denis Sullivan, James Woodworth, Daryl Wright, and Michael Wyant.

Decatur Board Puts 5.5 Mills On June Ballot

DECATUR — Decatur school district residents will vote on a renewal of a 4.5 mill property tax levy for five years and the addition of a one mill levy for three years in the June 14 annual school election. Both levy requests were approved by the Decatur school board last night.

Supt. Wayne Hellinga said each additional mill would, if approved, generate almost $20,000 in local revenue. Total millage in 1975 was 24.08 mills.

If both requests pass, the 1976 millage rate would be about 25.08 mills.

The tentative budget for the 1976-77 school year is $1,484,252.

In other areas, a group of parents failed to win the board's approval to allow their children, all seniors, to stay out of school for the remainder of this week while 40 other seniors are in Washington D.C. on their class trip.

By a 4 to 3 vote, the board rejected Charles Carson's motion to allow the 55 seniors who didn't go to Washington to stay out of school this week if they had written permission from their parents.

Voting against Carson's motion were Max Howe, George Kusmack, Frank Krook and Arthur Hayes.

Voting with Carson were Harry Vilek and Richard MacKellar.

Harold Groendyk, high school principal, said the trip to Washington was an educational experience for those who went and was to be considered the same as being in class.

He said school policy in years past held that seniors not going on the class trip had to attend classes.

Some of the parents present last night argued that their children could have used the week off to make extra money.

The board adopted a calendar for the 1976-77 school year which conforms to the calendar of the Van Buren Skills center. The first day of school next fall will be Sept. 1 and the last day, June 10, 1977.

The board pledged a $200 grant to the Van Buren Youth Advisory council, an organization which provides guidance counseling for juveniles and their families.

Richard Jacobsen, grade school principal, reported that an estimated 96 students will begin kindergarten next fall compared to 102 last September.

The board approved purchase of five manual typewriters at $239 each from Parrett Business Machines, Inc., St. Joseph.

Plead Innocent

The parents of a Coloma junior high school student pleaded innocent Monday in Berrien Fifth District court to a charge of failing to send the student to school. Freed on $500 bonds following arrangements were Kenneth and Joan Clark, both 44 and both of 4684 DeField road, Coloma township. According to the warrant the misdemeanor violation occurred from Sept. 3 of last year until March 22 and involved their son, Robert. Complainant was the Berrien Intermediate school district.

River Valley Asks 11.8-Mill Renewal

THREE OAKS — The River Valley school board last night approved seeking renewal of an 11.8-mill property tax levy for school operations for three years in the June 14 school election.

Also up for election are three board seats, two four-year terms and one two-year term. Anyone wishing to become a candidate for any board seat must return nominating petitions to the superintendent's office by 4 p.m., Monday, May 17. Board members George Luzzinack and Mrs. Doris Rice have announced they are not seeking re-election. Larry Mitchell still has not decided.

The 11.8 mills expired with the 1975 tax collection. Based on last year's state equalized valuation the issue would raise about $763,000 yearly.

The board previously approved a preliminary 1976-77 operating budget of $2,871,366, about $82,202 less than the current budget.

Dr. Charles Williams, superintendent, reported that the state has not yet completed its state aid plan, but the current plan before the state legislature could mean that River Valley would lose another $50,000 for the 1975-76 school year, probably out of the June payment.

In other areas, the board approved the low bid of $6,067 submitted by Farm Bureau Insurance for fleet insurance covering 37 school vehicles and $69 covering three pieces of lawn-care equipment.

The board approved seeking

$38,883 in federal funds for a summer reading program for pre-schoolers and an interim program for youngsters needing help adjusting between kindergarten and first grade.

A request from Donald Bussler, high school principal, for purchase of 12 replacement sewing machines for the high school home economics department was tabled by the board until prices can be obtained from more than one company.

Dr. Williams reported that kindergarten enrollment for 1976-77 school year, according to recent registration figures will total 116, slightly down from the current enrollment.

The board also approved $919 in dues for 1976-77 to the Michigan Association of School Boards.

Valley Wins 10th Straight

Red-hot River Valley continued its drive toward the top of the Blossomland baseball race Monday, blasting Coloma 9-1.

The Mustangs, who have now won 10 straight, upped their league record to 7-2, just one-half game behind league-leading Buchanan (7-1). Coloma fell to 5-4.

In other league action Monday, Brandywine beat Edwardsburg twice, winning a suspended game 6-5 in 11 innings and then taking the regularly scheduled contest 2-1.

Dennie Busse pitched a three-hitter and fanned six in picking up the victory. Jim Nicholas, the Comet starter, was the loser.

Dave North slammed out two doubles and a triple and drove in three runs for the winners. Mark Francis added a triple and a single to up his team-leading batting average to .375. Busse chipped in a double and a single.

Pat Grounds picked up both victories for Brandywine, which upped its league record to 5-4 and kept its slim title hopes alive. Grounds hurled the final inning of the suspended game and pitched a four-hitter in the regular one.

Dan Correll took the loss in both tilts.

It took the Bobcats just one inning to put away the suspended contest. Todd Birczak started the 11th frame with a single and then stole second. Jim Burrow's single ended the affair.

Greg Gallas and Burrows drove in sixth-inning runs in the regularly-scheduled game to spark the Brandywine win.

Steve Barella collected a double and a single for the Eddies, who fell to 3-6.

Wood Lost For Three Months

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox will be without the services of ace pitcher Wilbur Wood for three months or longer, doctors say.

The doctors made their report Monday after Wood underwent surgery at Illinois Masonic Hospital for the injury he received when struck by a line drive Sunday in Detroit.

Wood's injury was diagnosed as a displaced fracture of the left patella, a team spokesman said.

The spokesman said doctors performed open reduction and internal fixation by a technique developed in Switzerland. This means the knee was wired around the damaged area and Wood will not have to wear a cast.

In Arlington, Tex., where the Sox were playing the Rangers, Manager Paul Richards was asked what the injury to Wood would mean to the team.

"I don't even want to think about it," Richards said.

"He went down like a gored hog," the manager said, recalling the line drive that felled the 34-year-old knuckleballing lefthander. "If he pitches again this year it'll be a miracle."

Rumor Of Cavs' Bill Fitch Moving To Lakers Denied

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Cavaliers coach and general manager Bill Fitch has become the center of a controversy with club owner Nick Mileti.

The Cleveland Press quoted Mileti as saying Fitch, despite having gained a three-year contract at $75,000 a year, had asked to be released so he could become coach of the Los Angeles Lakers.

Fitch refused comment, saying he was interested only in "winning games." But he denied ever having asked to leave to coach the Lakers or any other NBA team. Lakers owner Jack Kent Cooke also denied he has been in contact with Fitch.

Fitch is known to be unhappy with Mileti because he wasn't consulted on such matters as ticket sales in the quarterfinal series with Washington, some of the plans for televising games and the raising of next season's ticket prices.

Garr's 11th Inning Double Snaps Texas String Hobbled Oliva Still Hitter

From Associated Press

After seven knee operations, Tony Oliva can still hit but he can't run. Monday night he learned that if he hits the ball far enough, he doesn't have to run very fast ... or very far.

The 34-year-old Oliva, a three-time American League batting champion, spends most of his time these days as Minnesota's first base coach, with only an occasional trip to the plate.

Several times in road games he has been listed in the line-up as the leadoff hitter and second baseman to give him one hopefully productive turn at bat, but when the Twins take the field someone else takes his place. Manager Gene Mauch is hesitant to use him with runners on base and less than two out because a ground ball — almost any ground ball — means a certain double play.

But Monday night Oliva was sent up as a pinch hitter to start the 10th inning. He belted a drive off Marty Patton that would have been a triple for even an average runner — and Oliva was once very much more than average — but he could only limp as far as second base in his bulky knee brace with his first hit of the season. One out later, Lynn Bostock came through with a pinch single that scored pinch runner Jerry Terrell from second base and gave the Twins a 5-4 victory over the Kansas City Royals.

Oliva said his knee brace is "like the one Joe Namath wears. 'I can hit on it, but running ... there's just no way.'"

Elsewhere in the AL on a light baseball night, the Chicago White Sox ended the Texas Rangers' club record eight-game winning streak 7-6 in 11 innings and the Oakland A's trimmed the California Angels 6-3.

In the only National League contest, the Los Angeles Dodgers shaded the St. Louis Cardinals on Ron Cey's two-run homer in the ninth inning.

The Royals sent the game into extra innings with a run off Bert Blyleven in the bottom of the ninth on Fred Patek's triple and Al Cowens' double. The Twins blew leads of 1-0, 3-1 and 4-3 before protecting their 10th-inning advantage. Craig Kusick slugged a two-run homer for Minnesota and Amos Otis connected for KCI the game-winning blow off reliever Steve Foucault. 1-1, was Garr's second big hit of the night. He belted a two-run homer off Steve Hargan in the ninth to give Chicago a 6-3 lead before the Rangers rallied for three runs with two out in the bottom of the ninth.

Clay Carroll, who relieved Chicago starter Rich Gossage in the sixth, held the Rangers hitless until two out in the ninth when he walked Roy Howell, hit Tom Grieve with a pitch and walked Roy Smalley. Bill Fuhey delivered a two-run single and a single by Juan Beniquez tied the score.

Garr's ninth-inning homer was Chicago's third of the game. Kelly homered in the third inning and Jorge Orta connected in the fifth.

Gossage, staked to a 4-0 lead, worked five innings of no-hit ball before the Rangers rallied with three runs in the bottom of the fifth.

The rampaging Rangers had established a club record for consecutive victories with seven, over Boston and one over Milwaukee.

Chicago bombed Texas starter Nelson Briles for 10 hits through eight innings before he was relieved by Hargan in the ninth.

The game marked the return of Willie Sox Manager Paul Richards to his home state. Richards' balls from nearby Waxahachie.

Paul Mitchell, just back from the minors, pitched a six-hitter and struck out 10 and Sal Bando walloped a two-run homer as the A's defeated Nolan Ryan. It was the first victory of the season for Mitchell, who came to the A's as part of the trade that sent Reggie Jackson to Baltimore. Ryan fanned 12 but blew a 3-0 lead, bailed partially on Bobby Bonds' two-run homer. The A's took the lead on a two-run single by Bert Campaneris in the sixth inning.

Cey's game-winning homer came with one out after Dusty Baker opened the ninth with a single. Joe Ferguson hit a two-run homer off Pete Falcone in the seventh for the Dodgers' first two runs.

Engine Failure Delays Guthrie

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Janet Guthrie's debut at the Indianapolis Speedway so far this week has been historic, somewhat disappointing, a little mysterious ... and very expensive.

Miss Guthrie, gaining notoriety as the first woman to try for a spot in the Indianapolis 500, made a couple of shakedown laps in her Offenhauser-powered Vollstedt in practice Monday and was just about to start on her rookie test when the engine failed.

It was the second engine failure for the team in as many days, both problems being traced to the No. 1 cylinder. Her teammate, Dick Simon, was testing the car Saturday and Sunday when other problems cropped up.

"I've gone years without burning up cylinders, and now

I've got two in a row and both the same one," said car owner Rola Vollstedt. "We don't know if it's just a coincidence or what."

"Either way, it sure is getting expensive."

Vollstedt estimates his bill for broken parts alone so far at Indy this month is at least $5,000.

"You can add $1,000 to that for labor. But I'd gladly spend $10,000 if I could just have the last time back," Vollstedt said.

"It's getting our whole program way behind schedule."

"Right now, I'm trying to beg, borrow, buy an engine from someone. I've got another engine, one of the new Offenhausers, but that's a matter of putting it together. And we don't have the time for that."

Vollstedt is not going to put his 1976 design machine, to be driven by Simon, on the track until the problems with Miss Guthrie's 1975 model are straightened out.

"I've got problems on my hands already, and I've put all my men on getting Janet's car together. We'd like her to get her rookie test out of the way before we start sorting out Dick's car," Vollstedt said.

ABA Down To Six Teams Following Squire Demise

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Basketball Association, which started the 1975-76 season with 10 franchises, is now down to six following the demise of the long-suffering Virginia Squires.

The ABA officially folded the troubled Virginia franchise on Monday, the Squires joining the Baltimore Claws, San Diego Sails and Utah Stars, the year's earlier casualties.

The death pronouncement was terse. "The Virginia Squires have failed to secure their obligations to the ABA and to the players," said Commissioner Dave DeBusschere. "As a result, the franchise has been terminated."

However, Squires General Manager Jack Ankerson said he expected the team's owners to continue fighting for the club's survival.

"Dave called me and said the franchise had been terminated," Ankerson said from the team's headquarters in Norfolk, Va., Monday night. "As yet, I have not been able to relay this to our people (the owners of the Squires). I think tomorrow or the next day I'll have a heck of a reaction ..."

"In the next day or two, everybody will have to get together and see if we have any course of action available to us."

The Squires, on the verge of collapse all season because of inadequate financial support, had their franchise suspended by the ABA on Thursday. But the team's owners, headed by Van Cunningham, were given until Monday to come up with some last-ditch plan to save the franchise. They had hoped to use a $100,000 letter of credit to pay off $85,000 in overdue payrolls and $20,000 in delinquent ABA assessments and regain admission to the league. But that bid was turned down.

DeBusschere said a decision on the dispersal of the Squires players would be made "in a few days."

Two of the team's top young players, guard Ticky Burden and forward Mel Bennett, said recently that since they had not received their salaries on time, they were now free agents. Burden was drafted one year ago by the New York Knicks of the National Basketball Association, Bennett by the NBA Philadelphia 76ers.

The Squires had been owned by about 100 stockholders with Cunningham, the general partner, and about 20 others owning the vast majority of the stock. Cunningham and the other investors sank about $2 million into the Squires, trying to keep the team alive in hopes of a merger with the NBA.

In a preliminary merger proposal submitted to the NBA 10 days ago, the ABA had sought to have six of its franchises included in a consolidated pro league. Virginia's demise leaves the ABA with precisely six franchises: Denver, Indiana, Kentucky, New York, San Antonio and Salt Lake City. The latter operated in St. Louis last season, but the shift to Utah was approved by the ABA last week.

Injured Jockey To Return

BALTIMORE (AP) — Less than three months after he suffered multiple injuries in a serious race track spill, jockey Tony Agnello will compete for the first time in the $150,000 Ind. Preakness Stakes.

"I never really went away, but it really feels good to be back," the 27-year-old jockey said at Pimlico Race Course, site of Saturday's 101st running of the 13-1/8 mile classic.

Agnello has won three races and finished second twice while accepting only eight mounts since resuming riding last Thursday. He will continue to be selective with his assignments this week as he prepares gradually for the ride aboard Cokaj in the Preakness, second jewel in thoroughbred racing's Triple Crown.

As Cokaj's regular rider last year, Agnello won four races including three stakes with the colt who went on to become the Maryland-bred 2-year-old champion of 1975.

Without Agnello, Cokaj hasn't won in five starts this year.

"He used to lug in with me, ton," Agnello recalled, "and he got beat doing it the first time I rode him. But I kind of got him straightened out. He was off for awhile early this year, being freshened up, and I guess that's when he got back into the habit."

Cokaj bore in at the start of the Soft Handicap, finishing second by a nose, and had the same trouble in the stretch before losing by a head in the Gotham Stakes and finishing fifth in the Wood Memorial. He had no such problem in the Kentucky Derby, but he wound up sixth.

The 1-2-3 finishers in the Kentucky Derby, Bold Forbes, Honest Pleasure and Elocutionist, and eighth-place Play The fied will compete in the Preakness. The other starter in the six-horse field will be Life's Hope, who will be coupled with Bold Forbes as a Laz Berrara trained entry.

Oglvie Exhibition Star

DETROIT (AP) — Ben Oglvie drove in four runs with a three-run homer and a double Monday night to lead the Detroit Tigers to a 10-8 exhibition baseball victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

drove in one Detroit run each. Another scored on an error and another on a passed ball.

Tony Perez had a two-run double in the Cincinnati first, while George Foster drove in three runs with a ground out, a homer and a single.

Dan Driesen homered in the Reds' seventh and singled in a run in the ninth, while the other Red run was driven in by Bob Bailey with a ground out in the fifth.

Mollhagen's Agreement Is Compensation Breakthrough

By JOHN VANDEN HEED
Conservation Editor

The commercial fishermen compensation dilemma appears resolved through two agreements with the state — including one with Lloyd Mollhagen of St. Joseph.

Mollhagen, who runs a sportfishing tackle and bait shop on the St. Joseph River's Morrison Channel, and Lester and L. William Carlson of Leland have signed agreements which give them compensation for going out of the commercial fishing business.

Mollhagen has agreed to $35,097 compensation and the Carlsons have signed for $26,724. The compensation equals about 83 per cent of the average values of their catches over a three-year period (1971-73).

In exchange, the fishermen have agreed to stop fishing chubs with small mesh gill nets. They have also agreed that there is no harvestable surplus of chubs in Lake Michigan.

When contacted by this newspaper on the agreement, which is slated to get Natural Resources Commission consideration this week, Mollhagen said he would have "no comment until I get my hands of the money." Before the agreement, he had made plans to sue the Department of Natural Resources on the compensation issue.

Mollhagen's agreement doesn't mean that he can't become a commercial fisherman some day in the future. The pact says that if it is determined

Meanwhile, the DNR sees the agreements as possible breakthroughs in solving the gill net and compensation problems.

"We visualize that many other requests for compensation will be forthcoming and that in future months these requests can be consolidated for commission action," declared Henry J. Vondett of the DNR's fisheries division in a memorandum to the Natural Resources Commission.

DNR officials have stated that they didn't think compensation was necessary for fishermen stopping gill net operations... saying banning gill nets were under their constitutional police power. But in the memorandum to the commission, they also recognized "that both the executive and legislative branches of government wish to act with compassion for the individual commercial fisherman."

The legislature has appropriated $1.5 million to the DNR for commercial fisheries compensation. The money could eventually go to about 90 fishermen.

Continuing court cases have been frustrating DNR effort to regulate commercial fishing, but fisheries department officials now have cause for hope on that front.

The recent decision of the Michigan Supreme Court in State Conservation Department vs. McGahan and Seaman upholds the constitutionality of the DNR director's authority to regulate commercial fishing and the administrative rules developed under that authority.

Vondett says the decision "should greatly enhance the department's legal position in effecting meaningful controls on fishing that are presently being litigated in many courts."

Allegan Turkey Kill Is Second Lowest

The Allegan spring turkey season ended Sunday with an overall kill of 24 — the second lowest harvest in the seven-year history of the hunt.

Twenty eight birds were taken a year ago, and the record of 37 was set in 1974. The lowest kill was 15 in 1970, the first year of the spring turkey hunting at Allegan.

But district Department of Natural Resources turkey expert Timothy Payne isn't concerned about this year's lower kill. He points out that there were 25 per cent fewer permits issued this year — down to 300 from 400.

Payne also feels that the splitting of the hunting area into two units for the first time, a possible earlier mating season and some bad weather were factors in the reduced harvest.

The division of the hunting area into units north and south of the Kalamazoo River distributed hunters more and lowered hunting pressure on some turkey flocks, Payne contends.

Payne's guess that the mating season was earlier this year is based on the fact that hunters reported hearing fewer birds this year. Payne also heard less gobbling in his pre-season survey.

Weather hurt success last week, when high winds Wednesday were followed by rain.

"I think the season was a success," declares Payne. "I thought the kill would be down a little bit."

Payne estimates the Allegan turkey population at 450 birds, which is about the same as a year ago or perhaps down, somewhat.

Pigeon River Action Expected This Week

Michigan's Natural Resources Commission is scheduled to take action on a year-long controversy involving the question of oil and gas development in the Pigeon River Country State Forest at a Thursday and Friday meeting in Lansing.

The meeting, which begins at 9 a.m. both days, will be held in the State Law Building auditorium, 525 West Ottawa Street (just north of the Stevens T. Mason Building).

Department of Natural Resources director Howard A. Tanner says the commission's decision may center around three major options: to allow no drilling at all in the forest; to establish a drilling moratorium over a period of years by extending oil leases; or to limit drilling to only the so-called Unit 1 area in the southern one-third of the forest, below a proposed no-drill boundary along the Pigeon River.

Tanner says a fourth alternative is still possible, but apparently not practical — to allow some drilling throughout the 145-square-mile forest in Otsego, Cheboygan and Montmorency counties.

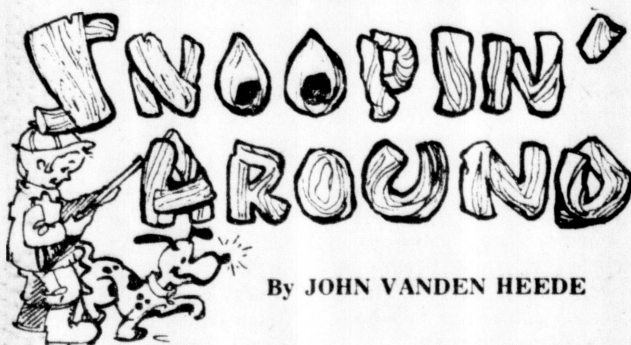

The commission is considering the merits of at least the three major options as outline, while the important but complex review procedure involving public hearings and public input is now behind it," states Tanner.

He notes that a series of public hearings on the question were held in early and late 1975 and that numerous letters and comments have been received from citizens throughout the state. Reviews by both the Michigan Environmental Review Board and the DNR-appointed Pigeon River Advisory Council will also be weighed by commissioners.

However, only five of the commission's seven members are expected to vote. Commissioner Dean Pridgeon of Montmorency was ruled ineligible because of conflict of interest by the State Ethics Board on April 30. He is an official of Michigan Farm Bureau, which is engaged in oil interests. On May 3, commissioner Hilary F. Snell of Grand Rapids, an attorney, disqualified himself from further participation in the Pigeon River issue saying the law firm in which he is a partner "may represent a client who has some indirect relationship with the Pigeon River decision."

By JOHN VANDEN HEED

There will be another alewife dieoff this summer along the Lake Michigan shoreline, but it should be smaller than last year, according to LaRue "Tex" Wells of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife's laboratory in Ann Arbor.

Wells, while speaking at the eighth annual Midwest Salmon Seminar in Michigan City, said the dieoff could be lighter than 1975 because the fish are in better physical shape.

"It shouldn't be too bad," declared Wells, "and nothing like in 1967."

The Fish and Wildlife Service found alewives to be in poor physical shape in the fall of 1974 and predicted a larger dieoff in 1975, and according to Wells' findings, the problem of dead fish on beaches apparently was worse.

The Michigan Steelheaders now have their "hot line" for fishing information in operation. Information is compiled on Wednesday and put on the "hot line" tape Thursday. The "hot line" number is 1-381-6583.

The purchase of an 80-acre addition to the Crane Pond State Game Area in Cass county is expected to receive Natural Resources Commission approval this week.

The land is being offered by Orlando O. Okleshen of Richton Park, Ill., for $15,000. The land would be purchased with Public Recreation Bond Funds.

The unimproved, timbered tract is located within the project boundaries of Crane Pond. It is contiguous to state-owned land for a half mile along the entire east line.

The land is hilly, mostly tree and brush covered, with a small worked out gravel pit near the northern part.

The Natural Resources Commission has rescinded its previous tentative approval for watercraft control rules on Eagle Lake in Allegan county.

The move comes after a second public hearing where persons in attendance were about evenly divided on the rules issue. The Cheshire Township Board also voted 5-0 in March not to approve any rules at this time.

Many Great Lakes freighters and other large commercial boats are still without holding tanks and passing sewage directly into the lakes.

Michigan has been under a restraining order since 1971 not to enforce the holding tank law on commercial boats. The order was obtained by the Lake Carriers Association.

And Bill Turney, chief of the Department of Natural Resources environmental protection bureau, doesn't believe the issue will be decided in the near future. "It seems apparent that their goal is to keep this thing tied up as long as they can," Turney charges.

Ship owners say the state does not have enough pump-out facilities in which to empty holding tanks. They also contend that the sewage plants that treat wastes in pump-out facilities do not treat it any better than it could be treated on boats.

The DNR says sewage treatment facilities on boats cannot be maintained in satisfactory working order and are too easy to bypass.

And the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency this spring ruled that Michigan's pump-out and treatment facilities are adequate to justify the holding tank law.

About 40 large commercial boats have converted to holding tanks and are reporting no problems, Turney reports. These include the Ford Motor Co.'s fleet and the Beaver Island and Bois Blanc Island ferries.

In a related matter, the Canadian federal government has asked the U.S. State Department to exempt Canadian commercial boats from Michigan's holding tank law. The request is being considered in Washington.

Tax-Reverted State Land Sales Set

Nearly 1,400 parcels of tax-reverted state land in 32 southern Michigan counties are slated for public auction in late May by the Department of Natural Resources.

Sales are scheduled at Paw Paw on May 18; Grand Rapids, May 19; Saginaw, May 20; Flint, May 21; Detroit, May 25; Jackson, May 26; and Pontiac, May 27. All sales start at 10 a.m.

Auction lists containing land descriptions, minimum bids, and the county buildings or other auction headquarters are available from most southern Michigan county treasurers. DNR Lands Division officials are in charge of the sales.

Visiting Is Restricted At Some Campgrounds

Michigan campers are reminded by the Department of Natural Resources that visitor restrictions are now in effect at 18 state park and recreation area campgrounds.

The rule is designed to prevent overcrowding at popular Lower Peninsula campgrounds, says the DNR.

The visitor ban is in effect through June 15 at Mears State Park near Pentwater and at Bay City State Park; and through June 25 at Pontiac Lake, Oakland county.

Other areas, where the rule will be enforced through Labor Day, include recreation areas at Brighton (Appleton Lake and Murray Lake camps), Livingston county; Pinckney (Crooked Lake and Glenbrook campgrounds), Livingston county; and Waterloo (Portage Lake and Green Lake campgrounds), near Jackson.

Also, these state parks: Hayes, near Onsted; Holland (Lake Macatawa campground), Ottawa county; Island Lake (Russell Woods campground), near Brighton; Lakeport, at Port Huron; Ludington (Pines, Cedar and Beechwood campgrounds), Mason county; Metamora-Hadley, Lapeer county; Muskegon (Lake Michigan campground), Muskegon county; Port Crescent, Huron county; Proud Lake, near Milford; Silver Lake, near Mears; Sleeper, near Caseville, and South Higgins Lake, near Roscommon.

Fishing Report

Changing weather and water temperatures have scattered fish in Lake Michigan off southwestern Michigan.

But more and more lake trout are showing up in the catch, including some limits of three. Much of the fishing has been over 80 to 100 feet of water, but it has ranged out to five miles off shore.

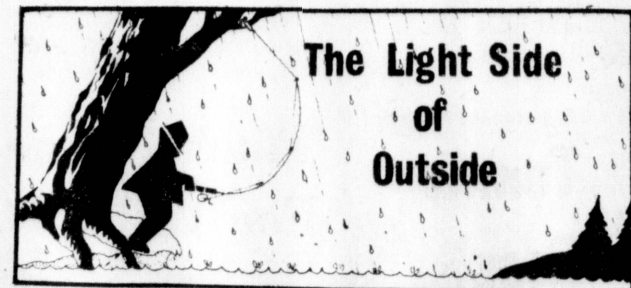

Tadpoles and flutterspoons worked from the surface down to 20 feet have been among top producing baits for trout and salmon.

Boat Check Set

A free boat safety inspection will be held by the St. Joseph Coast Guard Auxiliary Saturday and Sunday, May 22 and 23, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the St. Joseph Coast Guard Station.

By DAVID "MAC" FRIMODIG
DNR Information Officer

Spring rainbow fishing in high water is not for the faint-footed. Even strong, aggressive waders occasionally find themselves tumbling downstream.

So it wasn't too surprising to see the fat, waddly, un-waded newcomer to the Huron River doing his fishing from a safe, dry rock ledge just below big Eric's Bridge. Nobody ever fishes there because once hooked, a rainbow would be in the current, around the rock and over the falls while your mouth was still opening.

Yet, this old boy had obviously tied into something. He was really raring back on his heels and seemed to be holding his own, despite the odds.

Rainbow fishermen are pretty cooperative people, and each one that passed within range of those desperate, over-the-shoulder eyeballs came a-running. They'd belly out almost to the teetering point to see under the rock overhang, but instead of making with the landing nets, they'd merely give the tiring angler an encouraging thump on the shoulder and move on.

After a few such episodes I couldn't stifle my curiosity, so I finished gulping my lunch and looked for myself.

It was tough to spot the fluorescent cherry-bobber in the boiling current under the ledge — it was even tougher to stifle the guffaws when I saw the four-foot spruce root he was battling. Hooked near the end, that old rod was responding to the urgency of current and rod like a 15-pounder, giving and taking the same three feet of line again and again.

I just couldn't resist volunteering to hold his rod while he oggled his competition. He was really mad... it was really funny... and after all these years, I still chuckle.

$300,000 Hartford Grant Bid Rejected

HARTFORD — Hartford city's preliminary application for a $300,000 second-year federal community development grant has been denied by the department of Housing and Urban Development the city council was told last night.

Mayor Wayne Nelson said HUD officials informed the city via letter that its preliminary application had been denied. He said more money was applied for throughout the country than HUD has available, and Hartford was not considered high enough on the priority list of HUD for funding.

Hartford was awarded a $100,000 grant last year and the second grant would have been used to carry on work which got underway this spring. The first grant funds are being used to assist in the rehabilitation of substandard housing by making either grants or loans available for home repairs. A number of street projects, including work on paving, and gutters and drains is also to be undertaken, but will be a lot less since the city's second-year application has been denied.

In other areas, upon recommendation of Milton Wehmeier, councilman, the council designated spending $10,000 of its $24,457 in federal revenue sharing funds this year for sidewalk installation and the balance for multi-purpose and general government expenses.

The council accepted the resignation of Peter Sinclair, building inspector. Sinclair resigned due to business reasons. No replacement was named.

Nelson announced there is a vacancy on the city fire board, since Norbert Nelson has moved from the city.

IN SCHOOL ELECTION

Fennville To Vote On Millage Renewal

FENNVILLE — Fennville school district residents will vote on renewal of a one mill property tax levy for three years in the June 14 school election.

The request was placed on the ballot last night by the school board. If approved, the one mill would raise $27,600 which would be used to help pay for maintenance costs in existing buildings, according to Supt. James Tackmann.

Tackmann said renewal of the levy would result in a total 1976 property tax levy of about 30.8 mills, the same as the 1975 levy. The district has budgeted $2.4 million for the 1976-77 school year, an increase of $200,000 over the present year, Tackmann said.

Voters in the June 14 election will also choose candidates to fill two, four-year terms and one, one-year term on the school board. Candidates have until May 17 to turn in their nominating petitions, Tackmann said.

In other areas, Tackmann told the board that all teachers would receive a 5.6 per cent cost-of-living salary increase for the 1976-77 school year. He said the size of the increase was calculated according to the terms of the three-year teachers contract which is effective to June, 1978.

Under next year's salary schedule, a starting teacher with a bachelor's degree will receive $9,610, compared to $9,100 this year. A teacher with 20 years experience and a master's degree will receive $16,500 compared to $15,680 this year.

The board voted to seek bids for construction of a monument at the new middle school. The monument would identify the school and incorporate the corner stone from the recently razed old middle school as well as a bell from the Loomis school which was sold last year.

The monument was designed by high school drafting students, Tackmann said.

The board changed the date of the next school board meeting from June 14 to June 21 because of the conflict with the school election.

The board adopted recommendations from the curriculum council to add three high school classes next year. The classes to be added were consumer mechanics, a metals class and an advanced mathematics class offering pre-calculus to seniors only.

The board agreed to seek bids for the sale of a 1969, 66-passenger school bus.

It was noted that the Fennville women's club has donated a piano to the school district.

Board members said they would investigate a complaint from the union steward for eight bus drivers who were cited last week for allegedly failing to follow the instructions of Mrs. Helen Leverich, transportation supervisor.

The steward, Mrs. Ellen Hall, said the drivers were going to file a grievance against Mrs. Leverich.

Bid Okayed For Weesaw Fire Truck

NEW TROY — The Weesaw township board last night accepted the high bid of $20,083 from Barton American Fire Equipment company, Battle Creek, for the body and apparatus on the township's new fire truck.

Allan Boyd, supervisor, said the highest of four bids was accepted since it was the only one to completely meet the specifications desired by the board. Other bids were submitted by Melroy company, Hortonville, Wis., $19,308; Welch Fire Equipment, Marion, Wis., $18,985; and Fire Master Apparatus, Springfield, Mo., $19,495.

The board has already purchased the fire truck chassis at a cost of $14,998, so total cost of the new fire truck will be $35,081.

In other areas, the board approved establishing the former site of the Taylor Wax plant, New Troy, as a planned industrial development district at the request of owner Wayne Krieger. Krieger said he plans to rebuild the plant, destroyed by fire last summer, and will seek a tax exemption certificate from the state on the new construction. If approved, the planned $80,000 building would be taxed at 50 per cent for the next 12 years.

The board also approved sections 35 and 36 of the township joining in the Galien township waste water treatment facility study. The facility is to be built directly south of the Galien-Weesaw township line.

The board approved purchase of an 18-inch lawn trimmer for cemetery use from Klug Farm Supply, Eau Claire, for $100.

Pill Called Best For The Young

WASHINGTON (AP) — A high-ranking Food and Drug Administration official says birth control pills are probably the best choice of contraception for sexually active young women and teen-agers.

But the diaphragm, backed up with abortion when it fails to prevent pregnancy, is the safest method and should be considered along with other alternatives by women who are older and face other health considerations, according to Dr. J. Richard Crout, director of the FDA's Bureau of Drugs.

Defensive Driving Course This Week

A two-session defensive driving course for people 55 and over will be held at Lake Michigan college Thursday and Friday under sponsorship of the Berrien County Retired School Employees association.

The course will be 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. each day in room B207 at LMC. Mr. and Mrs. D. Richard Maxwell of Benton Harbor, instructors, said the course covers driving changes, how to cope with tailgaters, how to avoid reckless drivers and other topics.

Cost is $2 for members of the National Retired Teachers association or the American Association of Retired People and $5 for nonmembers. Attendance will be limited to 25.

Hartford Band Attendance Policy Due For Review

HARTFORD — The Hartford school board last night said it will review a school policy that academically punishes students who have unexcused absences from scheduled band performances.

The review came at the request of a group of parents concerned about six band students who had to make a choice last month between a church camp and a state band contest in Muskegon.

The church retreat had been scheduled by the students prior to the scheduling of the state band contest.

Most of the students decided to attend the band contest when they were reminded of a school policy that makes unexcused absences punishable by dismissal from the band and a failing grade for the last marking period.

One student, senior David Diebold, appeared before the board at its April 28 meeting and made an unsuccessful request to be excused from the May concert so he could attend the church retreat in Kentucky.

Parents asking for the band policy review last night were headed by Mrs. Laura Heuser of Hartford. The group submitted to the board a statement which said in part: "...When conflict occurs, it must be the judgment of parents which prevails without reprisal to students."

In other areas, the board learned it has been accredited by the North Central Accreditation association which examines and certifies high schools and other educational systems.

But the association wrote in its review, school officials said, that the current student-counselor ratio is about 495 to 1, when the accepted ratio is about 400 to 1.

Also last night, the board voted to study the possible addition of cultural courses for bilingual students; approved reimbursing bus drivers for time spent in school to maintain their licenses; and ordered the school's athletic director to try and iron out conflicts between the school's late spring events and the first athletic summer events sponsored by the Hartford Recreational council.

Black Episcopalians Protest

DETROIT (AP) — A group of black Episcopal clergymen and laymen has accused a church committee of passing over the Michigan Diocese's only black archdeacon in nominations for the election of a new assistant bishop. The protesting group, members of the Michigan chapter of the Union of Black Episcopalians, said they plan to nominate Archdeacon H. Irving Mayson from the floor at a special convention May 22. A spokesman for the group has called Archdeacon Mayson's omission a monumental insult to the Detroit community. The names of four other black priests have been submitted as nominees, but only one of them is currently in the Michigan diocese. The post of suffragan, or assistant bishop, has been open since 1972 Bishop Archie H. Crowley left the job in 1972. "In the city of Detroit, the sixth largest city in the country, a city predominantly black, there is not a single black clergy leader of bishop status. We need this kind of leadership," said the Rt. Rev. H. Coleman McGehee, the bishop of the diocese. Of 80,000 diocese members, some 5,000 are black.

Township Approves New Zone Ordinance

WATERVLIET — A new zoning ordinance was adopted by the Watervliet township board last night after nearly two years of work.

Jordan Tatter, planning commission chairman, said the new ordinance includes all the recommendations made at a public hearing earlier this year by township residents.

The ordinance is effective June 9 and will be published within 10 days with a zoning map attached. Copies of the ordinance will also be available at the township hall after printing.

The board thanked the planning commission for its service on the project. Cited for their work were Trustee Robert Morlock, Tatter, Hart Lee, Larry McClanahan, Doug Epple, Carol Eichelberger, Norma Hutchins, and Jane Bates. Serving as an ex-officio member was William Gaines.

In other business, the board voted to write a letter to the city of Watervliet stating that the township has no objections to the rezoning of property for Community hospital.

The proposed hospital site is adjacent to township property and up until two years ago was located in the township. At that time the city successfully annexed the land.

Supervisor Lyle Woodworth announced the township will receive $5,032 in federal revenue sharing funds for this federal period and the money will be used in the police and fire protection accounts.

Indiana & Michigan Electric company notified the board by letter that it will no longer make electrical inspections in the township. The company will not provide new electrical power service until informed in writing that a licensed electrician has approved wiring and electrical boxes.

The board voted not to hire an electrical inspector to do this work but rather to have property owners hire their own licensed electrician and in turn notify I & M for power hook-ups.

Watervliet's winning entry in the Blossomtime festival was praised by the board and Woodworth told Gordon Knutson of the Watervliet Lions club that $100 toward the float has been budgeted by the township.

Knutson reported the float is sponsored each year by the Lions, but that finances come from the Watervliet Paper Mill, First National Bank of Watervliet, and the city and township. He thanked the township for its participation and noted that the local entry has won six first place awards in the last nine years.

Woodworth told residents of the Lawndale subdivision that speed limit signs for Cherry and Chestnut streets have been ordered to help with the problem of speeding cars and motorcycles. He said he has also notified the joint city-township police of the problem.

Trustee Lawrence Strouse reported the police made 73 calls in the township last month and Clerk Barbara Tyler reported the ambulance service made 26 calls in April.

Morlock was appointed chairman of a special committee to study a proposal for creating a separate budget for the sewer fund and other phases of the sewer system.

Mrs. Tyler, Morlock and Treasurer Eleanor Krell also announced they were running for re-election in November. Mrs. Tyler is seeking her second, two-year term as clerk. Mrs. Krell is running for her third, two-year term as treasurer, and Morlock is seeking his second, four-year term as trustee.

Hackett Retains Post At Andrews

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Willis J. Hackett has been re-elected chairman of the board of trustees of Andrews university here. Hackett was re-elected after the board's organizing body, which convenes every five years to elect members, filled the 40-member board.

Hackett is general vice-president of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists.

Lowell L. Bock, president of the Lake Union Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, was named vice chairman of the AU board.

Dr. Joseph G. Smoot was named as president-elect of AU and other officers re-named were V.E. Garber, vice-president for financial affairs, and Charles E. Upshaw, vice-president for student affairs. Other officers will be named at a later date. Also elected were the deans of the various divisions of the university.

New members elected to the board of trustees included Elsie L. Buck of Berrien Springs, Dr. John R. Ford, Earl Laurence, Werner Lightner, Ellsworth McKee, Leonard McMillan, Marie Robinson, Max C. Torkelson, and Carolyn Zima. New advisory members include E. Wayne Sheppard of Berrien Springs and C. Dunbar Henri.

The newly appointed board met Sunday and yesterday at the university here. Among action taken was approval of a $3.2 million increase in the budget from $17.5 to $20.7 million for 1976-77.

Mollhagen's Agreement Is Compensation Breakthrough

By JOHN VANDEN HEEDÉ
Conservation Editor

The commercial fishermen compensation dilemma appears resolved through two agreements with the state — including one with Lloyd Mollhagen of St. Joseph.

Mollhagen, who now runs a sportfishing tackle and bait shop on the St. Joseph River's Morrison Channel, and Lester and L. William Carlson of Leland have signed agreements which give them compensation for going out of the commercial fishing business.

Mollhagen has agreed to $35,000 compensation and the Carlsons have signed for $26,724. The compensation equals about 63 per cent of the average value of their catches over a three-year period (1971-73).

In exchange, the fishermen have agreed to stop fishing chubs with small mesh gill nets. They have also agreed that there is no harvestable surplus of chubs in Lake Michigan.

When contacted by this newspaper on the agreement, which is slated to get Natural Resources Commission consideration this week, Mollhagen said he would have "an agreement until I get my hands of the money." Before the agreement, he had made plans to sue the Department of Natural Resources on the compensation issue.

Mollhagen's agreement doesn't mean that he can't become a commercial fisherman some day in the future. The pact says that if it is determined that there is a harvestable surplus of chubs in the future, Mollhagen may apply for the termination of the suspension of his license, without necessity of paying any fee or penalty other than the annual license renewal fee for any year in which fishing is authorized.

Meanwhile, the DNR sees the agreements as a possible breakthrough in solving the gill net and compensation problems.

"We visualize that many other requests for compensation will be forthcoming and that in future months these requests can be consolidated for commission action," declared Henry J. Voldetti of the DNR's fisheries division in a memorandum to the Natural Resources Commission.

DNR officials have stated that they didn't think compensation was necessary for fishermen stopping gill net operations... saying herring gill nets were under their constitutional police power. But in the memorandum to the commission, they also recognized "that both the executive and legislative branches of government wish to act with compassion for the individual commercial fisherman."

The legislature has appropriated $1.5 million to the DNR for commercial fisheries compensation. The money could eventually go to about 90 fishermen.

Continuing court cases have been frustrating DNR effort to regulate commercial fishing, but fisheries department officials now have cause for hope on that front.

The recent decision of the Michigan Supreme Court in State Conservation Department vs. McGinnis and Sentman upholds the constitutionality of the DNR director's authority to regulate commercial fishing and the administrative rules developed under that authority.

Voldetti says the decision "should greatly enhance the department's legal position in effecting meaningful controls on fishing that are presently being litigated in many courts."

Allegan Turkey Kill Is Second Lowest

The Allegan spring turkey season ended Sunday with an overall kill of 24 — the second lowest harvest in the seven-year history of the hunt.

Twenty-eight birds were taken a year ago, and the record of 37 was set in 1974. The lowest kill was 15 in 1970, the first year of the spring turkey hunting at Allegan.

But district Department of Natural Resources turkey expert Timothy Payne isn't concerned about this year's lower kill. He points out that there were 25 per cent fewer permits issued this year — down to 300 from 400.

Payne also feels that the splitting of the hunting area into two units for the first time, a possible earlier mating season and some bad weather were factors in the reduced harvest.

The division of the hunting area into units north and south of the Kalamazoo River distributed hunters more and lowered hunting pressure on some turkey flocks, Payne contends.

Payne's guess that the mating season was earlier this year is based on the fact that hunters reported hearing fewer birds this year. Payne also heard less gobbling in his pre-season survey.

Weather hurt success last week, when high winds Wednesday were followed by rain.

"I think the season was a success," declares Payne. "I thought the kill would be down a little bit."

Payne estimates the Allegan turkey population at 450 birds, which is about the same as a year ago or perhaps down, somewhat.

Pigeon River Action Expected This Week

Michigan's Natural Resources Commission is scheduled to take action on a year-long controversy involving the question of oil and gas development in the Pigeon River Country State Forest at a Thursday and Friday meeting in Lansing.

The meeting, which begins at 9 a.m. both days, will be held in the State Law Building auditorium, 525 West Ottawa Street (just north of the Stevens T. Mason Building).

Department of Natural Resources director Howard A. Tanner says the commission's decision may center around three major options: to allow no drilling at all in the forest; to establish a drilling moratorium over a period of years by extending oil leases; or to limit drilling to only the so-called Unit 1 area in the southern one-third of the forest, below a proposed no-drill boundary along the Pigeon River.

Tanner says a fourth alternative is still possible, but apparently not practical — to allow some drilling throughout the 145-square-mile forest in Otsego, Cheboygan and Montmorency counties.

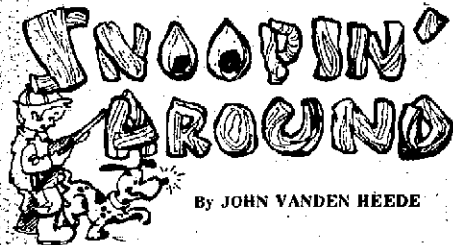

"The commission is considering the merits of at least the three major options as outlined, while the important but complex review procedure involving public hearings and public input is now behind it," states Tanner.

He notes that a series of public hearings on the question were held in early and late 1975 and that numerous letters and comments have been received from citizens throughout the state. Reviews by both the Michigan Environmental Review Board and the DNR-appointed Pigeon River Advisory Council will also be weighed by commissioners.

However, only five of the commission's seven members are expected to vote. Commissioner Dean Pridgen of Montmorency was ruled ineligible because of conflict of interest by the State Ethics Board on April 30. He is an official of Michigan Farm Bureau, which is engaged in oil interests. On May 3, commissioner Hilary F. Snell of Grand Rapids, an attorney, disqualified himself from further participation in the Pigeon River issue saying the law firm in which he is a partner "may represent a client who has some indirect relationship with the Pigeon River decision."

By JOHN VANDEN HEEDÉ

There will be another alewife dieoff this summer along the Lake Michigan shoreline, but it should be smaller than last year, according to LaRue "Tex" Wells of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife's laboratory in Ann Arbor.

Wells, while speaking at the eighth annual Midwest Salmon Seminar in Michigan City, said the dieoff could be lighter than 1975 because the fish are in better physical shape.

"It shouldn't be too bad," declared Wells, "and nothing like in 1967."

The Fish and Wildlife Service found alewives to be in poor physical shape in the fall of 1974 and predicted a larger dieoff in 1975, and according to Wells' findings, the problem of dead fish on beaches apparently was worse.

The Michigan Steelheaders now have their "hot line" for fishing information in operation. Information is compiled on Wednesday and put on the "hot line" tape Thursday. The "hot line" number is 1-381-0583.

The purchase of an 80-acre addition to the Crane Pond State Game Area in Cass county is expected to receive Natural Resources Commission approval this week.

The land is being offered by Orlando O. Okleshen of Richton Park, Ill., for $15,000. The land would be purchased with Public Recreation Bond Funds.

The unimproved, timbered tract is located within the project boundaries of Crane Pond. It is contiguous to state-owned land for a half mile along the entire east line.

The land is hilly, mostly tree and brush covered, with a small worked out gravel pit near the northern part.

The Natural Resources Commission has rescinded its previous tentative approval for watercraft control rules on Eagle Lake in Allegan county.

The move comes after a second public hearing where persons in attendance were about evenly divided on the rules issue. The Cheshire Township Board also voted 5-0 in March not to approve any rules at this time.

Many Great Lakes freighters and other large commercial boats are still without holding tanks and passing sewage directly into the lakes.

Michigan has been under a restraining order since 1971 not to enforce the holding tank law on commercial boats. The order was obtained by the Lake Carriers Association.

And Bill Turney, chief of the Department of Natural Resources environmental protection bureau, doesn't believe the issue will be decided in the near future. "It seems apparent that their goal is to keep this thing tied up as long as they can," Turney charges.

Ship owners say the state does not have enough pump-out facilities in which to empty holding tanks. They also contend that the sewage plants that treat wastes in pump-out facilities do not treat it any better than it could be treated on boats.

The DNR says sewage treatment facilities on boats cannot be maintained in satisfactory working order and are too easy to bypass.

And the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency this spring ruled that Michigan's pump-out and treatment facilities are adequate to justify the holding tank law.

About 40 large commercial boats have converted to holding tanks and are reporting no problems, Turney reports. These include the Ford Motor Co.'s fleet and the Beaver Island and Bois Blanc Island ferries.

In a related matter, the Canadian federal government has asked the U.S. State Department to exempt Canadian commercial boats from Michigan's holding tank law. The request is being considered in Washington.

Tax-Reverted State Land Sales Set

Nearly 1,400 parcels of tax-reverted state land in 32 southern Michigan counties are slated for public auction in late May by the Department of Natural Resources.

Sales are scheduled at Paw Paw on May 18; Grand Rapids, May 19; Saginaw, May 20; Flint, May 21; Detroit, May 25; Jackson, May 28; and Pontiac, May 27. All sales start at 10 a.m. Auction lists containing land descriptions, minimum bids, and the country buildings or other auction headquarters are available from most southern Michigan county treasurers. DNR Lands Division officials are in charge of the sales.

Visiting Is Restricted At Some Campgrounds

Michigan campers are reminded by the Department of Natural Resources that visitor restrictions are now in effect at 18 state park and recreation area campgrounds.

The rule is designed to prevent overcrowding at popular Lower Peninsula campgrounds, says the DNR.

The visitor ban is in effect through June 15 at Mears State Park near Pentwater and at Bay City State Park; and through June 25 at Pontiac Lake, Oakland county.

Other areas, where the rule will be enforced through Labor Day, include recreation areas at Brighton (Appleton Lake and Murray Lake camps), Livingston county; Pinckney (Crooked Lake and Glenbrook campgrounds), Livingston county; and Waterloo (Portage Lake and Green Lake campgrounds), near Jackson.

Also, these state parks: Hayes, near Onsted; Holland (Lake Mucadawna campground), Ottawa county; Island Lake (Russell Woods campground), near Brighton; Lakeport, at Port Huron; Lidington (Pines, Cedar and Beechwood campgrounds), Mason county; Metamora-Hindley, Lapeer county; Muskegon (Lake Michigan campground), Muskegon county; Port Crescent, Huron county; Proud Lake, near Milford; Silver Lake, near Mears; Sleeper, near Cassville, and South Higgins Lake, near Rosemarion.

Fishing Report

Changing weather and water temperatures have scattered fish in Lake Michigan off southwestern Michigan.

But more and more lake trout are showing up in the catch, including some limits of three. Much of the fishing has been over 80 to 100 feet of water, but it has ranged out to five miles off shore.

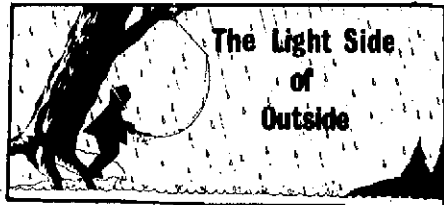

Tudpollies and flitterspoons worked from the surface down to 20 feet have been among top producing baits for trout and salmon.

Boat Check Set

A free boat safety inspection will be held by the St. Joseph Coast Guard Auxiliary Saturday and Sunday, May 22 and 23, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the St. Joseph Coast Guard Station.

Spring rainbow fishing in high water is not for the faint-footed. Even strong, aggressive waders occasionally find themselves tumbling downstream.

So it wasn't too surprising to see the fat, waddly, un-waded newcomer to the Huron River doing his fishing from a safe, dry rock ledge just below big Eric's Bridge. Nobody ever fishes there because once hooked, a rainbow would be in the current, around the rock and over the falls while your mouth was still opening.

Yet, this old boy had obviously tied into something. He was really raring back on his heels and seemed to be holding his own, despite the odds.

Rainbow fishermen are pretty cooperative people, and each one that passed within range of those desperate, over-the-shoulder eyeballs came a-running. They'd belly out almost to the teetering point to see under the rock overhang, but instead of making with the landing nets, they'd merely give the firing angler an encouraging thump on the shoulder and move on.

It was tough to spot the fluorescent cherry-bopper in the boiling current under the ledge — it was even tougher to stifle the guffaws when I saw the four-foot spruce root he was battling. Hooked near the end, that old root was responding to the urgency of current and rod like a 15-pounder, giving and taking the same three feet of line again and again.

I just couldn't resist volunteering to hold his rod while he ogled his competition. He was really mad... it was really funny... and after all these years, I still chuckle.

Two Must Repay Welfare Funds

As a part of their Berrien Fifth District court sentences for welfare fraud, two women Monday were ordered to make restitution of the money they illegally received.

Pleading guilty and sentenced for welfare fraud under $500 were Edna I. Krajewski, 26, of 604 West John Beers road, Stevensville; and Lillie V. Campbell, 42, of Hurd avenue, Benton township.

Edna Krajewski was sentenced to fine and costs of $105, two years probation and restitution of $811.50 which she unlawfully received between April and August of 1973. At the time she had two children on ADC, according to the Michigan office of the Inspector General. A charge involving fraud over $500 was dismissed.

Lillie Campbell was sentenced to fine and costs of $75 and restitution of $111. During the month of May, 1975, she failed to report extra income, resulting in an ADC overpayment, according to Inspector General Investigator Annie Spann.

They were sentenced by District Judge Ronald J. Taylor.

Three Delinquent Dads Face Judge

One delinquent father avoided jail by paying his child support arrearage Monday in Berrien Circuit court but another father with $3,750 arrears was sentenced to 30 days in jail.

Special Investigator Edward Patrick of the Berrien friend of the court's office reported:

Melvin E. Downs, of New Buffalo, paid his entire arrearage of $309 for one child not on ADC to avoid a 10-day jail sentence with which Judge Chester J. Byrns threatened him. Downs was held in contempt of court for the arrearage and placed on two years probation. He was also ordered to find work in 40 days or spend 30 days in jail.

Michael Walter, of Galien, got 30 days in jail from Byrns for $3,750 arrears for one ADC child, and was placed on two years probation after being held in contempt. The judge also told Walter to find work within 30 days of his release from jail or spend another 60 days in jail. Patrick noted Walter has made 23 weekly support payments since the order was entered in September, 1972.

Philip Hoelcher, of Niles, was held in contempt and placed on two years probation for $2,090 arrears for one child not on ADC, and ordered to sign a wage assignment of $26 weekly support plus $4 weekly towards the arrearage. He was also warned that if he misses four payments he'll spend a year in jail.

Patrick said Hoelcher has made five support payments since December, 1973.

Galien Council Hikes Property Tax .5 Mill

GALIEN — The Galien village council last night raised the village property tax rate a half-mill to 4½ mills to cover increased operating costs.

According to Johanna Backus, village assessor, last year's four mills raised $8,656 and this year's 4½ mills would bring in approximately $9,432. The village budget last year was approximately $70,000.

In other areas, Clerk Sandra Ostrander, was directed by the council to purchase three file cabinets, 25 folding chairs and eight regular chairs for the village hall. Total cost is not to exceed $1,050.

The council also voted to use $1,455 in federal revenue sharing funds for village hall improvements.

The council also passed a resolution giving Berrien county the authority to take care of bonding for the Galien sanitary sewer project.

Van Buren Judge Sends 4 To Jail

PAW PAW — Four men received jail terms yesterday from Judge Meyer Warshawsky in Van Buren circuit court.

Sentenced as a result of earlier guilty pleas were:

Roderio S. Machado, 25, 301 South Haver, Hartford, four months in jail on a charge of attempting to conceal stolen property, a citizens' band radio Feb. 11 in Hartford.

Danny Mann, 18, M-40, Lawton, 60 days in jail, fine of $200, and two years probation on a charge of entering without breaking a tool shed in Lawton last Aug. 28.

Roger Duane Smith, 21, Otsego, 30 days in jail on a charge of probation violation. He had been placed on two years probation in August, 1974 on a charge of larceny from an auto.

Edgar John Pullen, 21, Paw Paw, three months in jail on a charge of malicious destruction of property, a pickup truck belonging to Van Buren Sheriff Richard E. Stump, on Oct. 19, 1974.

In arraignments, Alvin Junior Greer, 19, 313 Spencer, South Haven, pleaded guilty to a charge of attempting to break and enter the Blueberry Equipment company, 1375 Kalamazoo street, South Haven, on April 23.

William Hennefert, 25, rural Dowagiac, pleaded innocent to a charge of breaking and entering the Lake Lodge, Keeler township, on April 14.

Carl E. Cooper, 23, Hartford, pleaded innocent to a charge of first-degree criminal sexual conduct (formerly rape) in connection with a complaint by a 15-year-old Decatur girl that she was assaulted in April.

Rodney Butler, 22, Kalamazoo, pleaded innocent to two counts of assault with intent to do great bodily harm and two counts of malicious destruction of property. The charges stem from complaints by two motorists that objects were thrown at their cars from the CR-653 overpass while they were traveling on I-94 last Dec. 28.

Tommy Love, 17, route 1, South Haven, pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny in a building growing out of the theft of a pistol from a Covert home Feb. 9.

New Buffalo Beach Stickers Available

NEW BUFFALO — Free car stickers will be given to all New Buffalo city and township residents this year for admittance to the city beach and picnic area.

William Geisler, city park board member, said all non-residents will pay a fee of $1 per day for use of the city beach and picnic area.

Residents may pick up as many as two stickers per family by presenting the license plate number of their auto at the city or township hall. If no sticker is on the windshield of the car, a fee of $1 will be charged.

Fees for the boat ramp and boat parking area will be $10 for a season pass or $2 per day. This fee is separate from the beach and picnic area stickers.

Geisler reported that $12,000 has been taken out of city revenue sharing funds to improve the city beach, picnic area and boat launching site.

Murder Suspect Is Denied 2nd Hearing

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — Judge Meyer Warshawsky of Van Buren circuit court yesterday denied a bid by a man accused of killing a South Haven city councilman's wife to obtain a new preliminary examination.

In doing so, Judge Warshawsky ruled that Judge Donald M. Goodwillie, Jr. of South Haven acted properly in both issuing a warrant for the man's arrest, then acting as magistrate in the man's preliminary examination.

The motion was introduced by Atty. Andrew Burch of Coloma on behalf of Edwin Lamar Langston, 23, South Haven, who is charged with first-degree murder in the shooting death last Dec. 1 of Mrs. Arretta Lou Ingham, wife of Councilman Wilbur Ingham.

Mrs. Ingham was slain during a holdup at a neighborhood grocery store owned by the couple. Ronnie L. Wilson, 27, Gary, Ind., who is also charged with first-degree murder in connection with the shooting, is scheduled to go on trial in circuit court May 25.

In asking for the new hearing, Burch argued that the prosecution failed to establish during the preliminary examination that there was probable cause to bind Langston to circuit court for trial, adding that testimony only established that he knew of the shooting but not that he was necessarily involved.

Burch also said that state law prohibited Judge Goodwillie from issuing a warrant for Langston's arrest the night of the shooting, then later presiding over the preliminary examination.

To do so, Burch stated, was a violation of Langston's right to due process because Goodwillie was acting as both an investigator and accuser in issuing the warrant, and could not be impartial in then hearing the preliminary examination.

Burch said Judge Goodwillie had questioned a witness, Mrs. Alta Madry, at the state police post in South Haven prior to issuing the warrant for Langston's arrest.

Prosecutor Frank D. Willis argued that Langston was identified by a witness during the preliminary examination as having been at the scene, and that Burch had misinterpreted the state law.

"The law provides that the magistrate that issues the warrant shall also preside over the preliminary examination," the prosecutor stated.

Judge Warshawsky said he had reviewed the 227-page transcript of the hearing and found there was reason to bind Langston over to circuit court.

The judge also said he believed Judge Goodwillie was correct in not disqualifying himself from the preliminary examination, and that thoroughly questioning Mrs. Madry was necessary in order to make sure there were grounds for the arrest warrant.

Hartford Fighters Sentenced

PAW PAW — Three men were sentenced Monday in Van Buren Seventh district court on charges growing out of an April 19 disturbance outside the Southern Inn in Hartford.

Artie Joe Roy, 31, 6443 Thelma, Paw Paw, was sentenced by Judge William C. Buhl to serve 15 days in jail, fined $150, and placed on two years probation on a charge of attempting to resist arrest. He had been charged with resisting arrest after police broke up a fight outside the restaurant.

Donald C. Rhinehart, 27, 77th avenue, and Allen D. Williams, 21, 410 North Center, Hartford, were both fined $30 on charges of being disorderly. Rhinehart was also placed on six to 12 months probation, and Williams on three to six months probation.

Both had originally been charged with resisting arrest.

In another case, Steve Geresy, 48, Kalamazoo, was sentenced to serve three days in jail, fined $80, and placed on probation for one to two years on a reduced charge of assault.

He had originally been charged with felonious assault following a complaint by James Kerr, Mattawan, that a man had tried to run him down with a car outside a wedding reception last Sept. 13.

$300,000 Hartford Grant Bid Rejected

HARTFORD — Hartford city's preliminary application for a $300,000 second-year federal community development grant has been denied by the department of Housing and Urban Development. The city council was told last night.

Mayor Wayne Nelson said HUD officials informed the city via letter that its preliminary application had been denied. He said more money was applied for throughout the country than

Hartford was awarded a $100,000 grant last year and the second grant would have been used to carry on work which got underway this spring. The first grant funds are being used to assist in the rehabilitation of substandard housing by making either grants or loans available for home repairs. A number of street projects, including work on paving, and gutters and drains is also to be undertaken, but will be a lot less since the city's second-year application has been denied.

In other areas, upon recommendation of Milton Weinberger, councilman, the council designated spending $10,000 of its $24,457 in federal revenue sharing funds this year for sidewalk installation and the balance for multi-purpose and general government expenses.

The council accepted the resignation of Peter Sinclair, building inspector. Sinclair resigned due to business reasons. No replacement was named.

The council granted Homer Jackson, superintendent of public works, permission to purchase a sewer router for $381.

The council also instructed Mrs. Jewell Story, city clerk, to look into the possibility of renting another type copier for 30 days for city hall use. The council feels the current copier machine is costing too much money.

IN SCHOOL ELECTION

Fennville To Vote On Millage Renewal

FENNVILLE — Fennville school district residents will vote on renewal of a one mill property tax levy for three years in the June 14 school election.

The request was placed on the ballot last night by the school board. If approved, the one mill would raise $27,600 which would be used to help pay for maintenance costs in existing buildings, according to Supt. James Tackmann.

Tackmann said renewal of the levy would result in a total 1976 property tax levy of about 30.8 mills, the same as the 1975 levy. The district has budgeted $2.4 million for the 1976-77 school year, an increase of $200,000 over the present year. Tackmann said.

Voters in the June 14 election will also choose candidates to fill two, four-year terms and one, one-year term on the school board. Candidates have until May 17 to turn in their nominating petitions, Tackmann said.

Bid Okayed For Weesaw Fire Truck

NEW TROY — The Weesaw township board last night accepted the high bid of $20,083 from Barton American Fire Equipment company, Battle Creek, for the body and apparatus on the township's new fire truck.

Allan Boyd, supervisor, said the highest of four bids was accepted since it was the only one to completely meet the specifications desired by the board. Other bids were submitted by Melroy company, Hortonville, Wis., $19,308; Welch Fire Equipment, Marlon, Wis., $16,985; and Fire Master Apparatus, Springfield, Mo., $19,495.

The board has already purchased the fire truck chassis at a cost of $14,988, so total cost of the new fire truck will be $35,081.

In other areas, the board approved establishing the former site of the Taylor Wax plant, New Troy, as a planned industrial development district at the request of owner Wayne Krieger. Krieger said he plans to rebuild the plant, destroyed by fire last summer, and will seek a tax exemption certificate from the state on the new construction. If approved, the planned $30,000 building would be taxed at 50 per cent for the next 12 years.

The board also approved sections 35 and 36 of the township joining in the Galien township waste water treatment facility study. The facility is to be built directly south of the Galien-Weesaw township line.

The board approved purchase of an 18-inch lawn trimmer for cemetery use from Klug Farm Supply, Eau Claire, for $100.

Pill Called Best For The Young

WASHINGTON (AP) — A high-ranking Food and Drug Administration official says birth control pills are probably the best choice of contraception for sexually active young women and teen-agers.

But the diaphragm, backed up with abortion when it fails to prevent pregnancy, is the safest method and should be considered along with other alternatives by women who are older and face other health considerations, according to Dr. J. Richard Crut, director of the FDA's Bureau of Drugs.

In other areas, Tackmann told the board that all teachers would receive a 5.8 per cent cost-of-living salary increase for the 1976-77 school year. He said the size of the increase was calculated according to the terms of the three-year teachers contract which is effective to June, 1978.

Under next year's salary schedule, a starting teacher with a bachelor's degree will receive $9,810, compared to $9,100 this year. A teacher with 20 years experience and a master's degree will receive $16,500 compared to $15,800 this year.

The board voted to seek bids for construction of a monument at the new middle school. The monument would identify the school and incorporate the corner stone from the recently razed old middle school as well as a bell from the Loomis school which was sold last year.

The monument was designed by high school drafting students, Tackmann said.

The board changed the date of the next school board meeting from June 14 to June 21 because of the conflict with the school election.

The board adopted recommendations from the curriculum council to add three high school classes next year. The classes to be added were consumer mechanics, a metals class and an advanced mathematics class offering pre-calculus to seniors only.

The board agreed to seek bids for the sale of a 1968, 66-passenger school bus.

It was noted that the Fennville women's club has donated a piano to the school district.

Board members said they would investigate a complaint from the union steward for eight bus drivers who were cited last week for allegedly failing to follow the instructions of Mrs. Helen Leverich, transportation supervisor.

The steward, Mrs. Ellen Hall, said the drivers were going to file a grievance against Mrs. Leverich.

Hartford Band Attendance Policy Due For Review

HARTFORD — The Hartford school board last night said it will review a school policy that academically punishes students who have unexcused absences from scheduled band performances.

The review came at the request of a group of parents concerned about six band students who had to make a choice last month between a church camp and a state band contest in Muskegon.

The church retreat had been scheduled by the students prior to the scheduling of the state band contest.

Most of the students decided to attend the band contest when they were reminded of a school policy that makes unexcused absences punishable by dismissal from the band and a failing grade for the last marking period.

One student, senior David Diebold, appeared before the board at its April 28 meeting and made an unsuccessful request to be excused from the May concert so he could attend the church retreat in Kentucky.

Parents asking for the band policy review last night were headed by Mrs. Laura Heuser of Hartford. The group submitted to the board a statement which said in part: "...When conflict occurs, it must be the judgment of parents which prevails without reprisal to students."

In other areas, the board learned it has been accredited by the North Central Accreditation association which examines and certifies high schools and other educational systems.

But the association wrote in its review, school officials said, that the current student-conductor ratio is about 495 to 1, when the accepted ratio is about 400 to 1.

Also last night, the board voted to study the possible addition of cultural courses for bilingual students; approved reimbursing bus drivers for time spent in school to maintain their licenses; and ordered the school's athletic director to try and iron out conflicts between the school's late spring events and the first athletic summer events sponsored by the Hartford Recreation council.

Black Episcopalians Protest

DETROIT (AP) — A group of black Episcopal clergymen and laymen has accused a church committee of passing over the Michigan Diocese's only black archdeacon in nominations for the election of a new assistant bishop. The protesting group, members of the Michigan chapter of the Union of Black Episcopalians, said they plan to nominate Archdeacon H. Irving Mayson from the floor at a special convention May 22. A spokesman for the group has called Archdeacon Mayson's omission a "monumental insult to the Detroit community. The names of four other black priests have been submitted as nominees, but only one of them is currently in the Michigan diocese. The post of suffragan, or assistant bishop, has been open since 1972 Bishop Archie H. Crowley left the job in 1972. "In the city of Detroit, the sixth largest city in the country, a city predominantly black, there is not a single black clergy leader of bishop status. We need this kind of leadership," said the Rt. Rev. H. Coleman McGehee, the bishop of the diocese. Of 80,000 diocese members, some 5,000 are black.

Township Approves New Zone Ordinance

WATERVLIET — A new zoning ordinance was adopted by the Watervliet township board last night after nearly two years of work.

Jordan Tatter, planning commission chairman, said the new ordinance includes all the recommendations made at a public hearing earlier this year by township residents.

The ordinance is effective June 9 and will be published within 10 days with a zoning map attached. Copies of the ordinance will also be available at the township hall after printing.

The board thanked the planning commission for its service on the project. Cited for their work were Trustee Robert Morlock, Tatter, Earl Lee, Larry McClanahan, Doug Apple, Carol Eichelberger, Norma Hutchins, and June Bates. Serving as an ex-officio member was William Gaines.

In other business, the board voted to write a letter to the city of Watervliet stating that the township has no objections to the rezoning of property for Community hospital.

The proposed hospital site is adjacent to township property and up until two years ago was located in the township. At that time the city successfully annexed the land.

Supervisor Lyle Woodworth announced the township will receive $8,032 in federal revenue sharing funds for this federal period and the money will be used in the police and fire protection accounts.

Indiana & Michigan Electric company notified the board by letter that it will no longer make electrical inspections in the township. The company will not provide new electrical power service until informed in writing that a licensed electrician has approved wiring and electrical boxes.

The board voted not to hire an electrical inspector to do this work but rather to have property owners hire their own licensed electrician and in turn notify I & M for power hook-ups.

Watervliet's winning entry in the Blussonline festival was praised by the board and Woodworth told Gordon Knutson of the Watervliet Lions club that $100 toward the float has been budgeted by the township.

Knutson reported the float is sponsored each year by the Lions, but that finances come from the Watervliet Paper Mill, First National Bank of Watervliet, and the city and township. He thanked the township for its participation and noted that the local entry has won six first place awards in the last nine years.

Woodworth told residents of the Layndale subdivision that speed limit signs for Cherry and Chestnut streets have been ordered to help with the problem of speeding cars and motorcycles. He said he has also notified the joint city-township police of the problem.

Trustee Lawrence Strouse reported the police made 73 calls in the township last month and Clerk Barbara Tyler reported the ambulance service made 26 calls in April.

Morlock was appointed chairman of a special committee to study a proposal for creating a separate budget for the sewer fund and other phases of the sewer system.

Mrs. Tyler, Morlock and Treasurer Eleanor Krell also announced they were running for re-election in November. Mrs. Tyler is seeking her second, two-year term as clerk. Mrs. Krell is running for her third, two-year term as treasurer, and Morlock is seeking his second, four-year term as trustee.

Nebraska, West Virginia Going To Ballot Box Today

By Associated Press

Jimmy Carter, far ahead in the race for the Democratic presidential nomination, took on a new foe in Nebraska's primary election today while President Ford tried to throttle Ronald Reagan's challenge in Republican voting there and in West Virginia.

Democrats were voting, too, in West Virginia, where the field was limited to two candidates, and in Connecticut, where the election was just the first step in picking the state's national convention delegation.

Ford, loser of four primaries in a row, squared off with Reagan in statewide popularity contests with no effect on the delegate count. But 25 Republican delegates were at stake in Nebraska in separate contests in congressional districts and West Virginians chose 28 delegates uncommitted by state law.

Reagan went into today's primaries with 396 delegates to Ford's 309, with 1,130 needed for the nomination and 1,207 yet to be chosen.

The major Democratic contest was in Nebraska, where Sen. Frank Church of Idaho made his primary debut. There were 11 candidates on the Democratic ballot and 23 delegates at stake, but only Church and Carter campaigned there.

Sen. Robert Byrd, running as a favorite son, was considered the favorite in West Virginia's Democratic primary although, by law, the state's 33 delegates are uncommitted. The only other candidate on the ballot was Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, whose campaign in the state was hampered by a lack of money.

In Connecticut, Democrats voted in a party-run primary to choose delegates to June 12 congressional district conventions that will in turn pick the state's 51 delegates to the national convention.

Carter, Rep. Morris K. Udall of Arizona and Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington were the main contenders there, though Jackson announced over a week ago an end to his active campaign.

Carter led the Democrats before this week's voting with 569 delegates to 199 for Jackson, 187.5 for Udall and 138 for Wallace. Another 1,453 are to be chosen, with 1,505 needed for the nomination.

Glenn Man Bids For Allegan Seat

GLENN — Republican Samuel D. Hoffman of Glenn has announced his candidacy for election to the Allegan county board of commissioners from the second district.

The district includes Fennville city and Ganges, Manlius and Clyde townships.

Hoffman is a math and science teacher in the Fennville school system, and has a master's degree in education from Old Dominion university in Norfolk, Va.

He is a 1945 graduate of Allegan high school and graduated from the U.S. Naval academy in 1950.

He retired from the Navy in 1970 after 20 years of service. He is presently a member of the Ganges township planning board and board of appeals. He and his wife Doris have two daughters. The family lives in Ganges township.

Lohman, 66, is ending 24 years of service on governmental boards.

He has served as a trustee and supervisor on the Manlius township board and is completing his 15th year on the Allegan county board of commissioners.

He is in his fifth consecutive year as county board chairman.

Detroit Chief Urges Tighter Bail Rules

ROMULUS, Mich. (AP) — Detroit Police Chief Philip Tannian has called for a look at tightening bail standards for repeat offenders charged with violent crimes.

In a speech Monday before a two-day criminal justice symposium, Tannian also criticized the wide degree of discretion allowed judges during sentences.

"Bail is regarded as such a total and absolute right that people take it for granted — and we have numerous individuals charged with first-degree murder out walking the streets of this county," Tannian said.

Calling the state's absolute right to bail except in cases of murder or treason "the most liberal bail provisions we can find in any state," Tannian urged a public debate on "tightening up" of bail rights. The tightening up, he said, would be for "15 per cent of individuals arrested who are responsible for two-thirds of the state's violent felonies."

Wayne County Prosecutor William Cahalan agreed with Tannian's criticism of sentencing.

AMERICAN PARTY DECLINES

It's Hard Without Wallace

BOONVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Arlis Pettyjohn, known in his hometown of Boonville as a good old boy, became chairman of the American party in North Carolina in 1971.

Since then, Pettyjohn, 38, has run for governor and lost miserably, and he has seen his party erode to the point that party faithful had to canvass shopping center parking lots to get 10,000 signatures just to get back on the state ballot.

A survey by The Associated Press shows the problems of the American party in North Carolina are mirrored and, in some cases, magnified throughout the party's former stronghold: the Southeastern states.

In Georgia, for example, the party claims only about 400 members. And in Alabama, home of the party's 1968 presidential candidate, Gov. George Wallace, there is no active party organization.

The troubles of the party have had their effect on loyalists such as Pettyjohn. His involvement in the party put a touch of the politician in his soul, and losses by the party added a dash of the philosopher.

"We feel principles are more important than being with a winner," he says.

He assessed the national party's fall from 10 million votes in the 1968 presidential election to one million in 1972 as "one of the different phases" the party has gone through.

"It doesn't mean we're losing ground. Many people voted for Nixon in '72 because they were afraid of McGovern. They didn't vote their consciences," he said.

The party's national chairman, Tom Anderson of Gatlinburg, Tenn., offers a more forthright explanation of the party's struggles since 1968:

"We lost ballot positions in many states in '72 because, frankly, it's somewhat difficult to get people without a big-name candidate. But we got more than any other so-called third party."

Anderson, 65, a retired editor of farm magazines, was the party's vice presidential candidate in 1972. He ran on a ticket with former Republican congressman John G. Schmitz of California.

In the absence of George Wallace in 1972, the party floundered badly. While party leaders such as Anderson and Pettyjohn say they admire Wallace and agree with him on major issues, they are critical of his former control of the party.

"Wallace didn't want local candidates running — it was a one-man movement," Anderson said. "In good conscience, perhaps he thought he was made to do the job. Perhaps he thought more of himself than the party."

Tennessee state Sen. W.J. Davis was an American party member who ran as an independent in 1974 because of lack of support for the party's candidates.

"Since Gov. Wallace went back to the Democratic party last time, the American party has sort of died down. I really don't know how many they've got now," Davis said.

Without Wallace to attract publicity and broaden support, the party has suffered in membership, and officials admit it.

At the South Carolina convention recently, fewer than 100 party members attended.

In Georgia and Alabama, party officials say their organizations slipped badly after Wallace left. In Alabama, he apparently was the party; it dissolved after he rejoined the Democrats.

Georgia party officials say their organization is growing stronger — up to about 400 members.

Pettyjohn said the party is "based on Christian principles" and is "a rallying place for conservatives." The state party approved a platform that called for an end to federal activities in "education and forced school busing," and an end to welfare and aid to Communist countries.

When the party selects its presidential candidate at the national convention June 17 in Salt Lake City, the candidate will be someone who believes in the principles of the party and who pledges to uphold them, Anderson says.

"Frankly, I doubt whether Wallace would buy that," Anderson said.

Russian Comedy (Filmed In NYC) Coming To Television This August

JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Next fall's situation comedies will depict sitcom life in at least eight American cities, including some burg called New York. Diverse locales, but all the shows have one thing in common.

They're being made in Los Angeles.

But Rupert Hitzig, a producer by trade, is trying something weird. He's taping a five-episode summer sitcom right here in Fun City. And the series is about a family in Russia, a historic steppe for television.

It's called "Ivan the Terrible," starts Saturday, Aug. 21 on CBS and stars Lou Jacobi as Ivan, head of a nine-member clan that somehow lives in a 3½-room apartment in beautiful downtown Moscow. Why Moscow?

"Well, the premise is that people are alike everywhere," says Hitzig, 36. "Governments may change but the same things affect people everywhere — inflation, crowded subways, the cost of food and so on."

"We felt that with a family in Moscow we could deal with American story lines that are familiar, yet get a double-edged effect out of them by putting them in a society we've sort of considered an adversary."

He said the series will be played "strictly for its comic value," not as a commentary on the different political systems of the United States and Russia. Hitzig, who is producing the series for a company he and comedian Alan King own here, was asked if any gentlemen with foreign accents — like Russian — had been over to say a few words at him about the show.

"Well, I showed the pilot of the show to a Russian defector, a young student who'd only been out of Moscow for 2½ months," he said. He said the kid, who spoke perfect English, was sent by a friend.

The student saw an episode called "Red Tape," which deals with the difficulties of finding an apartment vacancy in Moscow.

"He was very rigid when he came in to see it and I didn't think I was going to show it to him," Hitzig said. "But I did. And he left with the biggest smile on his face I've ever seen. 'He said, 'That's just the way it is.'"

Hitzig was asked if anyone from the Russian consulate here had asked to see "Ivan the Terrible" or if he'd offered to set up a special screening for those in charge there. He said nyet on both counts. "But we wouldn't mind doing it," he added. "I think they'd be amused."

Two Must Repay Welfare Funds

As a part of their Berrien Fifth District court sentences for welfare fraud, two women Monday were ordered to make restitution of the money they illegally received.

Pleading guilty and sentenced for welfare fraud under $500 were Edna I. Krajewski, 26, of 604 West John Beers road, Stevensville, and Lillie V. Campbell, 42, of Hurd avenue, Benton Township.

Edna Krajewski was sentenced to fine and costs of $105, two years probation and restitution of $811.50 which she unlawfully received between April and August of 1973. At the time she had two children on ADC, according to the Michigan office of the Inspector General. A charge involving fraud over $500 was dismissed.

Lillie Campbell was sentenced to fine and costs of $75 and restitution of $111. During the month of May, 1975, she failed to report extra income, resulting in an ADC overpayment, according to Inspector General Investigator Annie Spann.

They were sentenced by District Judge Ronald J. Taylor.

Three Delinquent Dads Face Judge

One delinquent father avoided jail by paying his child support arrearage Monday in Berrien Circuit court but another father with $3,750 arrears was sentenced to 30 days in jail.

Special Investigator Edward Patrick of the Berrien friend of the court's office reported: Melvin E. Downs, of New Buffalo, paid his entire arrearage of $309 for one child not on ADC to avoid a 10-day jail sentence with which Judge Chester J. Byrns threatened him. Downs was held in contempt of court for the arrearage and placed on two years probation. He was also ordered to find work in 40 days or spend 30 days in jail.

Michael Walter, of Galien, got 30 days in jail from Byrns for $3,750 arrears for one ADC child, and was placed on two years probation after being held in contempt. The judge also told Walter to find work within 30 days of his release from jail or spend another 60 days in jail. Patrick noted Walter has made 21 weekly support payments since the order was entered in September, 1972.

Phillip Hoelecher, of Niles, was held in contempt and placed on two years probation for $2,090 arrears for one child not on ADC, and ordered to sign a wage assignment of $26 weekly support plus $4 weekly towards the arrearage. He was also warned that if he misses four payments he'll spend a year in jail.

Patrick said Hoelecher has made five support payments since December, 1973.

Galien Council Hikes Property Tax .5 Mill

GALIEN — The Galien village council last night raised the village property tax rate a half-mill to 4½ mills to cover increased operating costs.

According to Johanna Backus, village assessor, last year's four mills raised $8,056 and this year's 4½ mills would bring in approximately $9,432. The village budget last year was approximately $70,000.

In other areas, Clerk Sandra Ostrander, was directed by the council to purchase three file cabinets, 25 folding chairs and eight regular chairs for the village hall. Total cost is not to exceed $1,050.

The council also voted to use $1,455 in federal revenue sharing funds for village hall improvements.

The council also passed a resolution giving Berrien county the authority to take care of bonding for the Galien sanitary sewer project.

Van Buren Judge Sends 4 To Jail

PAW PAW — Four men received jail terms yesterday from Judge Meyer Warshawsky in Van Buren circuit court.

Sentenced as a result of earlier guilty pleas were: Rogerio S. Machado, 25, 301 South Haver, Hartford, four months in jail on a charge of attempting to conceal stolen property, a citizens' band radio Pch. 11 in Hartford.

Danny Mann, 18, M-40, Lawton, 60 days in jail, fine of $200, and two years probation on a charge of entering without breaking a tool shed in Lawton last Aug. 28.

Roger Duane Smith, 21, Otsego, 30 days in jail on a charge of probation violation. He had been placed on two years probation in August, 1974 on a charge of larceny from an auto.

Edgar John Pullen, 21, Paw Paw, three months in jail on a charge of malicious destruction of property, a pickup truck belonging to Van Buren Sheriff Richard E. Stump, on Oct. 19, 1974.

In arraignments, Alvin Junior Greer, 18, 313 Spencer, South Haven, pleaded guilty to a charge of attempting to break and enter the Blueberry Equipment company, 1375 Kalamazoo street, Smith Haven, on April 23.

William Hennefert, 25, rural Dowagiac, pleaded innocent to a charge of breaking and entering the Luke Lodge, Keeler township, on April 14.

Carl E. Cooper, 23, Hartford, pleaded innocent to a charge of first-degree criminal sexual conduct (formerly rape) in connection with a complaint by a 15-year-old Deatur girl that she was assaulted in April.

Rodney Butler, 22, Kalamazoo, pleaded innocent to two counts of assault with intent to do great bodily harm and two counts of malicious destruction of property. The charges stem from complaints by two motorists that objects were thrown at their cars from the CR-653 overpass while they were traveling on I-94 last Dec. 28.

Tommy Love, 17, route 1, South Haven, pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny in a building growing out of the theft of a pistol from a Covert home Feb. 9.

Murder Suspect Is Denied 2nd Hearing

By DENNIS COGSWELL, Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — Judge Meyer Warshawsky of Van Buren circuit court yesterday denied a bid by a man accused of killing a South Haven city councilman's wife to obtain a new preliminary examination.

In doing so, Judge Warshawsky ruled that Judge Donald M. Goodwillie, Jr. of South Haven acted properly in both issuing a warrant for the man's arrest, then acting as magistrate in the man's preliminary examination.

The motion was introduced by Atty. Andrew Burch of Coloma on behalf of Edwin Lamar Langston, 21, South Haven, who is charged with first-degree murder in the shooting death last Dec. 1 of Mrs. Arretta Lou Ingham, wife of Councilman Wilbur Ingham.

Mrs. Ingham was slain during a holdup at a neighborhood grocery store owned by the couple. Ronnie L. Wilson, 27, Gary, Ind., who is also charged with first-degree murder in connection with the shooting, is scheduled to go on trial in circuit court May 25.

In asking for the new hearing, Burch argued that the prosecution failed to establish during the preliminary examination that there was probable cause to bind Langston to circuit court for trial, adding that testimony only established that he knew of the shooting but not that he was necessarily involved.

Burch also said that state law prohibited Judge Goodwillie from issuing a warrant for Langston's arrest the night of the shooting, then later presiding over the preliminary examination.

To do so, Burch stated, was a violation of Langston's right to due process because Goodwillie was acting as both an investigator and accuser in issuing the warrant, and could not be impartial in then hearing the preliminary examination.

Burch said Judge Goodwillie had questioned a witness, Mrs. Alta Mady, at the state police post in South Haven prior to issuing the warrant for Langston's arrest.

Prosecutor Frank D. Willis argued that Langston was identified by a witness during the preliminary examination as having been at the scene, and that Burch had misinterpreted the state law.

"The law provides that the magistrate that issues the warrant shall also preside over the preliminary examination," the prosecutor stated.

Judge Warshawsky said he had reviewed the 227-page transcript of the hearing and found there was reason to bind Langston over to circuit court.

The judge also said he believed Judge Goodwillie was correct in not disqualifying himself from the preliminary examination, and that thoroughly questioning Mrs. Mady was necessary in order to make sure there were grounds for the arrest warrant.

Hartford Fighters Sentenced

PAW PAW — Three men were sentenced Monday in Van Buren Seventh district court on charges growing out of an April 19 disturbance outside the Southern Inn in Hartford.

Artie Joe Roy, 31, 6443 Thelma, Paw Paw, was sentenced by Judge William C. Buhl to serve 15 days in jail, fined $150, and placed on two years probation on a charge of attempting to resist arrest. He had been charged with resisting arrest after police broke up a fight outside the restaurant.

Donald C. Rhinehart, 27, 77th avenue, and Allen D. Williams, 21, 410 North Center, Hartford, were both fined $30 on charges of being disorderly. Rhinehart was also placed on six to 12 months probation, and Williams on three to six months probation.

Both had originally been charged with resisting arrest.

In another case, Steve Geresy, 48, Kalamazoo, was sentenced to serve three days in jail, fined $80, and placed on probation for one to two years on a reduced charge of assault.

He had originally been charged with felonious assault following a complaint by James Kerr, Maltawm, that a man had tried to run him down with a car outside a wedding reception last Sept. 13.

ALL ABOUT FOODS

FIGS

No doubt we all associate certain foods with particular countries. The British have their mutton, the Mexicans their tacos, and the Italians their antipastos. And Germany just wouldn't be Germany without Wiener Schnitzel.

But it is doubtful if any food ever became a national craze the way figs did back in ancient Greece.

Whatever the occasion, the Greeks had a fig for it. Rich and poor alike feasted on them. Figs were the main food of Greek athletes, whose patron... Hercules... was said to have fed on them in his youth. In fact, they were even fed to Greek slaves.

In Athens, laws were passed prohibiting the export of figs. Several fig trees were planted in the public square. And the public square was immediately declared sacred ground!

The Greeks even devised their own way of packaging the fruit. Instead of putting them in cans or boxes, the Greeks strung figs like beads, about a pound and a half per string. If you ever travel to that beautiful country, you may still find these Greek "string figs" in the marketplace.

Today, of course, you will find them fresh, canned, preserved, stewed, dried, or as a tasty paste inside fig bars. And you'll find that SCHNECK'S is the best place to do all your food shopping, any way you fig-ure it!

Nebraska, West Virginia Going To Ballot Box Today

By Associated Press
Jimmy Carter, far ahead in the race for the Democratic presidential nomination, took on a new foe in Nebraska's primary election today while President Ford tried to throttle Ronald Reagan's challenge in Republican voting there and in West Virginia.

Democrats were voting, too, in West Virginia, where the field was limited to two candidates, and in Connecticut, where the election was just the first step in picking the state's national convention delegation. Ford, loser of four primaries in a row, squared off with Reagan in statewide popularity contests with no effect on the delegate count. But 25 Republican delegates were at stake in Nebraska in separate contests in congressional districts, and West Virginians chose 28 delegates uncommitted by state law.

Reagan went into today's primaries with 398 delegates to Ford's 300, with 1,130 needed for the nomination and 1,207 yet to be chosen. The major Democratic contest was in Nebraska, where Sen. Frank Church of Idaho made his primary debut. There were 11 candidates on the Democratic ballot and 23 delegates at stake, but only Church and Carter campaigned there.

Sen. Robert Byrd, running as a favorite son, was considered the favorite in West Virginia's Democratic primary although, by law, the state's 33 delegates are uncommitted. The only other candidate on the ballot was Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, whose campaign in the state was hampered by a lack of money.

In Connecticut, Democrats voted in a party-run primary to choose delegates to June 12 congressional district conventions that will in turn pick the state's 51 delegates to the national convention.

Carter, Rep. Morris K. Udall of Arizona and Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington were the main contenders there, though Jackson announced over a week ago an end to his active campaign.

Carter led the Democrats before this week's voting with 568 delegates to 199 for Jackson, 187.5 for Udall and 138 for Wallace. Another 1,433 are to be chosen, with 1,505 needed for the nomination.

Glenn Man Bids For Allegan Seat

GLENN — Republican Samuel D. Hoffman of Glenn has announced his candidacy for election to the Allegan county board of commissioners from the second district.

The seat is now held by the board's chairman, Republican Jerry Lohman of rural Hamilton who is not seeking re-election.

The district includes Fennville city and Ganges, Manlius and Clyde townships.

Hoffman is a math and science teacher in the Fennville school system, and has a master's degree in education from Old Dominion university in Norfolk, Va.

He is a 1945 graduate of Allegan high school and graduated from the U.S. Naval academy in 1950.

Detroit Chief Urges Tighter Bail Rules

ROMULUS, Mich. (AP) — Detroit Police Chief Philip Tannan has called for a look at tightening bail standards for repeat offenders charged with violent crimes.

In a speech Monday before a two-day criminal justice symposium, Tannan also criticized the wide degree of discretion allowed judges during sentences.

"Bail is regarded as such a total and absolute right that people take it for granted — and we have numerous individuals charged with first-degree murder not walking the streets of this county," Tannan said.

Calling the state's absolute right to bail except in cases of murder or treason "the most liberal bail provisions we can find in any state," Tannan urged a public debate on "tightening up" of bail rights. The tightening up, he said, would be for "15 per cent of individuals arrested who are responsible for two-thirds of the state's violent felonies."

Wayne County Prosecutor William Cahalan agreed with Tannan's criticism of sentencing.

AMERICAN PARTY DECLINES It's Hard Without Wallace

BOONVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Arlis Pettyjohn, known in his hometown of Boonville as a good old boy, became chairman of the American party in North Carolina in 1971.

Since then, Pettyjohn, 38, has run for governor and lost miserably, and he has seen his party erode to the point that party faithful had to canvass shopping center parking lots to get 10,000 signatures just to get back on the state ballot.

A survey by The Associated Press shows the problems of the American party in North Carolina are mirrored and, in some cases, magnified throughout the party's former stronghold: the Southeastern states. In Georgia, for example, the party claims only about 400 members. And in Alabama, home of the party's 1968 presidential candidate, Gov. George Wallace, there is no active party organization.

The troubles of the party have had their effect on loyalists such as Pettyjohn. His involvement in the party put a touch of the politician in his soul, and losses by the party added a dash of the philosopher.

"We feel principles are more important than being with a winner," he says.

He assessed the national party's fall from 10 million votes in the 1968 presidential election to one million in 1972 as "one of the different phases" the party has gone through.

"It doesn't mean we're losing ground. Many people voted for Nixon in '72 because they were afraid of McGovern. They didn't vote their consciences," he said.

The party's national chairman, Tom Anderson of Gallatin, Tenn., offers a more forthright explanation of the party's struggles since 1968:

"We lost ballot positions in many states in '72 because, frankly, it's somewhat difficult to get people without a big-name candidate. But we got more than any other so-called third party."

Anderson, 65, a retired editor of farm magazines, was the party's vice presidential candidate in 1972. He ran on a ticket with former Republican congressman John G. Schmitz of California.

In the absence of George Wallace in 1972, the party floundered badly. While party leaders such as Anderson and Pettyjohn say they admire Wallace and agree with him on major issues, they are critical of his former control of the party.

"Wallace didn't want local candidates running — it was a one-man movement," Anderson said. "In good conscience, perhaps he thought he was made to do the job. Perhaps he thought more of himself than the party."

Tennessee state Sen. W.J. Davis was an American party member who ran as an independent in 1974 because of lack of support for the party's candidates.

"Since Gov. Wallace went back to the Democratic party last time, the American party has sort of died down. I really don't know how many they've got now," Davis said.

Without Wallace to attract publicity and broaden support, the party has suffered in membership, and officials admit it.

At the South Carolina convention recently, fewer than 100 party members attended.

In Georgia and Alabama, party officials say their organizations slipped badly after Wallace left. In Alabama, he apparently was the party's dissolved after he rejoined the Democrats.

Georgia party officials say their organization is growing stronger — up to about 400 members.

Pettyjohn said the party is "based on Christian principles" and is "a rallying place for conservatives." The state party approved a platform that called for an end to federal activities in "education and forced school busing," and an end to welfare and aid to Communist countries.

When the party selects its presidential candidate at the national convention June 17 in Salt Lake City, the candidate will be someone who believes in the principles of the party and who pledges to uphold them, Anderson says.

"Frankly, I doubt whether Wallace would buy that," Anderson said.

Russian Comedy (Filmed In NYC) Coming To Television This August

JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Next fall's situation comedies will depict sitcom life in at least eight American cities, including some burg called New York. Diverse locales, but all the shows have one thing in common.

They're being made in Los Angeles.

But Rupert Hitzig, a producer by trade, is trying something weird. He's taping a five-episode summer sitcom right here in Fun City. And the series is about a family in Russia, a historic steppe for television.

It's called "Ivan the Terrible," starts Saturday, Aug. 21 on CBS and stars Lou Jacobi as Ivan, head of a nine-member clan that somehow lives in a 3 1/2-room apartment in beautiful downtown Moscow. Why Moscow?

"Well, the premise is that people are alike everywhere," says Hitzig, 36. "Governments may change but the same things affect people everywhere — inflation, crowded subways, the cost of food and so on."

"We felt that with a family in Moscow we could deal with American story lines that are familiar, yet get a double-edged effect out of them by putting them in a society we've sort of con-

Relying On Hot Air

TROY, Mich. (AP) — A Michigan newlywed says he hopes to become the first person in history to cross the Atlantic successfully in a hot-air balloon. The would-be balloonist — Karl Thomas, 28, Troy — says he and a professional pilot plan to take off from the East Coast in late July or early August. Thomas said the trans-Atlantic crossing to either Europe or Africa will be attempted in a balloon christened "The Spirit of '76." Thomas, who currently is honeymooning in Spain, is expected to announce further details of the attempted crossing at a news conference later this month.

FORECASTER DIES

WASHINGTON (AP) — Louis Allen, one of Washington's best known television weather forecaster-recorders, has died at 63. Allen died Sunday afternoon after a heart attack at his home.

Hits Costly Decision

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A prosecutor's refusal to wait two more months to take William and Emily Harris to trial with Patricia Hearst is "a $100,000 decision" that doesn't make any sense, Mrs. Harris' lawyer says.

The decision is two trials instead of one, and that will cost at least an extra $100,000, Leonard Weinglass said Monday after Deputy Dist. Atty. Sam Mayerson said the federal Bureau of Prisons has refused to release Miss Hearst for trial with the Harrises beginning June 1.

The 22-year-old newspaper heiress was convicted in federal court March 20 of bank robbery. She is undergoing diagnostic tests at the federal Metropolitan Correctional Center in San Diego, where she is to remain until July 25.

ALL ABOUT FOODS

FIGS

No doubt we all associate certain foods with particular countries. The British have their mutton, the Mexicans their tacos, and the Italians their antipasto. And Germany just wouldn't be Germany without Wiener Schnitzel.

But it is doubtful if any food ever became as national a craze the way figs did back in ancient Greece.

Whatever the occasion, the Greeks had a fig for it. Rich and poor alike feasted on them; figs were the main food of Greek athletes, whose patron... Hercules... was said to have fed on them in his youth. In fact, they were even fed to Greek slaves.

In Athens, laws were passed prohibiting the export of figs. Several fig trees were planted in the public square. And the public square was immediately declared sacred ground!

The Greeks even devised their own way of packaging the fruit. Instead of putting them in cans or boxes, the Greeks strung figs like beads, about a pound and a half per string. If you ever travel to that beautiful country, you may still find these Greek "string figs" in the marketplace.

Today, of course, you will find them fresh, canned, preserved, stewed, dried, or as a tasty paste inside fig bars. And you'll find that SCHNECK'S is the best place to do all your food shopping, any way you figure it!

Market Reflects Optimism

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks gained more than 2 points in the early going, and gained led losers by close to a 3-1 margin among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Brokers said the rally in stock prices that began late last week was drawing support from recent forecasts, both in Washington and among private businessmen, that the economy would continue improving through the next year.

Today's early prices included U.S. Steel, up 1/4 at 85 1/2; Exxon, ahead 7/8 at 99; NCR, up 1/4 at 29 1/2; and Vetco Offshore Industries, 5/8 higher at 22 1/2.

On Monday the Dow Jones industrial average jumped 11.26 to 1,007.48, just shy of its closing high for the year of 1,011.02 reached April 21.

Gainers outpaced losers by a 5-2 margin among NYSE-listed issues, and the exchange's composite index rose .64 to 54.90.

Big Board volume reached a 2 1/2-week high of 22.76 million shares.

Dam Taxing Question

NEWAYGO, Mich. (AP) — How much is the massive Hardy Dam in Newaygo County worth for tax purposes? The Michigan Tax Tribunal resumes hearings on that question in Lansing next Monday. But the answer may not stop with Hardy Dam. In copyrighted stories, the Muskegon Chronicle reported the answer could cut Michigan's property tax base by billions of dollars. If Consumers Power Co. wins its case on Hardy Dam, the result could cut property taxes for each of the state's 87 public utilities, the newspaper said. Since 1973, Consumers has paid property taxes for Hardy Dam under protest. The utility contends the dam should be assessed for taxes at the amount it cost to complete, minus depreciation. Consumers argues using that income method makes the dam worth $1.6 million. Newaygo County officials are trying to double the $5.6 million assessment, claiming that is the present market value of the dam and its 5,500-acre site. Current rates are too high, Consumers contends, because it cannot sell the property for commercial development, and its income from the dam is based upon its original cost.

$8 Million Suit Dropped

DETROIT (AP) — Attorney William E. Bufalino Sr., former counsel and confidante of missing Teamsters boss James R. Hoffa, has withdrawn an $8 million libel suit he filed against Hoffa's son, James P. Hoffa. Bufalino had charged in his Wayne County Circuit Court action that the younger Hoffa, a lawyer, "berated, libeled and slandered" Bufalino.

They Say It's Moot

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan was one of 41 states cited Monday for violating federal Title IX regulations against sex discrimination. But state education officials say the complaint is moot. They say they told some 2,500 employees of the state Department of Education last week that a Title IX coordinator had been appointed and where the coordinator could be reached. A complaint filed with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare Monday by the National Organization for Women (NOW) charged the Michigan department with failure to notify its employees where they could reach the coordinator by last October's deadline. A spokeswoman for the NOW branch that filed the complaint acknowledged it was a technicality in Michigan's case, and would most likely be dropped if officials showed they were in compliance.

Berrien 4-H Agent Moving Up

Mike Tate, a Berrien 4-H agent for the past four years, will move up to the state 4-H office on the Michigan State university campus, East Lansing, on June 1.

The announcement came from Clare Musgrove, Berrien Extension director.

As a state 4-H program leader, Tate will join a team of three other leaders working with Dr. Norman A. Brown, director of the Michigan 4-H program.

Tate, a 26-year-old Detroit native, came here after graduating from MSU in 1972. He lives in Benton township with his wife, Winifred, and daughter, Alicia.

Among other things, Tate will be in charge of planning Salute 76, Michigan 4-H's bicentennial celebration that will be one of the largest in the state this summer.

It isn't known when Tate's replacement will be named, said Berrien's other 4-H agent, Larry Cushman.

Bell To Cut Spending By $125 Million

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan Bell Telephone Co. says it has cut its capital expenditures spending program by $125 million and laid off 400 workers as first steps in a belt-tightening program.

The company said the cutbacks are necessary since the state Public Service Commission (PSC) granted it a $52.2 million rate increase last week, considerably below the $88 million the firm had asked.

A Michigan Bell spokesman confirmed the firm is already deep in the paperwork necessary for filing an application for another rate hike.

Pic Wagner, Michigan Bell's press relations manager, said the firm's financial situation is "serious," despite commission agreement to let the firm boost its charge for pay telephones from 10 cents to 20 cents.

Wagner said 400 of the firm's 29,600 workers will be affected by the first wave of layoffs, most of them temporary or part-time employees.

He said about 7,300 management employees will get only about half of what they had anticipated in salary boosts this year.

Asked if Michigan Bell would ask its unionized employees, most of whom are due automatic increases under union contracts this year, to make similar sacrifices, Wagner said, "We are looking into that possibility."

The company conceded that installations for new service probably will be slower, with none but emergency calls being handled on nights or Sundays.

He said, "We are a public service company and just cannot shut down certain operations, because revenues are down."

He said cutbacks in capital expenditures for 1976 and 1977 will total $175 million, with $400 million being spent each year.

Marriages Down;

Divorces Are Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fewer people are getting married and more are getting divorced, according to the latest government reports, but some experts say declining marriage figures don't mean a rejection of traditional values.

A new study by the Center for Health Statistics shows the number of marriages performed in the United States declined about 7 per cent from 1973 to 1975.

Telly Wins As

King Of Greeks

NEW YORK (AP) — Telly Savalas, who as the television detective "Kojak" acts tough but likes lollipops, has won out over a New York taxi driver in the competition for leader of Sunday's Greek Independence Day Parade.

A state Supreme Court justice in Queens threw out a suit Monday filed by cabbie Nick Tournas who claimed he was elected last winter to be the parade's grand marshal.

POLICE ROUNDUP

Driver Of Disabled Truck Tells Stickup

Two bandits robbed a Benton township man at gunpoint early today after they apparently disabled the man's pickup truck, Benton Harbor police said.

Norman Elsner, 53, of 650 South Crystal avenue, was unhurt in the incident that occurred in the 1000 block of Milton street shortly before 1 a.m.

He told police he was having difficulty starting his truck when the two pointed a small handgun at him and ordered him from the truck. He said they dragged him into a vacant field, pushed him face down on the ground and took $33 from his wallet.

Police said he was discovered that three spark plug wires had been removed from the distributor, making the truck incapable of being started.

Broken windows, apparently the result of rock-throwers, were reported at two schools.

State police of the Benton Harbor post said three windows were reported broken at Eaman elementary school, Maple lane, Hagar township. Also damaged was a large outdoor thermometer. The school is in the Coloma district.

Benton Harbor police reported three windows were broken at Lake Michigan Catholic school, 589 Pearl street.

Harold Bailey told police holes were punched in the canvas cover of his boat. Damage was estimated at $126. Sidney Cook said all four tires on his car were slashed and damage

Woman To Get Murder Hearing

Demanding examination was Diane Theresa Torrence, 26, of 132 North Crystal. She is charged with murder in connection with the Sunday stabbing death of James A. Roseburgh, 41, of the same address. A May 20 preliminary examination was scheduled for the woman.

Tossed Rock Injures South Haven Woman

A South Haven woman suffered apparently minor injuries in a rock-throwing incident Monday in Benton township. Sandra Young of Covert told state troopers of the Benton Harbor post her car was struck by a rock as she drove on East Main street near Crystal avenue shortly before 10 p.m. The rock hit the windshield and a passenger, LaDonna Golden, of route 3, Box 133B, South Haven, was released from Watervliet Community hospital after glass fragments were removed from her arm.

NEWS OF MARKETS

Market Reflects Optimism

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks gained more than 2 points in the early going, and gainers led losers by close to a 3-1 margin among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Brokers said the rally in stock prices that began late last week was drawing support from recent forecasts, both in Washington and among private businessmen, that the economy would continue improving through the next year.

Today's early prices included U.S. Steel, up 1/4 at 85 1/2; Exxon, ahead 3/4 at 86; NCR, up 1/4 at 29 1/2, and Veeva Offshore Industries, 5/8 higher at 22 1/2.

On Monday the Dow Jones industrial average jumped 11.26 to 1,007.48, just shy of its closing high for the year of 1,011.02 reached April 21.

Gainers outpaced losers by a 5-2 margin among NYSE-listed issues, and the exchange's composite index rose .84 to 54.90.

Big Board volume reached a 2 1/2-week high of 22.76 million shares.

South Haven Hospital

SOUTH HAVEN — Patients admitted to South Haven Community hospital yesterday included Mrs. Eva Burnette, Mrs. Richard Modigliani, Bangor; Mrs. Donald Burrows, Matthew Koenig, Curtis Purker, Mrs. Lorene Thompson, Mrs. Elva Tripp, Mrs. Emil Westling, South Haven; Christopher Ferguson, Grand Junction; Mrs. Frances Nemcek, Allegan.

MEA Honor Consumers Power Co.

SAGINAW — Consumers Power company of Jackson received an award for outstanding contributions to education during the Michigan Education association's recent assembly here.

The power company was honored for its series of films, multi-media kits and other supplementary educational resource material made available to teachers, the MEA said.

Dam Taxing Question

NEWAYGO, Mich. (AP) — How much is the massive Hardy Dam in Newaygo County worth for tax purposes? The Michigan Tax Tribunal resumes hearings on that question in Lansing next Monday. But the answer may not stop with Hardy Dam. In copyrighted stories, the Muskegon Chronicle reported the answer could cut Michigan's property tax base by billions of dollars. If Consumers Power Co. wins its case on Hardy Dam, the result could cut property taxes for each of the state's 87 public utilities, the newspaper said. Since 1973, Consumers has paid property taxes for Hardy Dam under protest. The utility contends the dam should be assessed for taxes at the amount it cost to complete, minus depreciation. Consumers argues using that income method makes the dam worth $1.6 million. Newaygo County officials are trying to double the $5.6 million assessment, claiming that is the present market value of the dam and its 5,500-acre site. Current rates are too high, Consumers contends, because it cannot sell the property for commercial development, and its income from the dam is based upon its original cost.

$8 Million Suit Dropped

DETROIT (AP) — Attorney William E. Bufalino Sr., former counsel and confidante of missing Teamsters boss James R. Hoffa, has withdrawn an $8 million libel suit he filed against Hoffa's son, James P. Hoffa. Bufalino had charged in his Wayne County Circuit Court action that the younger Hoffa, a lawyer, "berated, libeled and slandered" Bufalino.

They Say It's Moot

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan was one of 41 states cited Monday for violating federal Title IX regulations against sex discrimination. But state education officials say the complaint is moot. They say they told some 2,500 employees of the state Department of Education last week that a Title IX coordinator had been appointed and where the coordinator could be reached. A complaint filed with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare Monday by the National Organization for Women (NOW) charged the Michigan department with failure to notify its employees where they could reach the coordinator by last October's deadline. A spokeswoman for the NOW branch that filed the complaint acknowledged it was a technicality in Michigan's case, and would most likely be dropped if officials showed they were in compliance.

Thief Gets Prison Term; Five Placed On Probation

One man was sentenced to prison Monday in Berrien Circuit court while two others were ordered to begin their probationary periods with some jail time.

Sentenced to 6 to 10 years in prison by Judge Chester J. Byrns was Monroe L. Tyus, 21, of 1800 Highland avenue, Benton township. He was sentenced for larceny from a person — the theft of $70 and a watch Feb. 5 from Andrew Brown in Benton Harbor.

Judge Julian E. Hughes ordered Matthew T. Bradley, 22, of 400 West Greenlawn, Galien, to spend the first 60 days of a two-year probation in jail, and assessed $200 fine and costs, for attempted third degree criminal sexual conduct (formerly attempted statutory rape) with a 14-year-old girl Aug. 7 in Galien.

Judge Byrns sentenced Richard Jackson, Jr., 17, of 430 Foster, Benton Harbor, to three years probation, with the first four months in jail, and assessed $250 fine and costs for attempted breaking and entering Feb. 6 at the residence of Johnny Clay, 1041 Puvone street, Benton Harbor.

In other sentences, by Byrns: Ralph H. Miles, 26, of South Bend, was placed on two years probation and ordered to pay $250 fine and costs for attempted larceny in a building — the attempted theft of liquor March 19 from the Brooklyn tavern in Benton Harbor.

In other sentences, by Hughes: Leonard G. Smith, 28, of 356 Pipestone street, Benton Harbor, was sentenced to three years probation and assessed $250 fine and costs for attempted larceny in a building — the attempted theft of liquor March 19 from the Brooklyn tavern in Benton Harbor.

In other sentences, by Hughes: Terry Palms, 20, of Mary's apartments, Benton Harbor, was placed on two years probation and ordered to pay $200 fine and costs for attempted larceny in a building — the attempted theft of a calculator Oct. 27 from Miller radio shop in Coloma township.

In arraignments before Hughes: Oks Wukes, 24, of South Bend, pleaded guilty to manslaughter stemming from the shooting death of Sylvester Dixon, Jr., April 17 at 322 Elizabeth street, Buchanan.

Donald R. Saffell, 28, of 1314 Bishop street, Benton Harbor, pleaded guilty to attempted breaking and entering the trailer of Janice Gunn in the Ravines Trailer park in Benton township on March 9.

Lillian Brown, 45, of 1833 Crystal court, Benton township, and Thelma J. Lanier, 29, of 238 Ross, Benton Harbor, both pleaded guilty to attempting to carry a concealed weapon — revolvers — April 19 in Benton Harbor.

Salvador A. Villarreal, 24, of Brownsville, Texas, pleaded guilty to delivery of heroin Feb. 20 in Niles.

Woman To Get Murder Hearing

A Benton township woman was ordered held without bond after her arraignment yesterday in Berrien Fifth District court on a murder charge.

Demanding examination was Diane Theresa Torrence, 28, of 132 North Crystal. She is charged with murder in connection with the Sunday stabbing death of James A. Roseburgh, 41, of the same address. A May 20 preliminary examination was scheduled for the woman.

Tossed Rock Injures South Haven Woman

A South Haven woman suffered apparently minor injuries in a rock-throwing incident Monday in Benton township. Sandra Young of Covert told state troopers of the Benton Harbor post her car was struck by a rock as she drove on East Main street near Crystal avenue shortly before 10 p.m. The rock hit the windshield and a passenger, LaDonna Gilden, of route 3, Box 1333, South Haven, was released from Watervliet Community hospital after glass fragments were removed from her arm.

POLICE ROUNDUP

Driver Of Disabled Truck Tells Stickup

Two bandits robbed a Benton township man at gunpoint early today after they apparently disabled the man's pickup truck, Benton Harbor police said.

Nirman Elsner, 53, of 650 South Crystal avenue, was unharmed in the incident that occurred in the 1000 block of Mill street shortly before 1 a.m.

He told police he was having difficulty starting his truck when the two-pointed a small handgun at him and ordered him from the truck. He said they dragged him into a vacant field, pushed him face down on the ground and took $33 from his wallet.

Police said it was discovered that three spark plug wires had been removed from the distributor, making the truck incapable of being started.

Broken windows, apparently the result of rock-throwers, were reported at two schools. State police of the Benton Harbor post said three windows were reported broken at Eaman elementary school, Maple lane, Hagar township. Also damaged was a large outdoor thermometer. The school is in the Coloma district.

Benton Harbor police reported three windows were broken at Lake Michigan Catholic school, 588 Pearl street.

Benton township police investigated damage to a car and a boat cover, both of which occurred at the House of David travel trailer court, East Britain avenue.

More Traffic On Big Mac

ST. IGNACE, Mich. (AP) — Traffic and revenue for the Mackinac Bridge last month were the highest ever for any April since the span was opened more than 18 years ago. April traffic crossings were up 37.6 per cent from 96,217 vehicles in April 1975. In 1976, last month, said Gerald Fisher III, Mackinac Bridge Authority chairman, April traffic was up 39.3 per cent. Fare revenues were up 32.3 per cent from $183,637 to $243,328, Fisher said. Since the beginning of the year, only March traffic and revenues were off from the previous year.
